Government Of Premier Laniel Is Voted Out

Confidence Vote In Assembly Goes Against Leader

PARIS, June 12 (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel, who had skinned through two confidence votes in the last five weeks, finally lost out today.

The National Assembly, torn by conflicts over the Indochina war and the proposed European Defense Community, rejected him and his government 306-293.

The 64-year-old Premier, a wealthy Independent Republican who has guided France for 50 weeks, promptly submitted the resignation of his seven-party coalition Cabinet. President Rene Coty, who won out over Laniel in a race for the presidency last December, refused to accept the resignation until a new premier can be found.

The vote created further confusion in the conference in Geneva trying to end the fighting in Indochina. The French government can make no decisions at all, since it is half-in, half-out.

In a day of quick-shifting political developments in a city already bored with the Assembly's instability, these were the highlights:

1. The Assembly defeated Laniel on his demand for deferring consideration of Communist and Socialist resolutions critical of his government. Since the votes against him fell seven short of 313, a majority of the total number of deputies, Laniel was not constitutionally obliged to resign. In practice, however, premiers step aside when put in a minority on an important issue.

2. Laniel and his Cabinet met at the Elysee Palace, France's White House. They offered their resignation as a group. Coty did not immediately accept. A new Cabinet meeting will be held Monday and the Laniel government will remain in office at least over the weekend.

3. A source close to Coty said the resignations probably will be accepted, but that the president is anxious to avoid giving the outside world the appearance France is drifting without a government. The president immediately started calling in political leaders to talk about the chances for a new man to get an Assembly majority.

Meantime, Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault said he planned to be back in Geneva Monday to continue work at the Asian conference. Since the Assembly has refused to endorse the Laniel government's policies and has suggested no other, Bidault smilingly remarked he will follow his "personal policy."

Knowland Urges That West Quit Geneva Parley

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) called today for an end to the Geneva conference and invited the Associated States of Indochina to declare their independence if France sets up a "peace at any price" government.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader and a member of its Foreign Relations Committee, declared in an interview that Geneva negotiations "have gone on long enough to demonstrate clearly that neither the Soviet Union nor Communist China is prepared to negotiate anything but the abject surrender of the French in Indochina."

With Premier Joseph Laniel having offered his resignation after losing a vote of confidence in the French Assembly, Knowland said he fears a "surrender" government" may be formed.

"It is my very strong belief," he said, "that Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos are not going to sit complacently by and exchange a position of not being completely independent in the French Union for one of complete domination by the Communists.

"The Associated States may issue a declaration of independence, just as we did in 1776, and appeal to the United Nations and the free nations of the world for help if the French are prepared to agree to a settlement which would destroy Indochina's hope of independence and sovereignty.

"I don't believe they are going to sit back and have their freedom bartered away by a French government that may be established on a 'peace at any price' basis."

Sen. McCarthy Endorsed By 4,000 Cheering GOP Delegates In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, June 12 (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) declared he would support President Eisenhower if he were running for office today, but added he would not be "a rubber stamp even if it involves the flesh of the Republican party."

McCarthy told a cheering audience "I don't care if we have a Democrat or Republican in the president's chair, if I am to do my duty to the people of my state I can't be a rubber stamp even if it involves the flesh of the Republican party, which I think is the greatest in the world."

McCarthy said "a lot of my good friends say 'Oh, McCarthy, you are trying to start a fight with the Eisenhower administration.' My good friends, nothing could be further from the truth.

"I think that Eisenhower has conducted his administration so infinitely better than the previous administration, that I could with a very clear conscience go out and campaign for him today if he were running for office."

McCarthy also asserted, "Now is the time to let the country know that as long as we are in power, there will be no rubber stamp and the test of party loyalty is not how well you can play the game of follow the leaders."

McCarthy said, "I won't promise I won't make mistakes, but the only way you can avoid making mistakes is to stay in bed and do nothing."

McCarthy addressed a cheering Republican state convention in his home state. Shortly before his speech to some 4,000 delegates and guests, the convention adopted by rousing voice vote a resolution commending him.

Flanders' Move Against M'Carthy Hit By Knowland

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) sharply condemned today as a "mistake" and "not justified" a move by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to oust Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) from his Senate chairmanships.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said that if a fight broke out on the Senate floor over the Flanders proposal it might "completely block" President Eisenhower's legislative program.

Flanders filed in the Senate yesterday a motion that would strip McCarthy of his chairmanship of the Senate Investigations subcommittee and its parent group, the Government Operations Committee, unless he answers questions raised about his finances in a 1953 Senate Elections subcommittee report.

The Flanders motion was permitted to "lie on the desk" without assignment to a committee, which would permit any senator—Republican, Democrat or Independent—to call it up.

Flanders said that despite opposition from Knowland he will push for a showdown in the Senate, unless McCarthy answers the questions raised about him.

"I agree that this is embarrassing to the Republican leadership," Flanders said. "But it's past time for them to be talking about that now."

He said the Senate leaders "should have been thinking about this issue and motion months ago."

"I have not consulted anybody on my speeches dealing with the junior senator from Wisconsin," he said. "If I did consult them they might talk me out of giving them."

Flanders said his office has been swamped with telegrams since his Senate floor speech and his surprise television appearance to notify McCarthy he was going to make the address.

Taken by surprise by the Flanders move, Knowland told reporters "I do not believe that is the procedure to be followed" in dealing with McCarthy, currently engaged in a televised controversy with Secretary of the Army

Boy Admits He Started Blaze That Killed 7

Whisky-Drinking 11-Year-Old Says It Was Accident

CHICAGO, June 12 (AP)—Chief of Detectives John T. O'Malley said today that a whiskey-drinking, cigarette-smoking 11-year-old boy told him he started a tenement building fire which killed seven persons and injured nine.

O'Malley said the boy, Marion Gregory, told him the fire started last night when he "flipped" a cigarette butt into some rubbish in a stair well.

A father and his small son and daughter, a mother and daughter and a brother and sister were trapped in their fourth floor apartments by the fast-spreading flames and perished.

Young Gregory previously told investigators that the fire apparently was started by two men in baseball caps.

In his earlier story, he told officers he was reading a Western novel in his second-floor apartment when he heard voices below.

As he looked out, he said, he heard one man say, "Let's get that gas lit and get out of here." Then he reported seeing two men in baseball caps run into the alley, one carrying a bucket.

Supervising Capt. Robert Ryan said he learned that the boy smokes and drinks whisky on occasion and often flipped away flowing cigarette butts.

Asst. State's Atty. Frank Ferlic said the boy told him that the start of the fire was an accident.

Several investigators said unofficially there were indications that the fast spreading flames fed on gasoline. They based this theory on the swiftness of the fire and heavy charring of wood along a stairway.

The fire caused an estimated $20,000 damage to the tenement building.

An inquest has been set for Monday.

Police said they found five empty whisky bottles in the boy's bureau drawer along with a railroad flare and comic books entitled, "Keeper of the Morgue," "Werewolf of the Alps," and "Murder From the Tomb."

While police were questioning the lad, his father was summoned. His first words to his son on entering the room were, "Say nothing."

Police said boy acquaintances of young Gregory told them he started a small rubbish fire in the apartment building several months ago with a glowing cigarette butt and that his father put it out.

The elder Gregory said he brought the boy here last January from Tremont, Miss.

He told police: "Babe smoked cigarettes, about a pack a day. I didn't want him to but I bought him cigarettes because there wasn't much I could do about it."

Police said Gregory also told them he gave the boy an occasional drink of whisky.

Fire prevention inspectors said many fire law violations have been charged against the building.

Ex-Convict Is Jailed In Winnfield Assault Case

Mock War; 54 Cities To Be 'Blasted'

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Fifty-four American and Canadian cities theoretically will be blown into blazing ruin Monday and Tuesday under a simulated mass attack by 425 "Soviet" planes.

This will be a make-believe on an utterly serious basis, to test civil defenses on a nationwide scale against a hypothetical onslaught of atom and hydrogen bombs, guided missiles, high explosive and incendiary bombs, sabotage and psychological and germ warfare.

"Operation Alert," the Federal Civil Defense Administration calls it. FCDA will mastermind it from two headquarters, one a secret hideaway, the other in nearby Marland.

The idea is to try out communications, find out what civil defense organizations in the states and cities are capable of doing, and give civil defense workers some realistic training.

In the continental United States, 31 major cities, from Los Angeles to Boston, from Seattle to Tampa, will be attack targets. So will eight cities across Canada from coast to coast, two in Alaska and one each in Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Another 85 cities theoretically will come under attack from weapons other than nuclear ones or will get in on the drill with theoretical help for "stricken" neighbors, caring for casualties and taking in the homeless.

Here in Washington, and in many other communities, sirens will scream an alert, traffic will stop and people will be expected to duck into shelter areas.

The national capital will test plans for emergency dispersal of residents and for keeping the federal government running. All government agencies have been ordered to take part.

Some cities will do even more. Mobile, Ala., for example, will have an actual test evacuation to see how fast it can get 26,000 people out of 450 square blocks in the business district.

Just how much warning could be expected if an actual attack should come, nobody can say for sure. For purposes of national planning, FCDA is assuming that by this time next year radar networks will be far enough along to provide at least an hour's warning enemy planes are on the way.

Within that time, officials estimate people in big cities could manage to scatter two miles toward the suburbs—far enough to cut the casualty toll "considerably."

5 Persons Afloat In Gulf Rescued

NEW ORLEANS, June 12 (AP)—The Coast Guard said tonight one of its patrol boats picked up five persons floating two miles north of Cat Island off Gulfport, Miss.

The five had been aboard the cabin cruiser Jane, which sank about mid-afternoon.

The rescued group included Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell B. Davis, John Davis, Clifton Milner and Peter Sheely, all of Gulfport, the Coast Guard said. None was hurt in the two-hour immersion.

The patrol boat, No. 83491, headed for Gulfport after the rescue. The craft was patroling the course of the Eastward Ho races from New Orleans to Florida.

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 12 (AP) — A kidnaping charge was filed today against short, swarthy Daniel J. Marsin, 41, who was identified by Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith as the man who abducted her and collected $75,000 ransom.

Marsin, an unemployed welder with a wife and two children, had been seized near a ranch house four hours after Mrs. Smith, 23, was released unharmed in the Superstition Mountains Thursday night.

Immediately after filing of the kidnaping charge by County Atty. William P. Mahoney, Marsin was hustled before Justice of the Peace Al Flood. He was ordered held under $20,000 bond.

If found guilty, Marsin faces imprisonment from 20 to 50 years without possibility of parole until the minimum sentence imposed has been served.

Marsin had made no statement about the kidnaping.

His wife, permitted to visit him in the city jail, urged him to lead officers to where the ransom money was hidden. He refused.

As the charge was filed against Marsin, officers were searching the foothills of the Superstition Mountains, 45 miles east of Phoenix, for the $75,000. They believed it had been buried.

Hunting the money in that rocky, brush and cactus-covered area was like looking for a needle in a haystack.

The searchers started from a spot where they had found a partially burned valise in which the victim's husband, Herbert, a wealthy pipe and steel company executive, carried the money to the rendezvous with the kidnaper. Then they fanned out over the rugged area looking for signs of fresh digging or removal of rocks.

The officers spotted a man skulking in the darkness and seized him.

Marsin told them he had been prospecting in the mountains and become lost.

In Marsin's home detectives found a typewriter which had been purchased two weeks ago. It had not been established if it was the typewriter on which the ransom note was written.

When Marsin appeared in a police lineup, Mrs. Smith quickly picked him out and said:

"That's him. There's no question about it."

She had been with her kidnaper for 29 hours from the time he seized her in front of a Phoenix beauty parlor Wednesday until her husband brought the ransom to the mountains Thursday evening.

Marsin's wife was brought to the police station last night. When told why her husband was being held, she fainted.

He said he had changed his name from Marsini "for the children's sake."

New York police records show a Daniel J. Marsini was arrested in April, 1940, in Brooklyn on a grand larceny charge involving an automobile. The charge was reduced to petit larceny and Marsini received a suspended sentence.

Ellender Assailed By F. B. Ellis As 'Absentee Solon'

Blasting U. S. Sen. Allen Ellender as an "absentee senator" afflicted with "Potomac fever", senatorial candidate Frank B. Ellis told an assembled group of onlookers in West Monroe yesterday afternoon that Ellender may go down as "one of the worst defeated senators in history."

Ellis, making his first appearance in the Twin Cities area during a week-long whirlwind tour of the state, seemed confident of victory in the July 27 Democratic primary for the U. S. Senatorial post "if things continue to go as they have been."

Mainly confining himself to the listing of his past records as a Louisiana politician for a goodly number of years, Ellis veered occasionally to take potshots at incumbent Ellender.

Ellis also spoke at Columbia, Jonesboro, Ruston and Winnfield, concluding his current swing through north Louisiana. He will speak in Opelousas Sunday night.

In Ruston Ellis called for a stepped up fight against encroachment on state rights. He rapped out at Ellender for not being more firm in the fight for preservation of states rights and condemned the "interference in Washington in the production and sale of natural resources that mean so much to our people."

"It is an accepted fact that the oil industries exploratory and development costs and the constant search and production of oil, gas and other hydro-carbons are growing more expensive," Ellis declared in Columbia.

"Every effort should be made to encourage this development and give full reign to development of the free enterprise system," he said.

He said he would not overlook the fact that Louisiana's economy

Surrender Of Suspect Ends 2-Parish Hunt

Beating Of Woman Wed. Admitted, Sheriff Reports

WINNFIELD, June 12 (Special)—A two-parish-wide manhunt for a 30-year-old ex-convict wanted for the assault and attempted rape of a 43-year-old mother of two children here Wednesday ended late Friday night, when Claudell Hammons surrendered to Winn parish Sheriff C. M. Robinson and deputy Troy Kyson at Gaar's Mill community. Scores of volunteers were reported to have taken part in a three-day search for Hammons in the almost impenetrable Flat Creek swamp.

Knowing that Hammons would have to come out of the swamp for food, Sheriff Robinson explained that he "passed the word around" for anyone who saw Hammons to advise the wanted man if he would surrender peacefully he would not be harmed.

Feeling had run high in the Gaar's Mill-Sikes vicinity as many armed rural residents joined the posse. One man said, "If they catch him, they may see that he doesn't come out alive."

Late Friday night, Sheriff Robinson related, Hammons left the swamp, and believing the owner to be away, went to the home of Troy Lee Kelly, Gaar's Mill, in search of food. Kelly relayed Sheriff Robinson's message to Hammons and persuaded him to surrender to the peace officers.

Hammons was taken to the Winn parish jail, where, sheriff Robinson said, he confessed to severely beating Mrs. Sewell Mulloy. "He said he didn't know why he had done it," the sheriff said.

The assault took place at the woman's farm home about a mile northeast of Gaar's Mill shortly after noon Wednesday. The victim told officers she was in her living

Soviets Sentence Two U. S. 'Spies' Found In Norway

MOSCOW, Sunday, June 13 (AP)—Two "American spies" have been sentenced to 25 years in prison by the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union, Pravda announced today. The Communist party newspaper said the two men had been spirited into Murmansk with the aid of Norwegian officials.

The story said Galai deserted from the Soviet army in Austria, contacted American intelligence in Vienna and was sent to a "spy school" under the name of Lawrence O. Johnson.

The account said Khramtzev left the Soviet sector of East Berlin, was picked up by Americans in the Western sector and sent to a "spy school" under the name of Gregory Vasilov.

Following completion of their training, Pravda said, the two were taken by American intelligence authorities to Norway where with the aid of Norwegian border officials, they were smuggled into Murmansk, Soviet arctic port.

The story gave no details as to how the two were caught in that area but was fairly specific otherwise. It said both men got entangled with the Americans because of black market activities in Austria and Germany.

3 In Deep South Vow Races Won't Be Mixed, Come What May

11 States Seek To Maintain School Segregation

By PAUL DUKE

RICHMOND, Va., June 12 (AP)—The Southland began to blaze a more distinct trail this week on how it proposes to deal with the Supreme Court decision outlawing school segregation.

Heretofore, the Dixieland outlook for handling the momentous problems left in the wake of the May 17 ruling has been somewhat obscure.

But at Thursday's special conference of southern governors in this one-time Confederate capital the picture began to take focus and the result is a three-angled view shaping up like this:

Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina vow the races aren't going to be mixed in their states, court or no court.

Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas would like to find some legal method to sidestep the court decision—but they aren't ready to go as far as Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina.

West Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland and possibly Oklahoma—all of which have a low percentage of Negro pupils—plan to comply with the court verdict.

Thus it can be seen that 11 states are searching for a legal "out" that will permit the South to continue the segregated policy that has prevailed since the establishment of public school systems after the Civil War.

At the Richmond conference—which produced no major policy decisions but served as a valuable trading post for ideas—two plans for skirting the court ruling received chief attention.

One was the Mississippi plan whereby school authorities would assign pupils to schools on the basis of "health and welfare." The upshot would be that Negro pupils would be sent to a school set aside for them and white pupils to a school earmarked for them.

The Mississippi authorities believe their plan has lots of legal merit, but some of the other states are not so sure.

The second circumvention method is the one proposed in South Carolina and Georgia involving abolition of the public school system and the establishment of a string of private schools. State funds would be allotted parents so they could send their children to the private schools.

But many southern officials privately express doubts about any scheme that means doing away with the public school system, fearing it may prove harmful to the whole pattern of education.

Virginia Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond has said he has another plan he believes might be much stronger legally. Almond, however, has declined to discuss essential details until he works on it more fully.

In arguments before the Supreme Court, Almond hinted at the possibility of a tripartite school system involving white, Negro and mixed schools. Such a setup undoubtedly would be costly and would mean the states would have to raise vast new revenues to finance their school operations.

At any rate, it is possible Almond will discuss his plan at a meeting of Southern attorneys gen-

Boy Admits He Started Blaze That Killed 7

Whisky-Drinking 11-Year-Old Says It Was Accident

CHICAGO, June 12 (AP)—Chief of Detectives John T. O'Malley said today that a whiskey-drinking, cigarette-smoking 11-year-old boy told him he started a tenement building fire which killed seven persons and injured nine.

O'Malley said the boy, Marion Gregory, told him the fire started last night when he "flipped" a cigarette butt into some rubbish in a stair well.

A father and his small son and daughter, a mother and daughter and a brother and sister were trapped in their fourth floor apartments by the fast-spreading flames and perished.

Young Gregory previously told investigators that the fire apparently was started by two men in baseball caps.

In his earlier story, he told officers he was reading a Western novel in his second-floor apartment when he heard voices below.

As he looked out, he said, he heard one man say, "Let's get that gas lit and get out of here." Then he reported seeing two men in baseball caps run into the alley, one carrying a bucket.

Supervising Capt. Robert Ryan said he learned that the boy smokes and drinks whisky on occasion and often flipped away flowing cigarette butts.

Asst. State's Atty. Frank Ferlic said the boy told him that the start of the fire was an accident.

Several investigators said unofficially there were indications that the fast spreading flames fed on gasoline. They based this theory on the swiftness of the fire and heavy charring of wood along a stairway.

The fire caused an estimated $20,000 damage to the tenement building.

An inquest has been set for Monday.

Police said they found five empty whisky bottles in the boy's bureau drawer along with a railroad flare and comic books entitled, "Keeper of the Morgue," "Werewolf of the Alps," and "Murder From the Tomb."

While police were questioning the lad, his father was summoned. His first words to his son on entering the room were, "Say nothing."

Police said boy acquaintances of young Gregory told them he started a small rubbish fire in the apartment building several months ago with a glowing cigarette butt and that his father put it out.

The elder Gregory said he brought the boy here last January from Tremont, Miss.

He told police: "Babe smoked cigarettes, about a pack a day. I didn't want him to but I bought him cigarettes because there wasn't much I could do about it."

Police said Gregory also told them he gave the boy an occasional drink of whisky.

Ex-Convict Is Jailed In Winnfield Assault Case

Mock War; 54 Cities To Be 'Blasted'

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Fifty-four American and Canadian cities theoretically will be blown into blazing ruin Monday and Tuesday under a simulated mass attack by 425 "Soviet" planes.

This will be a make-believe on an utterly serious basis, to test civil defenses on a nationwide scale against a hypothetical onslaught of atom and hydrogen bombs, guided missiles, high explosive and incendiary bombs, sabotage and psychological and germ warfare.

"Operation Alert," the Federal Civil Defense Administration calls it. FCDA will mastermind it from two headquarters, one a secret hideaway, the other in nearby Marland.

The idea is to try out communications, find out what civil defense organizations in the states and cities are capable of doing, and give civil defense workers some realistic training.

In the continental United States, 31 major cities, from Los Angeles to Boston, from Seattle to Tampa, will be attack targets. So will eight cities across Canada from coast to coast, two in Alaska and one each in Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Another 85 cities theoretically will come under attack from weapons other than nuclear ones or will get in on the drill with theoretical help for "stricken" neighbors, caring for casualties and taking in the homeless.

Here in Washington, and in many other communities, sirens will scream an alert, traffic will stop and people will be expected to duck into shelter areas.

The national capital will test plans for emergency dispersal of residents and for keeping the federal government running. All government agencies have been ordered to take part.

Some cities will do even more. Mobile, Ala., for example, will have an actual test evacuation to see how fast it can get 26,000 people out of 450 square blocks in the business district.

Just how much warning could be expected if an actual attack should come, nobody can say for sure. For purposes of national planning, FCDA is assuming that by this time next year radar networks will be far enough along to provide at least an hour's warning enemy planes are on the way.

Within that time, officials estimate people in big cities could manage to scatter two miles toward the suburbs—far enough to cut the casualty toll "considerably."

5 Persons Afloat In Gulf Rescued

NEW ORLEANS, June 12 (AP)—The Coast Guard said tonight one of its patrol boats picked up five persons floating two miles north of Cat Island off Gulfport, Miss.

The five had been aboard the cabin cruiser Jane, which sank about mid-afternoon.

The rescued group included Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell B. Davis, John Davis, Clifton Milner and Peter Sheely, all of Gulfport, the Coast Guard said. None was hurt in the two-hour immersion.

The patrol boat, No. 83491, headed for Gulfport after the rescue. The craft was patroling the course of the Eastward Ho races from New Orleans to Fiorida.

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 12 (AP) — A kidnaping charge was filed today against short, swarthy Daniel J. Marsin, 41, who was identified by Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith as the man who abducted her and collected $75,000 ransom.

Marsin, an unemployed welder with a wife and two children, had been seized near a ranch house four hours after Mrs. Smith, 23, was released unharmed in the Superstition Mountains Thursday night.

Immediately after filing of the kidnaping charge by County Atty. William P. Mahoney, Marsin was hustled before Justice of the Peace Al Flood. He was ordered held under $20,000 bond.

If found guilty, Marsin faces imprisonment from 20 to 50 years without possibility of parole until the minimum sentence imposed has been served.

Marsin had made no statement about the kidnaping.

His wife, permitted to visit him in the city jail, urged him to lead officers to where the ransom money was hidden. He refused.

As the charge was filed against Marsin, officers were searching the foothills of the Superstition Mountains, 45 miles east of Phoenix, for the $75,000. They believed it had been buried.

Hunting the money in that rocky, brush and cactus-covered area was like looking for a needle in a haystack.

The searchers started from a spot where they had found a partially burned valise in which the victim's husband, Herbert, a wealthy pipe and steel company executive, carried the money to the rendezvous with the kidnaper. Then they fanned out over the rugged area looking for signs of fresh digging or removal of rocks.

The officers spotted a man skulking in the darkness and seized him.

Marsin told them he had been prospecting in the mountains and become lost.

In Marsin's home detectives found a typewriter which had been purchased two weeks ago. It had not been established if it was the typewriter on which the ransom note was written.

When Marsin appeared in a police lineup, Mrs. Smith quickly picked him out and said:

"That's him. There's no question about it."

She had been with her kidnaper for 29 hours from the time he seized her in front of a Phoenix beauty parlor Wednesday until her husband brought the ransom to the mountains Thursday evening.

Marsin's wife was brought to the police station last night. When told why her husband was being held, she fainted.

He said he had changed his name from Marsini "for the children's sake."

New York police records show a Daniel J. Marsini was arrested in April, 1940, in Brooklyn on a grand larceny charge involving an automobile. The charge was reduced to petit larceny and Marsini received a suspended sentence.

Ellender Assailed By F. B. Ellis As 'Absentee Solon'

Blasting U. S. Sen. Allen Ellender as an "absentee senator" afflicted with "Potomac fever", senatorial candidate Frank B. Ellis told an assembled group of onlookers in West Monroe yesterday afternoon that Ellender may go down as "one of the worst defeated senators in history."

Ellis, making his first appearance in the Twin Cities area during a week-long whirlwind tour of the state, seemed confident of victory in the July 27 Democratic primary for the U. S. Senatorial post "if things continue to go as they have been."

Mainly confining himself to the listing of his past records as a Louisiana politician for a goodly number of years, Ellis veered occasionally to take potshots at incumbent Ellender.

Ellis also spoke at Columbia, Jonesboro, Ruston and Winnfield, concluding his current swing through north Louisiana. He will speak in Opelousas Sunday night.

In Ruston Ellis called for a stepped up fight against encroachment on state rights. He rapped out at Ellender for not being more firm in the fight for preservation of states rights and condemned the "interference in Washington in the production and sale of natural resources that mean so much to our people."

"It is an accepted fact that the oil industries exploratory and development costs and the constant search and production of oil, gas and other hydro-carbons are growing more expensive," Ellis declared in Columbia.

"Every effort should be made to encourage this development and give full reign to development of the free enterprise system," he said.

He said he would not overlook the fact that Louisiana's economy

Beating Of Woman Wed. Admitted, Sheriff Reports

WINNFIELD, June 12 (Special)—A two-parish-wide manhunt for a 30-year-old ex-convict wanted for the assault and attempted rape of a 43-year-old mother of two children here Wednesday ended late Friday night, when Claudell Hammons surrendered to Winn parish Sheriff C. M. Robinson and deputy Troy Kyson at Gaar's Mill community. Scores of volunteers were reported to have taken part in a three-day search for Hammons in the almost impenetrable Flat Creek swamp.

Knowing that Hammons would have to come out of the swamp for food, Sheriff Robinson explained that he "passed the word around" for anyone who saw Hammons to advise the wanted man if he would surrender peacefully he would not be harmed.

Feeling had run high in the Gaar's Mill-Sikes vicinity as many armed rural residents joined the posse. One man said, "If they catch him, they may see that he doesn't come out alive."

Late Friday night, Sheriff Robinson related, Hammons left the swamp, and believing the owner to be away, went to the home of Troy Lee Kelly, Gaar's Mill, in search of food. Kelly relayed Sheriff Robinson's message to Hammons and persuaded him to surrender to the peace officers.

Hammons was taken to the Winn parish jail, where, sheriff Robinson said, he confessed to severely beating Mrs. Sewell Mulloy. "He said he didn't know why he had done it," the sheriff said.

The assault took place at the woman's farm home about a mile northeast of Gaar's Mill shortly after noon Wednesday. The victim told officers she was in her living

Soviets Sentence Two U. S. 'Spies' Found In Norway

MOSCOW, Sunday, June 13 (AP)—Two "American spies" have been sentenced to 25 years in prison by the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union, Pravda announced today. The Communist party newspaper said the two men had been spirited into Murmansk with the aid of Norwegian officials.

The story said Galai deserted from the Soviet army in Austria, contacted American Intelligence in Vienna and was sent to a "spy school" under the name of Lawrence O. Johnson.

The account said Khramtzev left the Soviet sector of East Berlin, was picked up by Americans in the Western sector and sent to a "spy school" under the name of Gregory Vasilov.

Following completion of their training, Pravda said, the two were taken by American Intelligence authorities to Norway where with the aid of Norwegian border officials, they were smuggled into Murmansk, Soviet arctic port.

The story gave no details as to how the two were caught in that area but was fairly specific otherwise. It said both men got entangled with the Americans because of black market activities in Austria and Germany.

3 In Deep South Vow Races Won't Be Mixed, Come What May

11 States Seek To Maintain School Segregation

By PAUL DUKE

RICHMOND, Va., June 12 (AP)—The Southland began to blaze a more distinct trail this week on how it proposes to deal with the Supreme Court decision outlawing school segregation.

Heretofore, the Dixieland outlook for handling the momentous problems left in the wake of the May 17 ruling has been somewhat obscure.

But at Thursday's special conference of southern governors in this one-time Confederate capital the picture began to take focus and the result is a three-angled view shaping up like this:

Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina vow the races aren't going to be mixed in their states, court or no court.

Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas would like to find some legal method to sidestep the court decision—but they aren't ready to go as far as Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina.

West Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland and possibly Oklahoma—all of which have a low percentage of Negro pupils—plan to comply with the court verdict.

Thus it can be seen that 11 states are searching for a legal "out" that will permit the South to continue the segregated policy that has prevailed since the establishment of public school systems after the Civil War.

At the Richmond conference—which produced no major policy decisions but served as a valuable trading post for ideas—two plans for skirting the court ruling received chief attention.

One was the Mississippi plan whereby school authorities would assign pupils to schools on the basis of "health and welfare." The upshot would be that Negro pupils would be sent to a school set aside for them and white pupils to a school earmarked for them.

The Mississippi authorities believe their plan has lots of legal merit, but some of the other states are not so sure.

The second circumvention method is the one proposed in South Carolina and Georgia involving abolition of the public school system and the establishment of a string of private schools. State funds would be allotted parents so they could send their children to the private schools.

But many southern officials privately express doubts about any scheme that means doing away with the public school system, fearing it may prove harmful to the whole pattern of education.

Virginia Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond has said he has another plan he believes might be much stronger legally. Almond, however, has declined to discuss essential details until he works on it more fully.

In arguments before the Supreme Court, Almond hinted at the possibility of a tripartite school system involving white, Negro and mixed schools. Such a setup undoubtedly would be costly and would mean the states would have to raise vast new revenues to finance their school operations.

At any rate, it is possible Almond will discuss his plan at a meeting of Southern attorneys gen-

Higher Prices Loom For Natural Gas In Wake Of Supreme Court Decision

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The way oil and gas people here see it, the Supreme Court decision this week in the natural gas case is likely to mean less natural gas at higher prices in states that don't produce their own.

The court ruled that the Federal Power Commission has authority to regulate the price of all natural gas flowing into interstate commerce. The majority opinion, written by Justice Sherman Minton, held that protection of consumers "against exploitation at the hands of natural gas companies was the primary aim of the Natural Gas Act."

Representatives of the oil and gas industry and members of Congress from producing states were quick to attack the decision, which came in a case involving the Phillips Petroleum Co. of Bartlesville, Okla., a supplier of natural gas to pipeline companies for resale in many states.

John A. Ferguson, executive director of the Independent Natural Gas Assn. of America, expressed the opinion "that millions of consumers of natural gas throughout the United States will be the ultimate losers" if the decision stands. He suggested it would cause independent producers to seek local markets rather than sell to interstate pipeline companies, thereby reducing supplies for consumers outside of production areas.

Russell B. Brown, general counsel, Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, commented:

"Any misimpression that federal regulation will be of benefit to gas consumers in eastern and other areas far removed from the source of production is completely erroneous. Such a revolutionary change would disrupt the conditions under which the producers and gatherers of gas have been operating for many years. The resulting confusion will make certain one thing: That the supply of gas to the consumers would be reduced, which must inevitably add greatly to the cost to the consumer."

Curtis Morris, Washington director of the American Gas Assn., said he feared more and more gas would be turned into other uses in producing states and thus cut supplies to pipeline companies.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla), himself an oil and gas man, asserted the court's decision, if effective, would mean consumption of more and more gas in the states where it is produced and export of less and less in interstate commerce.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex), Senate Democratic leader, was one of the first to attack the high court's decision. "Shocking" was his word for it in a Senate speech.

Foils Robbery, Then Picked Up On Old Charge

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Chester Fawbush, who helped foil a $1,400 robbery earlier in the week, was "a little disgusted" today. He's in jail because of the publicity that followed.

When newspapers printed a picture showing Fawbush's part in thwarting the holdup, detectives recognized him as a man wanted on a 3-year-old grand larceny warrant.

"I'm a little disgusted," Fawbush told the judge when he was placed under $100 bond for appearance in police court later.

He denied he had taken a wrist watch and $110 from two piggy banks at the home of a former employer, Eugene Davis.

Future Of Stock Values Clouded By Last Week's Dip

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—A long-awaited reaction hit the stock market this week with full force and sent prices down in the hardest fall in four years.

The rebound from the big break was substantial, but the over-all performance of the market left a lot of unanswered questions.

In the middle of last September, the stock market hit its low of the year and then started a rally that hardly paused for breath for nearly nine months.

Ordinarily, the market will hesitate from time to time and retrace some of its gain before starting forward again. This the market didn't do.

Therefore, many traders and others have been standing around waiting for the market to go into a substantial but normal reaction.

On Tuesday it came. There was no warning. Shortly after the start of the second hour of trading, selling on a large scale started and mushroomed with such rapidity that the tape fell as much as four minutes behind in reporting the progress of buying and selling on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

Almost everything was dumped into the selling hopper—steels, motors, oils, railroads, aircrafts and others.

On the whole, the reaction was much less than many expected. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks on Tuesday dropped $2.-90. That was the greatest retreat for the average since the start of the Korean War four years ago. In the break of June 26, 1950, the average skidded $4.00.

However, this week the average was down $2.10, while the week the Korean War started the average fell a staggering $5.50.

On Thursday and Friday the market rebound with quite a show of vigor. However, volume was unusually low while prices were rising. That is hardly reassuring to those who would like to see an end to the selling.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were: U.S. Steel up ⅜ at 47¼, Canadian Pacific off ½ at 26¾, Boeing off ¾ at 43½, North American Aviation off ⅞ at 32⅞, and Ashland Oil up ⅝ at 12⅞.

Blood Tests In Polio Vaccine Trials Slated

ALEXANDRIA, La., —UP— A second blood test is scheduled next week for 123 Rapides parish children who are taking part in the national field trials of the Salk polio vaccine.

Dr. Kendrick Taylor, director of the parish health unit, said yesterday that the tests would be the final step in the program which began more than a month ago.

Dr. Taylor said that the second blood samples were "essential to carry on the final evaluation of the vaccine's effectiveness."

Children in the Alexandria area are asked to go to the health unit building Monday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Health officers will travel through the parish Tuesday through Thursday to take blood from children outside the immediate area.

Dr. Taylor stressed that the second blood tests were requested of all children who previously gave blood. He said that parents had been informed by mail of plans for taking the blood samples this week.

Rapides parish was chosen early this year as a testing area for the nation-wide trials of the vaccine. Three shots were given each of the more than 700 second grade children who took part.

Blood samples were taken from a small percentage of these second graders and from a number of unvaccinated first and third grade students in the same schools. Comparison of samples will show how well the vaccine builds bloodstream anti-bodies which fight polio, Dr. Taylor said.

Legal Question Raised After Georgia Veteran And Japanese Girl Wed

ATLANTA, June 12 (AP)—Georgia laws against mixed marriages today posed a threat for an Army veteran, recently discharged from Ft. Benning, Ga., and his Japanese bride.

Robert David Fisher and the former Tameko Kikushi Stayton were married in Georgia last month, and left the state after Fisher's discharge. He gave his forwarding address as 1624 W. Louden St., Philadelphia.

Georgia Atty. General Eugene Cook said today he has written Solicitor General Russell C. Davison Jr., of Columbus, calling attention to the marriage, which violated Georgia laws.

Cook said he plans to confer with Davison early next week on what action will be taken.

He said the state's laws not only prohibit marriages between white persons and persons of another race, including Japanese, but provide penalties for issuing a marriage license or performing the wedding rites.

As rtquired by law, Fisher's marriage was reported to Cook by the vital statistics division of the Georgia Health Department. The attorney general is required, under penalty of impeachment, to report such cases to the proper solicitor general for prosecution.

In Columbus, Judge T. Bradford Bagley, who married Fisher and his Japanese bride, commented:

"It seems, in view of the late Supreme Court decision (striking down public school segregation), that the Supreme Court would also hold the law prohibiting marriage between Caucasians and Japanese, or persons of color, is unconstitutional.

"Of course, I didn't perform the ceremony on that basis. She looked white. I knew she wasn't a Negro. They had a marriage license issued by the Ordinary, and I presumed it was all right."

Muscogee County Ordinary Henry H. Hunter Jr., explained that "there wasn't anything thought about a person of the Asiatic race" in issuing the license. "If she had been a person of African descent, we would not have issued the license."

Hunter said the license was issured by a clerk who was relatively new on the job, but he acknowledged full responsibility.

Solicitor Davison was not available for comment.

Nixon Speaks On Perils In Asia; Threat Of Reds

WHITTIER, Calif., June 12—UP—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, declared Saturday that in the task of keeping world peace "we recognize we cannot do the job alone," and warned that Indo-China is in "grave peril" and its fall could be "desperately serious" to the free world.

However, in listing as part of America's policy the recognition we can't do the job alone, he pointed out, "We have. . .retaliatory power to be used . . . at our discretion."

Nixon said in a commencement address at Whittier College, his alma mater, that "America's policy can be summed up by the phrase, 'peace without surrender.' "

"There is only one threat to the peace of the world — the one which is presented by the international Communist conspiracy, with its power center in the Soviet Union," he said.

The vice president said that because of the "peace without surrender policy," the chances for overt, Communist aggression "in Korea and Indo-China or any place in the world have been reduced to a minimum."

Convicted Slayer Sent To Jackson For Safekeeping

PASCAGOULA, Miss., June 12 (AP)—Gerald Albert Gallego, under death sentence for murder of a Mississippi policeman, was removed to the Hinds County jail at Jackson today for safekeeping.

Sheriff Leo Byrd said he probably would be kept there pending final disposition of his case.

Gallego, 26, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair July 15, but his court-appointed attorney, Frank Hammond, appealed the convicton to the Mississippi Supreme Court today.

A circuit court jury convicted Gallego here Thursday for the murder of Ocean Springs policeman Ernest Floyd Beaugez. Beaugez was shot to death May 27 after he arrested Gallego for question-

Blood Tests In Polio Vaccine Trials Slated

ALEXANDRIA, La., —UP— A second blood test is scheduled next week for 123 Rapides parish children who are taking part in the national field trials of the Salk polio vaccine.

Dr. Kendrick Taylor, director of the parish health unit, said yesterday that the tests would be the final step in the program which began more than a month ago.

Dr. Taylor said that the second blood samples were "essential to carry on the final evaluation of the vaccine's effectiveness."

Children in the Alexandria area are asked to go to the health unit building Monday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Health officers will travel through the parish Tuesday through Thursday to take blood from children outside the immediate area.

Dr. Taylor stressed that the second blood tests were requested of all children who previously gave blood. He said that parents had been informed by mail of plans for taking the blood samples this week.

Rapides parish was chosen early this year as a testing area for the nation-wide trials of the vaccine. Three shots were given each of the more than 700 second grade children who took part.

Blood samples were taken from a small percentage of these second graders and from a number of unvaccinated first and third grade students in the same schools. Comparison of samples will show how well the vaccine builds bloodstream anti-bodies which fight polio, Dr. Taylor said.

Keep cut flowers fresh longer by removing any leaves that will be below the water level. Submerged foliage decays, thereby hastening the death of the flowers.

ATLANTA, June 12 (AP)—Georgia laws against mixed marriages today posed a threat for an Army veteran, recently discharged from Ft. Benning, Ga., and his Japanese bride.

Robert David Fisher and the former Tameko Kikushi Stayton were married in Georgia last month, and left the state after Fisher's discharge. He gave his forwarding address as 1624 W. Louden St., Philadelphia.

Georgia Atty. General Eugene Cook said today he has written Solicitor General Russell C. Davison Jr., of Columbus, calling attention to the marriage, which violated Georgia laws.

Cook said he plans to confer with Davison early next week on what action will be taken.

He said the state's laws not only prohibit marriages between white persons and persons of another race, including Japanese, but provide penalties for issuing a marriage license or performing the wedding rites.

As rtquired by law, Fisher's marriage was reported to Cook by the vital statistics division of the Georgia Health Department. The attorney general is required, under penalty of impeachment, to report such cases to the proper solicitor general for prosecution.

In Columbus, Judge T. Bradford Bagley, who married Fisher and his Japanese bride, commented:

"It seems, in view of the late Supreme Court decision (striking down public school segregation), that the Supreme Court would also hold the law prohibiting marriage between Caucasians and Japanese, or persons of color, is unconstitutional.

"Of course, I didn't perform the ceremony on that basis. She looked white. I knew she wasn't a Negro. They had a marriage license issued by the Ordinary, and I presumed it was all right."

Muscogee County Ordinary Henry H. Hunter Jr., explained that "there wasn't anything thought about a person of the Asiatic race" in issuing the license. "If she had been a person of African descent, we would not have issued the license."

Hunter said the license was issured by a clerk who was relatively new on the job, but he acknowledged full responsibility.

Solicitor Davison was not available for comment.

Nixon Speaks On Perils In Asia; Threat Of Reds

WHITTIER, Calif., June 12—UP—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, declared Saturday that in the task of keeping world peace "we recognize we cannot do the job alone," and warned that Indo-China is in "grave peril" and its fall could be "desperately serious" to the free world.

However, in listing as part of America's policy the recognition we can't do the job alone, he pointed out, "We have. . .retaliatorying. power to be used . . . at our discretion."

Nixon said in a commencement address at Whittier College, his alma mater, that "America's policy can be summed up by the phrase, 'peace without surrender.' "

"There is only one threat to the peace of the world — the one which is presented by the international Communist conspiracy, with its power center in the Soviet Union," he said.

The vice president said that because of the "peace without surrender policy," the chances for overt, Communist aggression "in Korea and Indo-China or any place in the world have been reduced to a minimum."

Convicted Slayer Sent To Jackson For Safekeeping

PASCAGOULA, Miss., June 12 (AP)—Gerald Albert Gallego, under death sentence for murder of a Mississippi policeman, was removed to the Hinds County jail at Jackson today for safekeeping.

Sheriff Leo Byrd said he probably would be kept there pending final disposition of his case.

Gallego, 26, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair July 15, but his court-appointed attorney, Frank Hammond, appealed the convicton to the Mississippi Supreme Court today.

A circuit court jury convicted Gallego here Thursday for the murder of Ocean Springs policeman Ernest Floyd Beaugez. Beaugez was shot to death May 27 after he arrested Gallego for questioning.

John Roosevelt Attends Meeting Of Ike's Backers

WASHINGTON, June 11 —UP— John Roosevelt said Friday he knows "damn well" his brother James won't ask his help in James' congressional campaign in California.

John Roosevelt, tall fourth son of the late President Roosevelt, is a delegate to the conference of district chairmen of the national Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional committee. He supported Mr. Eisenhower in 1952 against Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

James Roosevelt this week won the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 26th California district. Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell has refused aid to him because of Roosevelt's marital difficulties.

Asked by a reporter if he would help James, John replied, "I know damn well he wouldn't ask." He added that he will speak wherever the Citizens for Eisenhower committee wants him to. He said he didn't think that would include James' district.

Another brother, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., (D-N.Y.), has been mentioned as a candidate for governor of New York. Asked if he would support Franklin, John said the Eisenhower congressional committee is concerned only with congressional candidates.

"I'm getting good at evading questions, eh?" he said.

Gen. Gruenther Says Russia May Out-Arm America

OTTAWA, June 11 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther said today the Russians may be able within four or five years to overcome the overall military advantage now held by the Western Powers.

Gruenther, the supreme commander of Allied Powers in Europe, told a news conference the Russians were concentrating now on building up the power of their satellites.

If successful, he added, the Communist bloc might find it possible to gain the edge in military strength.

He said superiority of air power gives the edge to the West now with Russia lacking the West's greater capacity to use nuclear weapons in destruction of vital targets.

Boggs Amazed By Judges' Views On Narcotics Act

WASHINGTON —UP— Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) has attacked United States fifth circuit court judges for their "short-sighted" action in recommending repeal of certain provisions of the narcotics law which bears his name.

"I cannot imagine a more short-sighted recommendation," he said yesterday, commentnig on action taken at the judges' annual conference.

The Boggs act provides that second offenders automatically receive prison terms.

Boggs quoted a statement by commissioner of narcotics H. J. Anslinger which called the recommendation "surprising."

"It is surprising indeed that this recommendation by these judges should be adopted in New Orleans where a shocking narcotics traffic was remedied, for the most part by the application of the Boggs act."

Boggs pledged that he would fight to keep the statute on the books.

The Far East Situation

Last week, several serious charges were made against the administration which were denied by the White House and by the State Department. The first charge concerned the Genocide Pact which this newspaper has frequently discussed. The charge was that the executive department has secretly passed on that grisly piece of destruction.

It was specifically charged that the Pact had been signed by secret executive agreement. This was immediately denied by the White House. For the record, the Monroe Morning World would like to reprint a bulletin issued by the "United Nations" on March First of this year. It was "U. N." bulletin Number Five, page number 196:

"They point to the convention on Genocide which though lacking a federal clause, has been signed by Brazil, Canada, Mexico, Yugoslavia, India, Pakistan and the United States. Inclusion of a Federal State clause they say, would destroy the universality of the covenant."

Was this thing, this destroyer of American sovereignty signed? The executive department should tell of this immediately. Someone is guilty of extreme prevarication. The White House, or the "U. N."

The second specific charge was that the United States was deliberately sabotaging the Chinese Nationalists as a force against the Communists. The retort of the State Department was apparently as follows: "United States' policy is to recognize and support the Chinese Nationalist leader and this policy is expressed in both economic and military assistance." The administration double talk is enough to make the average person wonder as to the accuracy of the Department of State. (As if this accuracy was not already open to question).

The policy of the United States as has been described on numerous occasions by the Morning World is simply this: to "endure" Chiang Kai-shek, to send him a few older type jet fighter type aircraft and to arm him so that he might or might not be able to protect his own island of Formosa.

The policy of the American State Department has not been changed under the present administration. It is still governed by the interests of the British government which decrees that Chiang is to be hobbled. General Claire Chennault has affirmed this on several occasions to the Morning World.

This newspaper does not always agree with the clown Kefauver, but he made a truthful statement concerning the Indo-China problem when he asserted that the administration is edging this nation into the war. The Far Eastern situation has deteriorated into a regular debacle. The French, refusing to allow complete and unabridged independence for the Indo-Chinese people, have forced this nation into a support of imperialism. The Communists are sweeping the field.

The Eisenhower State Department which is a varnished edition of the Acheson department, refuses to even consider the effect of use of Chinese National troops. It refuses to arm these troops offensively. It is time for the facts to come out. The day might conceivably still be saved if the administration would do several things.

First; demand that the French government give immediate and complete freedom to the three states of Cambodia, Viet Nam and Laos. Second; grant immediately new military aid of an offensive nature to the Chinese Nationalist government and prepare Chinese government troops to take on the fighting either in South China or in Indo-China. Third; throw off immediately all British influence. It is time that the British follow the United States in the fight for freedom instead of the United States following the British in an aura of appeasement. Fourth; immediately throw off the shackles binding the U. S. to the "United Nations Military Command." Unless this happens, there will be no independent action taken. Fifth; immediately discount the suggestions made by George Catlett (With one stroke of a pen, I've disarmed Chiang) Marshall who has his own personal British favoring axes to grind.

If these "ifs" are followed (they are the consensus of opinions of three military leaders very familiar to every American) perhaps some degree of stability can be restored to a fast evaporating situation.

On an overall basis, the administration must arm its real allies to the teeth. Syngman Rhee whether you like him or not, should be armed. Chiang should be armed and prepared for action. The Philippine government should be readied for anything as trouble must soon break out there if Indo-China falls.

At home, several serious changes must be put into effect. The State Department must be cleansed of the Socialists and the pro-Communists, the party members and the fellow travelers. Until the house is clean in the national capital, it will be impossible to deal effectively with Communist expansion overseas.

The administration must cease the jocular references which indicate that it has "captured the initiative from the Communists" as this is sheer and idiotic prevarication undone on every single front by Communist action.

The strong pro-British influence in the national administration must be immediately eliminated. It is time for this government to separate the "sheep from the goats." Unless the "free" nations are ready and willing to support the battle against that which will eventually destroy them all, there can be no concrete action.

The statements made last week against the administration are true in every phase. They should have been explained, they should have been admitted and action taken to correct the situation.

Fellow Americans, on this Sunday morning, the sands of time are growing sparse for the freedom of this and many other nations. The effect of Communist and Socialist propaganda has been effective. It has served to rend the nation down the center. The danger to you is great. In fact, it is desperate. Unless you (who in the final analysis, pay the expenses of the government) take action and demand that your money at least be used to protect you and those whom you love, this nation will go to destruction.

On every front, the Communists are sweeping the field.

Molotov has written his own ticket at Geneva and the French are desperately hurrying to "grab" it.

The time is growing short.

Think it over.

West Carroll Parish

An economy evaluation of West Carroll parish today shows that the northeast area is on a sound basis both in reference to agriculture and business.

Large areas are devoted to agriculture and cattle displays, advanced and up-to-date methods of farming which measure up to any parish in the state. Principal crops today are cotton, corn, sweet potatoes, hay, oats and soybeans. In the past few years a rapid expansion of the livestock industry has placed in the hands of the citizenry a new field of economy.

The shift from cotton towards livestock, pasture and grain is believed to be a permanent change in the economic production of the parish. The majority of the farmers are aware that cattle, pasture and grains are as good a method of earning a livelihood as cotton, and in many instances, better.

A claim to a romantic past is also a heritage of West Carroll. The escapades of the James Brothers and Quantrelle's guerillas furnish tales that are repeated as much today as they were in the past. Many of the older citizens recite tales verbatim as to those their fathers told them as youngsters.

Oak Grove is the parish seat of West Carroll and is a progressive and industrious town. As the center of activity for the parish Oak Grove boasts many and varied stores as well as beautifully religious structures and ample recreational facilities for the townspeople.

Looking forward to the future West Carroll parish expects to measure up with any of her sister parishes in whatever the future holds.

Welch's Crocodile Tears

Counsel for the Army, Joseph Welch is a most astute and excellent attorney. In fact, his ability as a trial lawyer is quite amazing. However, he somewhat overplayed his hand in Wednesday's outburst of tears shed supposedly for a member of his law firm who was found to be a member of the "National Lawyer's Guild." The Guild has long been recognized as the legal bulwark of the Socialists and the Communists.

In any case, Welch was attempting to "get" Counsel Roy Cohn when the Wisconsin Senator, McCarthy, interrupted him to give the facts about Fred Fisher, a young attorney in Welch's firm.

Realizing that the timing was just right, Welch seized the opportunity, turned on the tears for all the "bleeders" and denounced the Senator in severe terms. Mr. Welch questioned the Senator's decency. That is quite amazing in that Mr. Welch was only minutes prior to this impassioned outburst, attempting to demoralize the record of Private Schine. He had in the recent past, attempted to destroy the records of Frank Carr and Roy Cohn.

His job is to ruin Senator McCarthy.

Unfortunately, his tears fooled many people not used to the sometimes dramatic actions of trial attorneys who must put every form of acting ability to the front if they are to successfully terminate a case.

Mr. Welch's histronics would have done justice to the late John Barrymore or maybe even Rudolf Valentino. They were timed to perfection and demonstrated clearly that Joseph Welch is a most excellent attorney.

As for Fred Fisher, he must have certainly known about the record of the national guild. Why did he remain a member so long after his graduation from the American Citadel of Marxism, Harvard University? McCarthy, as a judge, immediately recognized Welch's outcries for what they were and asked the Counsel whether or not he was telling the truth. No answer, but more tears.

The American people who have been following these hearings are by now, or should be if they aren't, qualified attorneys and certainly, experts in Senatorial procedure.

It is wondered how long was required for Mr. Welch's tears to dry?

James Sparks And The Right To Work Bill

Fortunately for the people of this state, the Louisiana Senate voted in favor of the bill which will allow people to be gainfully employed whether or not they belong to any union, or to any organization.

It did so under the most unusual and trying circumstances.

It was reported that the Senators were badgered and browbeaten by numerous union "howlers" who made it a point to stand in the "galleries" and shout at the lawmakers. Unfortunately, this diatribe, or series of diatribes, was allowed to exist by the leader of the Senate, Lieutenant Governor Barham, who should have immediately ordered them out of the chamber.

It is the duty of the Lieutenant Governor to insure orderliness at these meetings of the Senate.

To the everlasting credit of Senator James Sparks, he voted in favor of the bill which after all, only guarantees the spirit of the Constitution of the United States.

For his astute and courageous vote, it was erroneously reported that certain sources in this area were attempting to circulate a "recall petition." Such would be an attempt to censure a man who is merely attempting to support one of the basic premises of the Federal Constitution.

The people of this nation are unfortunately becoming used to various forms of pressure. They have seen the name of the State of Louisiana besmirched by the disaster at Elizabeth which could either have been avoided or ended, the culprits on both sides fined and given stiff jail sentences by the state government.

They have seen the individual workers badgered and forced into organizations against their wills and they have seen other workers attempting to make an honest living, made to join an organization, to pay dues out of their hard earned money to support union bosses, who ride in sleek automobiles, dress their wives in fur adornments and accrue great bank accounts so that politicians might be bought to ruin just such proposals as these.

They have seen these leaders club other smaller organizations into submission and even attempt to change the economic system of American life.

They have seen the effect of these bosses on the political structure of the nation, warping, twisting and destroying the effect of the Republican system of government.

They have seen banal, craven, miserable politicians standing by, feeding at this troth while courageous people had their constitutional rights usurped, their places of business picketed because they liked or disliked some premise of a union edict.

This newspaper is the first to state that thirty years ago, the unions, nearly all of them, had a "gripe." They should have been granted certain prerogatives, but now, they have taken the law into their own hands.

The people, workers, businessmen and every single citizen of this nation are coming to realize that on either side, there is danger. When the pendulum swings too far in either direction, some suffer.

The American worker is beginning to realize that he is not a "little man," a member of the "common herd" as Franklin Roosevelt used to say, but he is an individual citizen of this nation supposedly as good as the next man. It is for this basic premise that Senator Sparks and some of his colleagues voted last week.

The California Elections

The people of California have voted in as Democrat nominees two individuals who will be at best, "no credit" to the Congress. Jimmy ("Two Loves Have I") Roosevelt was nominated on the Democrat ticket from Los Angeles and Rep. Condon, the security risk from another section of the "Golden" (now somewhat tarnished bronze) state was also nominated on the same ticket.

The reader will remember that Mr. Roosevelt's wife sued for divorce revealing that Jimmy was somewhat involved in love affairs. A letter written by the former marine verified that fact. There are some who believe in light of this letter, that Roosevelt will make a strong congressman.

Condon was denied permission to enter the Los Alamos Atom Works because he was reportedly a security risk. There was a curious exchange of heated words between Roosevelt and the Mitchell Democrat Committee and between Condon and Mitchell. Mitchell, acting as leader of the National Democrat party, denounced both Roosevelt and Condon.

There are those astute politicians who immediately saw in that denunciation, a boost for both men. They knew that many California voters would resent outside interference in their elections. Both men have won and many predictions have come true. Other interests in the sincerity of Mitchell's denunciation are "popping to light."

There are those who see in the California elections, a terrible sign of the moral times.

It appears, as this paper has stated before, that the key to getting elected is to become famous, no matter to what endeavor one must go to arrive at that state of being.

Joint Resolution

Editor, Morning World:

Whereas, the Supreme Court of the United States has decreed that all people of these United States shall co-mingle and associate with the other regardless of feelings, beliefs, degrees of culture, morals, education and personal habits; and

Whereas, there exists a group of, citizens in Louisiana who peculiarly believe that they do not desire to co-mingle and fraternize with each and every other person living within this State, and who, in said belief, are obviously dangerous persons and are a threat to the peace and tranquility of the State; and

Editor, Morning World:

Would you please print my letter for the benefit of your readers?

By now, everyone must know that the bill to license chiropractors was defeated in one of these "bathroom committees" without being given a chance for a House vote, in the Louisiana Legislature. This action by the committee, which was designated to study and present this bill to the House of Representatives, was a disgrace to the people of this state. It is my intention to bring out the facts of this gross miscarriage of justice by a small minority group of so-called lawmakers who had no right to decide the merits of this case among themselves, and certainly this act was not representative of the good people of Louisiana.

Those of you who were not among the hundreds gathered in the House chambers to witness this exhibition missed a wonderful show. Medical doctors, leaving their hospitals, the patients at their offices, etc., parading up and down the aisles with their arms around the various members of the legislature, putting on the pressure to defeat the bill to license chiropractors in the State of Louisiana.

I notice in the Shreveport paper that two chiropractors of the Shreveport area have been arrested and fined for 'practising medicine." I wish to state, as a layman of the International Chiropractic Association, that this charge within itself is false and malicious. There seems to be no law against the practise of "chiropractic science," but medical doctors, learning of the results from these treatments, are becoming alarmed and would like to have them either in jail or embarrassed until they are forced to leave this state. If there is a technicality in the law which could be construed as illegal for chiropractors to practise, then it is time for the law to be changed, in order that we in Louisiana can choose our own type of treatments - doctors of our choice, as they do in most other states. Let me make one thing clear to those who are interested. Chiropractors do not practice medicine.

I suggest that we, the people of Louisiana, are intelligent enough to choose our doctors. If we need a medical doctor, we will call him. We will likewise call on our chiropractor when we feel like we need him, or shall we permit medical doctors to hold a monopoly on our very lives? I say we will not!

I trust that this fair and unbiased letter will throw some light on the fight for and against chiropractic in Louisiana.

"Old Bedford" at the age of 40 enlisted in the Confederate Army as a buck private; but by sheer military genius rose to the rank of Lieutenant General in four years of sweat and blood.

General Forrest's record as a Commander was well nigh perfect. He never lost a battle when in command. All his losses were sustained while under orders of what he contemptously called a "West Pinter." He once told his superior General Stephen D. Lee, who engaged the enemy contrary to his (Forrest's) advice, and was soundly thrashed, "If I knew as much West Pint tactic as you, the Yankees would whip hell out of me every day."

The fact isn't well known, but the cities of Monroe, Shreveport and Alexandria are indebted to General Forrest to the extent that they did not encounter the same fate as Atlanta. When General Sherman made plans for his march to Atlanta and the Sea he also made plans to send 10,000 troops down through the Yazoo Valley, and destroy that bread basket of the Confederacy while a like number were to enter Red River and move on to Shreveport, a like number was to cross over into northeast Louisiana to Monroe and "make the people pay dearly for federal boats captured or destroyed". That these plans never reached the stage of fruition is due entirely to the genius of General Forrest. At every attempt to carry out the instructions of 'Cump" General Forrest swarmed around the would-be despoilers and cut their communications and destroyed or captured their supply trains which necessitated a rapid retreat back to the haven of Memphis. Orphanage In Korea

Suwon, Korea

Editor, Morning World:

I am writing to you as a former resident of the Monroe area, now stationed with the 51st fighter interceptor wing in Korea. This is an open letter to your fine newspaper, and to the people of Monroe and the surrounding areas, some who I know and others that I have never met.

It is an appeal, a sincere plea from a serviceman to enlist your support, not for myself or the men of our group, but for the needy children of Korea who have suffered from years of terrible wars.

Many units here in Korea have undertaken the sponsorship of orphanages in this torn country, in an attempt to give these little tots a bit of love and care that has always been the heritage of our own children back home. No one could be more deserving, no one more appreciative, than these youngsters who have been separated from their families, these tiny children who have seen armies march back and forth across their country, in years of fighting and destruction.

Men of the air base group here at the 51st fighter interceptor wing have decided to play "Dad" to 96 little tots living at the Saint Peter's Orphanage in the nearby town of Suwon, Korea. This is an Episcopal orphanage supervised by Sister Phoebe, a gentle Korean lady of the church with admirable pride in her call in life. Even with her great care, these little boys and girls age six months to eighteen years, have little or nothing but a bare floor to sleep on, and scanty clothes to wear. Many have no shoes, and their clothes have been patched so many times they look like quilted dolls. The food they eat is pungent mixture of greens and meats that is anything but pleasant to the America. With all these hardships they never complain, but are so thankful for any care and kindness they receive.

Sir, would you help us in this very important project by asking our people of Monroe to join assisting these needy little children.

I am not asking for money, but only old clothing, shoes, perhaps a few cast off toys to give them hours of pleasure, and school supplies such as crayons, pencils and coloring books. They will be so happy to know people in the United States are thinking of them. These children live under conditions even more pathetic than the most unfortunate child back home.

These also are the children who we will look toward in years to come, to be the stalwarts of democracy in the far east; our hope against a Communist Asia.

Any assistance you may give will be greatly appreciated. If anyone in Monroe would like to send a box, please send it to me in care of:

McCarthy — Two Things In Common

Rayville, La.

Editor, Morning World,

On June 6 1954 there appeared in this paper two articles each praising Senator McCarthy and condeming Senator Symington, a Democratic member of McCarthy's subcommittee.

The authors of the said articles had two things in common. First, they were fanatic about McCarthy. Second, they left the impression that the American people had to choose one of the two evils, McCarthyism or communism.

The supporters of Wisconsin's junior senator are endeavoring to make the people believe that Senator McCarthy and Roy Cohn are the only two human beings in the United States capable of searching out and exposing traitors, when actually there are many loyal organizations engaged in this sort of work. These organizations use Democratic methods in searching out and exposing Communists.

It has been argued by a few McCarthy advocates that Senator Symington should not be allowed to sit as a judge or jury on the committee trying the McCarthy versus Army case. If the senators serving on the committee are to be discharged from that case because of their convictions in regard to the matter, should not they all be discharged immediately?

Every vote of importance taken by the committee has followed the party line three to four with the Republicans favoring McCarthy and the Democrats holding for the army. In the light of these existing facts, one can predict with accuracy the outcome of this trial.

The gentlemen spoke of a "stacked deck" but on the base of the previous voting record of the committee it would appear to me that Stevens and not McCarthy faces a "stacked deck."

Editorials

The Far East Situation

Last week, several serious charges were made against the administration which were denied by the White House and by the State Department. The first charge concerned the Genocide Pact which this newspaper has frequently discussed. The charge was that the executive department has secretly passed on that grisly piece of destruction.

It was specifically charged that the Pact had been signed by secret executive agreement. This was immediately denied by the White House. For the record, the Monroe Morning World would like to reprint a bulletin issued by the "United Nations" on March First of this year. It was "U. N." bulletin Number Five, page number 196:

"They point to the convention on Genocide which though lacking a federal clause, has been signed by Brazil, Canada, Mexico, Yugoslavia, India, Pakistan and the United States. Inclusion of a Federal State clause they say, would destroy the universality of the covenant."

Was this thing, this destroyer of American sovereignty signed? The executive department should tell of this immediately. Someone is guilty of extreme prevarication. The White House, or the "U. N."

The second specific charge was that the United States was deliberately sabotaging the Chinese Nationalists as a force against the Communists. The retort of the State Department was apparently as follows: "United States' policy is to recognize and support the Chinese Nationalist leader and this policy is expressed in both economic and military assistance." The administration double talk is enough to make the average person wonder as to the accuracy of the Department of State. (As if this accuracy was not already open to question).

The policy of the United States as has been described on numerous occasions by the Morning World is simply this: to "endure" Chiang Kai-shek, to send him a few older type jet fighter type aircraft and to arm him so that he might or might not be able to protect his own island of Formosa.

The policy of the American State Department has not been changed under the present administration. It is still governed by the interests of the British government which decrees that Chiang is to be hobbled. General Claire Chennault has affirmed this on several occasions to the Morning World.

This newspaper does not always agree with the clown Kefauver, but he made a truthful statement concerning the Indo-China problem when he asserted that the administration is edging this nation into the war. The Far Eastern situation has deteriorated into a regular debacle. The French, refusing to allow complete and unabridged independence for the Indo-Chinese people, have forced this nation into a support of imperialism. The Communists are sweeping the field.

The Eisenhower State Department which is a varnished edition of the Acheson department, refuses to even consider the effect of use of Chinese National troops. It refuses to arm these troops offensively. It is time for the facts to come out. The day might conceivably still be saved if the administration would do several things.

First; demand that the French government give immediate and complete freedom to the three states of Cambodia, Viet Nam and Laos. Second; grant immediately new military aid of an offensive nature to the Chinese Nationalist government and prepare Chinese government troops to take on the fighting either in South China or in Indo-China. Third; throw off immediately all British influence. It is time that the British follow the United States in the fight for freedom instead of the United States following the British in an aura of appeasement. Fourth; immediately throw off the shackles binding the U. S. to the "United Nations Military Command." Unless this happens, there will be no independent action taken. Fifth; immediately discount the suggestions made by George Catlett (With one stroke of a pen, I've disarmed Chiang) Marshall who has his own personal British favoring axes to grind.

If these "ifs" are followed (they are the consensus of opinions of three military leaders very familiar to every American) perhaps some degree of stability can be restored to a fast evaporating situation.

On an overall basis, the administration must arm its real allies to the teeth. Syngman Rhee whether you like him or not, should be armed. Chiang should be armed and prepared for action. The Philippine government should be readied for anything as trouble must soon break out there if Indo-China falls.

At home, several serious changes must be put into effect. The State Department must be cleansed of the Socialists and the pro-Communists, the party members and the fellow travelers. Until the house is clean in the national capital, it will be impossible to deal effectively with Communist expansion overseas.

The administration must cease the jocular references which indicate that it has "captured the initiative from the Communists" as this is sheer and idiotic prevarication undone on every single front by Communist action.

The strong pro-British influence in the national administration must be immediately eliminated. It is time for this government to separate the "sheep from the goats." Unless the "free" nations are ready and willing to support the battle against that which will eventually destroy them all, there can be no concrete action.

The statements made last week against the administration are true in every phase. They should have been explained, they should have been admitted and action taken to correct the situation.

Fellow Americans, on this Sunday morning, the sands of time are growing sparse for the freedom of this and many other nations. The effect of Communist and Socialist propaganda has been effective. It has served to rend the nation down the center. The danger to you is great. In fact, it is desperate. Unless you (who in the final analysis, pay the expenses of the government) take action and demand that your money at least be used to protect you and those whom you love, this nation will go to destruction.

On every front, the Communists are sweeping the field.

Molotov has written his own ticket at Geneva and the French are desperately hurrying to "grab" it.

The time is growing short.

Think it over.

West Carroll Parish

An economy evaluation of West Carroll parish today shows that the northeast area is on a sound basis both in reference to agriculture and business.

Large areas are devoted to agriculture and cattle displays, advanced and up-to-date methods of farming which measure up to any parish in the state. Principal crops today are cotton, corn, sweet potatoes, hay, oats and soybeans. In the past few years a rapid expansion of the livestock industry has placed in the hands of the citizenry a new field of economy.

The shift from cotton towards livestock, pasture and grain is believed to be a permanent change in the economic production of the parish. The majority of the farmers are aware that cattle, pasture and grains are as good a method of earning a livelihood as cotton, and in many instances, better.

A claim to a romantic past is also a heritage of West Carroll. The escapades of the James Brothers and Quantrelle's guerillas furnish tales that are repeated as much today as they were in the past. Many of the older citizens recite tales verbatim as to those their fathers told them as youngsters.

Oak Grove is the parish seat of West Carroll and is a progressive and industrious town. As the center of activity for the parish Oak Grove boasts many and varied stores as well as beautifully religious structures and ample recreational facilities for the townspeople.

Looking forward to the future West Carroll parish expects to measure up with any of her sister parishes in whatever the future holds.

Welch's Crocodile Tears

Counsel for the Army, Joseph Welch is a most astute and excellent attorney. In fact, his ability as a trial lawyer is quite amazing. However, he somewhat overplayed his hand in Wednesday's outburst of tears shed supposedly for a member of his law firm who was found to be a member of the "National Lawyer's Guild." The Guild has long been recognized as the legal bulwark of the Socialists and the Communists.

In any case, Welch was attempting to "get" Counsel Roy Cohn when the Wisconsin Senator, McCarthy, interrupted him to give the facts about Fred Fisher, a young attorney in Welch's firm.

Realizing that the timing was just right, Welch seized the opportunity, turned on the tears for all the "bleeders" and denounced the Senator in severe terms. Mr. Welch questioned the Senator's decency. That is quite amazing in that Mr. Welch was only minutes prior to this impassioned outburst, attempting to demoralize the record of Private Schine. He had in the recent past, attempted to destroy the records of Frank Carr and Roy Cohn.

His job is to ruin Senator McCarthy.

Unfortunately, his tears fooled many people not used to the sometimes dramatic actions of trial attorneys who must put every form of acting ability to the front if they are to successfully terminate a case.

Mr. Welch's histronics would have done justice to the late John Barrymore or maybe even Rudolf Valentino. They were timed to perfection and demonstrated clearly that Joseph Welch is a most excellent attorney.

As for Fred Fisher, he must have certainly known about the record of the national guild. Why did he remain a member so long after his graduation from the American Citadel of Marxism, Harvard University? McCarthy, as a judge, immediately recognized Welch's outcries for what they were and asked the Counsel whether or not he was telling the truth. No answer, but more tears.

The American people who have been following these hearings are by now, or should be if they aren't, qualified attorneys and certainly, experts in Senatorial procedure.

It is wondered how long was required for Mr. Welch's tears to dry?

James Sparks And The Right To Work Bill

Fortunately for the people of this state, the Louisiana Senate voted in favor of the bill which will allow people to be gainfully employed whether or not they belong to any union, or to any organization.

It did so under the most unusual and trying circumstances.

It was reported that the Senators were badgered and browbeaten by numerous union "howlers" who made it a point to stand in the "galleries" and shout at the lawmakers. Unfortunately, this diatribe, or series of diatribes, was allowed to exist by the leader of the Senate, Lieutenant Governor Barham, who should have immediately ordered them out of the chamber.

It is the duty of the Lieutenant Governor to insure orderliness at these meetings of the Senate.

To the everlasting credit of Senator James Sparks, he voted in favor of the bill which after all, only guarantees the spirit of the Constitution of the United States.

For his astute and courageous vote, it was erroneously reported that certain sources in this area were attempting to circulate a "recall petition." Such would be an attempt to censure a man who is merely attempting to support one of the basic premises of the Federal Constitution.

The people of this nation are unfortunately becoming used to various forms of pressure. They have seen the name of the State of Louisiana besmirched by the disaster at Elizabeth which could either have been avoided or ended, the culprits on both sides fined and given stiff jail sentences by the state government.

They have seen the individual workers badgered and forced into organizations against their wills and they have seen other workers attempting to make an honest living, made to join an organization, to pay dues out of their hard earned money to support union bosses, who ride in sleek automobiles, dress their wives in fur adornments and accrue great bank accounts so that politicians might be bought to ruin just such proposals as these.

They have seen these leaders club other smaller organizations into submission and even attempt to change the economic system of American life.

They have seen the effect of these bosses on the political structure of the nation, warping, twisting and destroying the effect of the Republican system of government.

They have seen banal, craven, miserable politicians standing by, feeding at this troth while courageous people had their constitutional rights usurped, their places of business picketed because they liked or disliked some premise of a union edict.

This newspaper is the first to state that thirty years ago, the unions, nearly all of them, had a "gripe." They should have been granted certain prerogatives, but now, they have taken the law into their own hands.

The people, workers, businessmen and every single citizen of this nation are coming to realize that on either side, there is danger. When the pendulum swings too far in either direction, some suffer.

The American worker is beginning to realize that he is not a "little man," a member of the "common herd" as Franklin Roosevelt used to say, but he is an individual citizen of this nation supposedly as good as the next man. It is for this basic premise that Senator Sparks and some of his colleagues voted last week.

The California Elections

The people of California have voted in as Democrat nominees two individuals who will be at best, "no credit" to the Congress. Jimmy ("Two Loves Have I") Roosevelt was nominated on the Democrat ticket from Los Angeles and Rep. Condon, the security risk from another section of the "Golden" (now somewhat tarnished bronze) state was also nominated on the same ticket.

The reader will remember that Mr. Roosevelt's wife sued for divorce revealing that Jimmy was somewhat involved in love affairs. A letter written by the former marine verified that fact. There are some who believe in light of this letter, that Roosevelt will make a strong congressman.

Condon was denied permission to enter the Los Alamos Atom Works because he was reportedly a security risk. There was a curious exchange of heated words between Roosevelt and the Mitchell Democrat Committee and between Condon and Mitchell. Mitchell, acting as leader of the National Democrat party, denounced both Roosevelt and Condon.

There are those astute politicians who immediately saw in that denunciation, a boost for both men. They knew that many California voters would resent outside interference in their elections. Both men have won and many predictions have come true. Other interests in the sincerity of Mitchell's denunciation are "popping to light."

There are those who see in the California elections, a terrible sign of the moral times.

It appears, as this paper has stated before, that the key to getting elected is to become famous, no matter to what endeavor one must go to arrive at that state of being.

Editor, Morning World:

I am writing to you as a former resident of the Monroe area, now stationed with the 51st fighter interceptor wing in Korea. This is an open letter to your fine newspaper, and to the people of Monroe and the surrounding areas, some who I know and others that I have never met.

It is an appeal, a sincere plea from a serviceman to enlist your support, not for myself or the men of our group, but for the needy children of Korea who have suffered from years of terrible wars.

Many units here in Korea have undertaken the sponsorship of orphanages in this torn country, in an attempt to give these little tots a bit of love and care that has always been the heritage of our own children back home. No one could be more deserving, no one more appreciative, than these youngsters who have been separated from their families, these tiny children who have seen armies march back and forth across their country, in years of fighting and destruction.

Men of the air base group here at the 51st fighter interceptor wing have decided to play "Dad" to 96 little tots living at the Saint Peter's Orphanage in the nearby town of Suwon, Korea. This is an Episcopal orphanage supervised by Sister Phoebe, a gentle Korean lady of the church with admirable pride in her call in life. Even with her great care, these little boys and girls age six months to eighteen years, have little or nothing but a bare floor to sleep on, and scanty clothes to wear. Many have no shoes, and their clothes have been patched so many times they look like quilted dolls. The food they eat is pungent mixture of greens and meats that is anything but pleasant to the America. With all these hardships they never complain, but are so thankful for any care and kindness they receive.

Sir, would you help us in this very important project by asking our people of Monroe to join assisting these needy little children. I am not asking for money, but only old clothing, shoes, perhaps a few cast off toys to give them hours of pleasure, and school supplies such as crayons, pencils and coloring books. They will be so happy to know people in the United States are thinking of them. These children live under conditions even more pathetic than the most unfortunate child back home.

These also are the children who we will look toward in years to come, to be the stalwarts of democracy in the far east; our hope against a Communist Asia.

Any assistance you may give will be greatly appreciated. If anyone in Monroe would like to send a box, please send it to me in care of:

McCarthy — Two Things In Common

Rayville, La.

Editor, Morning World,

On June 6 1954 there appeared in this paper two articles each praising Senator McCarthy and condeming Senator Symington, a Democratic member of McCarthy's subcommittee.

The authors of the said articles had two things in common. First, they were fanatic about McCarthy. Second, they left the impression that the American people had to choose one of the two evils, McCarthyism or communism.

The supporters of Wisconsin's junior senator are endeavoring to make the people believe that Senator McCarthy and Roy Cohn are the only two human beings in the United States capable of searching out and exposing traitors, when actually there are many loyal organizations engaged in this sort of work. These organizations use Democratic methods in searching out and exposing Communists.

It has been argued by a few McCarthy advocates that Senator Symington should not be allowed to sit as a judge or jury on the committee trying the McCarthy versus Army case. If the senators serving on the committee are to be discharged from that case because of their convictions in regard to the matter, should not they all be discharged immediately?

Every vote of importance taken by the committee has followed the party line three to four with the Republicans favoring McCarthy and the Democrats holding for the army. In the light of these existing facts, one can predict with accuracy the outcome of this trial.

The gentlemen spoke of a "stacked deck" but on the base of the previous voting record of the committee it would appear to me that Stevens and not McCarthy faces a "stacked deck."

Sherman Adams' Talk Sets Tongues To Wagging In Capital

Whether Ike Will Run Again Is Big Question

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Will President Eisenhower run again in 1956?

Would the election of a Democratic congress this November settle it as far as he is concerned?

What two other "certain conditions" might make the President decide to retire when his first term is up?

These are some of the intriguing questions left in the wake of a three-day meeting of district chairmen of the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee.

Eisenhower addressed the opening session Thursday with a call for "less political fission and more political fusion" behind his legislative program.

But the political Geiger counters didn't really go into action until last night when Eisenhower's top White House aide, Sherman Adams, told the gathering in an off-the-cuff talk that he could think of "certain conditions" that might make the President's farm at Gettysburg, Pa., "an attractive place to retire to."

One of these conditions, Adams said, would be the loss of congressional control to the Democrats this year. This was one of three conditions he had in mind, Adams said. What the others were he left to the imagination.

Adams, who is about as close to the President as anyone in the chief executive's official family, later told reporters: "I hope you won't quote me as saying the President won't run again."

Some politicians speculated Adams was simply giving a "pep" talk to the citizens group that worked for Eisenhower's election in 1952 and reformed this year for the congressional campaign.

In support of this theory they pointed out that Adams scoffed at critics who say the President lacks "leadership, decisiveness and positiveness," and said the administration has learned some lessons from which it is going to profit.

Also, they recalled House Speaker Martin's prediction last month that "the President will run again whether he wants to or not."

As the citizens group broke up, Co-Chairman James L. Murphy commented:

"Many said Eisenhower would not come back from Paris (in 1952) to run," he told a reporter. "I am confident, as are all Citizens for Eisenhower, that the President will do in 1956 what he believes is his duty and is necessary to do."

Veterans Advised To Continue Americanism

In addresses before joint sessions of the VFW and its auxiliary yesterday morning at encampment headquarters in the Virginia hotel, past national Commander in Chief Charles Ralls, department Chaplain Bernard Boudreau, and Lt. Gov. C. E. Barham each harked to the records of the veterans group and challenged its membership to "show the people of Louisiana what their veterans can and will do for the country."

Ralls, Seattle attorney and longtime figure in VFW work, attacked recent top-level attempts to "water down" the work of investigating committees in their search for un-American activities in government. The former Marine officer warned of the Communist plot in Korea and sharply scored the "two-faced diplomacy" of the US in the Far East ern situation.

Boudreau, speaking at 11 a.m., cited the civic and benevolent programs of the VFW and urged continuation of the projects. He referred to the relief, blood-bank, and youth work traditional to the organization.

"And always," the chaplain declared, "we must never back down anywhere before the Reds."

A former army chaplain, Boudreaux told of watching "first hand" the fall of China "by appeasement to the Communists."

"We must always demonstrate that the VFW organization is proud of its former service, and stands ready to serve again now and in the future . . . to the very last drop of its blood."

Barham devoted the major portion of his 1:30 address to outlining the financial programs of Louisiana, and explained the increased expenditures and income of the state.

'Quarantine' Of Guatemala Gets Latin Backing

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Washington diplomats said today widespread Communist - fomented disorders throughout Latin America, plus a secret U.S. State Department report on Communist tactics in Guatemala, have helped line up hemisphere support for a U.S. move to quarantine the Central American Red stronghold.

American informants predicted this country would ask Monday, at a meeting of the Council of the Organization of American States here, that united action against Guatemala be considered at the Montevideo, Uruguay, conference of foreign ministeers scheduled to take place about July 1.

U.S.-proposed resolutions aimed at preventing the Soviets from shipping more arms to Guatemala and stopping Guatemala from stirring up trouble in other Central American countries were reported calling for:

1. Announcement that hereafter any ships carrying war weapons for Guatemala will be intercepted and the cargo seized.

2. Creation of a five-nation watchdog commission — of which the United States would be a member - to enforce the ship-interception resolution and keep an eye on Communist activities in Guatemala.

Londoners Give Tuneful Farewell To Billy Graham

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—American Evangelist Billy Graham, who has completed a three-months religious crusade here in which he spoke to more than two million persons, was given a tuneful sendoff from Britain today.

A crowd of 3,000 jammed St. Pancras railway station where he caught a train to start his journey to Sweden. On catching sight of the Evangelist, bronzed after a holiday in Scotland, the persons who had come to say goodbye started singing, "God be with you till we meet again."

A large force of police struggled to keep what has become known here as a typical "Billy Graham crowd" in control. Many struggled up for a handclasp.

Graham will hold Evangelistic meetings in Stockholm and at Helsinki, Copenhagen, Amsterdam, Duesseldorf, Berlin and Paris before sailing for the United States from Cherbourg on the Queen Mary July 1.

His last word to Londoners:

"Read your bibles and pray. Exemplify the life of Christ and attend church faithfully and regularly. A great spiritual awakening is taking place in this country, which we have learned to love. I hope to come back, maybe next year."

Small Business Big In America, Speaker Asserts

JACKSON, Miss., June 12 (AP) — A Small Business Administration regional director today told Mississippi's fourth annual Small Business Clinic that small business comprises 95 per cent of the nation's economy.

The speaker, Dwight Entwistle of Atlanta, addressed the luncheon meeting. His region is made up of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Entwistle said the SBA is the stabilizer of the nation's economy. It aids small businesses with financial problems but not primarily with loans.

Though the SBA will loan from $2,500 to $300,000, he said, its main objective is advice without lending. If the business must borrow, he added, the SBA suggests private sources first.

Geneva Failure Puts Burden On President Rhee

SEOUL, June 12—UP—The apparent failure of the Korean peace talks in Geneva Saturday shifted back to South Korean President Syngman Rhee the choice of war or peace in a situation that still could touch off World War III.

Most high American officials in Korea felt that Rhee would not attempt to reopen the Korean fighting alone, informed sources reported. He repeatedly has been warned that he would not be supported by the United States and the United Nations allies in such a move.

Washington, through official delegations, shows Rhee the advantages of peace and reconstruction in South Korea and the folly of war on the doorstep of Red China.

But there is little confidence among America official circles that Rhee would overlook any opportunity for converting a truceline "incident" into a renewal of the war, with the Americans trapped into fighting.

The Republic of Korea army could become engaged in a clash and report to Eighth Army headquarters that the Reds had attacked.

In such a situation the Eighth Army would not dare waste much time in attempting to find out who fired the first shot.

"If the shooting starts at the front," a high American officer recently remarked to a group of newsmen, "how can we sit back and attempt to decide who was to blame?"

"You can't take that kind of question into a court for judicial decision on the spot," he said. "When the shooting starts, you either shoot back or run away. Can we run away?"

The officer was emphasizing the difficulty of carrying out U.S. policy denying Rhee any support if he starts the fighting again.

Editorial Writer Warns VFW About Inroads Of 'Isms'

Urging the delegates to turn from "the inroads of foreign isms—particularly marxism and internationism —to the real Americanism," James L. Ewing, III, editorial writer for the Monroe News-Star — World, told the 24th annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars the time is short for those who "still believe in 'the America of old' to take a definite stand." Ewing was the principal speaker at the morning session of the convention Saturday.

The speaker outlined briefly the history of the growth of foreign isms within the United States and assailed what he termed an attempt from within to destroy this nation for the benefit of a foreign ideology. He said the charger of the United Nations, which he bitterly assailed, was designed so as to "digest" the United States as a free and soverign nation, placing the wealth and people of this nation into the hands of internationalists.

Ewing commended the stand of some organizations which have come out in favor of taking powers from the present UN charter in so far as it may dominate the federal Constitution. Only through this means, that of the people themselves acting, will those in Washington take a definite stand towards the return of "true Americanism," he said.

Half-Million Hindus To Bathe In Lakes

NEW DELHI, India, June 12 (AP)—A half million Hindu pilgrims will bathe for about an hour June 30 in the sacred Lakes of Kurukshetra, 80 miles north of New Delhi.

Their immersion will coincide with a 59-minute partial solar eclipse. Kurukshetra is the traditional site of a war where righteousness triumphed over evil. The battle is symbolized at each eclipse by the struggle of the sun against the "evil" shadow of the moon.

WINNSBORO, June 12 (Special) —Sheriff Hiram B. Waller said Claude Rhone is being held in the Franklin Parish jail, charged with drunken driving and J. M. Slade, Jr., is being held on charge of being drunk and disorderly. No bond has been set, Waller said. Both men are from Baskin.

The arrests were made by deputy Sheriffs J. D. Busby and Willie Sullivan.

Scores Of Gadgets Used To Explore Bottom Of Sea In Oil Exploration

LOS ANGELES, June 12 (AP)—If barracudas, manta rays and sharks aren't yet in the employ of offshore oil explorers, it won't be for lack of ingenuity on the part of the oil hunters.

With the re-opening of the tidelands to the states, knowledge of sub-sea oil deposits has become important to oil firms. The oil industry has estimated the tidelands may contain as much as 40 billion barrels of oil.

Possibly the most elementary is the human diver. A group called diving consultants is composed mainly of former Scripps Oceanography Institute students.

The divers, fitted with underwater breathing equipment, descend to certain depths, measure the strikes and dips of the formations and return to the surface with samples of the ocean floor.

A drop sampler is also used. It runs off a wire line and has a dart at the end which grabs material from the floor. The wire is reeled back, the dart is extracted and the explorer can examine the evidence.

At the same time the dart grabs the ocean floor sample, a camera measures the bearing and inclination so the oil hunters can get a true picture of the underwater formation.

Jetting devices, using a string of 3½-inch drill pipes, were developed in 1950. One type has a stainless steel collar and a bit on the bottom. Suspended to the top of the drill pipe is a coring dart.

Sea water is pumped through the pipe, emerges from the bit in a jet and the pipe is lowered and raised like a cable tool. The action washes away the surface deposits, or over-burden, to reach the actual formation.

The coring dart is released, driven into the ocean floor by the velocity of the sea water being pumped. A surveying camera also records the strike and dip in the beds.

Jetting has been done in Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, as well as off the California coast.

A sampling tool only two years old is the miniature drilling rig, driven by a 25-horsepower machine. The rig is secured to a ship anchored in the exploration area and can go to depths of 200 to 400 feet.

Seismometers have been used too in off-shore explorations the past five years. Charges of black powder are shot off from a level about six feet below the surface. The seismometers, or electronic surveying devices, then measure the sound waves which bounce off the ocean floor.

Since sound waves rebound faster from certain rocks than others, the system allows the explorer to gain an accurate picture of the ocean floor.

Oil men maintain that the powder does not damage marine life or onshore property. The cost averages more than $5,000 a day for California offshore seismic operations. The surveys may last three or four weeks, or up to three months.

Nearly every California oil company has explored the sea at one time or another. What have they found? That's top secret.

To prevent accidents when using sharp knives in the kitchen, always cut away from you.

Language Student Shoots And Blasts Self To Death

ST. LOUIS, June 12 —UP—Police said Harold Sigoloff, 30-year-old language student, apparently lit the fuse of several sticks of dynamite, shot himself in the head and then was blown to bits early Saturday.

The explosion in Sigoloff's hotel room rocked a wide area of west St. Louis. Police said he had registered at the hotel last week under an assumed name.

Sigoloff was the son of a St. Louis attorney. He had served in the Air Force, and undertook a study of the Chinese language while he was stationed in California. Since the first of the year, he had kept another hotel room in mid-town St. Louis where police found several more sticks of dynamite.

Police said the explosion apparently occurred in Sigoloff's bed. A .38-caliber revolver with one spent cartridge was found in the room.

Californians In Himalayas Fail To Climb Peak

NEW DELHI, India, June 12 (AP)—Reports from the Himalayas said today a California expedition has failed in its attempt to climb 27,790-foot Mt. Makalu.

Sherpas traveling from the Makalu region to Jugbani brought this report to Jugbani Thursday. Mountaineering sources in Jugbani, which is just across the Nepalese border in India, relayed the word to New Delhi.

There has been no direct news from the California expedition since May 19, when the team leader, Dr. William Siri, announced the final assault was about to get under way.

The Sherpas' report said the Americans failed to reach the top of the world's fourth highest peak because they were unable to find a passable route to the upper levels.

They said they understood the Californians were back at the 16,-100-foot base camp on Barun Glacier, packing their gear and getting ready to trek out.

In his last direct report, Siri said the team expected to break base camp by June 10 and reach Jugbani or Biratnagar, Nepal, two weeks later.

Benson Counsels Milk Dealers To Use Advertising

HOT SPRINGS, Va., June 12—UP—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said Saturday it is "high time" agriculture fought for consumer attention and dollars with eye and taste appeal gimmicks used by other industries.

"I'm a little tired of watching other segments in the economy out-promote agriculture," he said. "It's time we started out-promoting some of our competitors."

Americans know about the "pause that refreshes," he said. Television viewers can tell you the beverage that "made Milwaukee famous." TV fight fans know the answer to the query, "what'll you have?"

"... They don't think about a delightfully refreshing cool glass of milk when they hear it," Benson said.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the American Plant Food Council, Benson also complained that women "spend more for beauty aids" than they do for milk.

"Now please understand, I'm all for beauty," Benson said. "I just happen to believe that a pint of milk a day is itself a mighty fundamental beauty aid."

Housing Rents Are Based On Family Income

Applications for occupancy in the projects may be made at the following locations: Building No. 41, Louis Lock Homes, Building No. 31, Carver Homes and Building No. 42, Foster Homes.

The applicant is asked to give the names of the members of his family, their birthdates and place of birth. The person making the application should be able to provide the authority with all information relative to employment and income of each member of the family. Veterans should bring their discharges to be witnessed.

Processing the application involves obtaining verification from the employer, Veteran's Administration, Welfare Department or any other source of income. When it has been determined the family is within the income limits, a home visit is made to verify the housing conditions of the family. Unsafe, insanitary or overcrowded housing conditions are factors that make the family eligible to live in the low-rent projects. When all information has been verified and it is found the applicant meets the occupancy requirements, space is assigned and the rent set at approximately 20% of the income. When a vacancy of the proper size and rent grade is available the applicant is requested to come to the management office and sign the lease.

Leases are made for one year, beginning the day the tenant moves in. The rent does not change during this period. Rents are payable in advance, on the first day of the month. A period of five days grace period is allowed. Once each year the tenant is re-examined to determine whether or not he is eligible to continue to occupy one of the low-rent units.

The units are constructed to meet the needs of people who cannot find decent housing at a price they can afford to pay. In order to maintain the low rent character of the projects the following maximum limits are established:

Family Composition	Earnings
Couple	$170.00 per month
Couple and one minor child	$195.00 per month
Couple and two minor children	$200.00 per month
Couple and three minor children	$225.00 per month
Couple and four minor children	$235.00 per month

Rents are based on the total family income and not on the size of the apartment. For example, a family of two adults could make up to $39.23 a week and be eligible. Such a family would be assigned a one-bedroom unit, with living room utility room, kitchen and bath. The rent would be $32.00 per month. Ranges and refrigerators, shades, curtain rods and work tables are furnished. Water is furnished and a generous allowance is given for electricity. The tenant pays his own gas bill.

A family of two adults and two minor children could make up to $46.92 a week. If one child were a boy of seven and other a girl of ten, the family would be assigned a three bedroom unit; the rent on this amount of income would be $36.00 a month. However, if this family's earnings were $39.23 a week the rent for the same size unit would be $29.00 a month.

A family of two adults and six or more children could make up to $58.46 a week and be eligible. The rent would be $39.00 a month, and the family would be assigned the largest size unit, a four bedroom apartment. If a family of this size earned only $39.23 a week, the rent would be $22.00 a month.

The lowest rent charged on the projects is $14.00 a month. A certain percentage of $14.00 tenants are taken, but in order to maintain financial solvency and reduce the amount of PHA Annual Contributions, the Authority must select tenants whose rents will bring the average up to about $26.00 a month.

At the present time there are 351 families on the projects and about 750 children.

Cotton Futures Recede In Tune With NY Stocks

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Cotton futures prices sashed back this week, in apparent sympathy with the sharp decline in the stock market.

Only the May delivery was able to push ahead of the previous week's close. In trading on the New York Cotton Exchange, the May contract finished out the period with a net gain of 20 cents a bale, while the other months were 10 cents to $1.60 a bale lower.

Concern over the Far Eastern situation had a slight bullish effect; some buying was stimulated by estimates in the trade that the coming 1954-55 season would see something of a boom in cotton exports.

The break in stock prices—the sharpest since the start of the Korean War—was probably the strongest single influence on the bearish side. Some selling was prompted by belief that any price support legislation farm bloc leaders might hammer through Congress this year would be likely to encounter strong opposition from the White House.

Bullish enthusiasm for the near-by July contract was tempered considerably by the continued high rate of cotton withdrawals from the government loan.

Of the 6,831,000 bales placed in the loan this season, farmers have repossessed 1,400,000 this spring, leaving a net stock of 5,431,000.

The New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau noted in its weekly review that any fears of a tight supply of free cotton have been pretty well dissipated by the rapid pace of withdrawals from the loan since early February.

Current indications, the bureau said, point to a free cotton carry-over of between 2,725,000 and 3,-350,000 bales vs. 82,000 the previous week and 30,000 a year earlier, raising the total for the season thus far to 3,335,000 bales against 2,-756,000 at the same time last year.

The bureau said an end-season total of at least 3,625,000 is indicated, and the figure will probably be higher.

If cut flowers are kept in a very warm room during the day, at night move them to a cool place.

Bill To Change Forestry Taxation Facing Fight In Legislature Of Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, June 12 (AP)—A tough fight lies ahead on a House bill to change forestry taxation. Proponents insist the move will expand reforestation, but foes claim parishes depending on forestry property taxes will suffer.

The constitutional bill by Rep. F. E. Hernandez of Vernon Parish ran into an unexpected roadblock in the House Thursday and was returned to the calendar.

The vote holding up action on the measure was 42-41.

Hernandez, with support, he said, of the Louisiana Assessors Association, the Police Jury Association, Louisiana Forestry Commission and others, proposes:

1. To exempt growing timber from property levies.

2. More uniform assessment for all lands on which timber grows.

3. Classifying, for assessment purposes, forest land into four categories: tidewater, cypress ,and, hardwood land, longleaf pine land and other pine land.

4. Changing the severance tax on timber, collected when the timber is cut, to 5 per cent of the average stumpage market value on pulpwood and 2.25 per cent on all other forms of timber. The change would yield about the same as present tax rates ranging from 15 cents on a standard cord of pulpwood to $1.50 on a thousand feet of red gum.

5. Returning 75 per cent of the severance tax, which totaled about $600,000 in 1953, to the timber-producing parishes.

Rep. W. T. Hodges Jr. of LaSalle Parish, demanded in floor debate if the bill wouldn't freeze the severance tax on timber in the constitution.

In answer, Hernandez argued "the bill provides a flat severance tax based on a percentage of the current value of timber at the time it is cut . . . I don't know of any other natural resource that is not taxed exactly the same way."

Proponents say the bill will encourage landholders to invest in reforestation with a new timber crop.

Rep. Willard Rambo of Grant Parish told the House the bill was "dangerous" because it would settle the tax in the constitution. He charged the legislation was motivated by big landowners.

But Rep. Horace Lynn Jones of Calcasieu Parish, who frequently has supported forestry matters in the legislature, denied such motives.

Proponents contend by allowing property assessments to be increased to include new timber value, reforestation is discouraged.

According to the public affairs research council, supporters claim:

1. Taxpayers other than forest landowners should share in the burden of additional taxes.

2. Timber at present is taxed every year while growing and is taxed again when cut.

3. Parishes will continue to receive the present level of revenues from property taxes on forest lands, since present assessments could be continued. Only future assessments are affected.

Opponents contend:

1. Parishes depending on property tax assessments for their major revenues would be limited to the present level of assessments.

2. Parish revenues from the severance tax would become uncertain since payment would depend on when the landowner decides to cut his timber.

3. The bill would limit the right of some parishes to incur debt since the constitution restricts the incurrence of debt by state subdivisions to 10 per cent of the assessed value of property.

Barrington Drive Named For Local Negro Of 1840's

Barrington Drive, on Foster Homes, was named for Richard Barrington, a Negro slave, who belonged to Solomon Downs, United States Senator from Monroe.

As was the custom in the 1840's, the master educated Barrington. For many years the Negro served as valet, secretary and accountant for Senator Downs. A diary kept by Barrington reveals many interesting items. On one occasion Barrington accompanied the Senator to Washington. A banquet was planned for Daniel Webster and we find "a barrel of whiskey and a barrel of oysters" on Barrington's shopping list.

When the slaves were freed, Barrington kept a dairy farm. His dairy was patronized by the leading white citizens of the day because of the cleanliness of the establishment and the quality of the products.

During the difficult times of Reconstruction, Richard Barrington became a leader in community affairs, and, unusual for that period, earned the respect of both the white and Negro people.

Richard Barrington never forgot his master, Solomon Downs. When the Senator died; Barrington had a monument set up in his honor inscribed "erected by his faithful servant, Richard Barrington".

The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe, in naming this project street for Richard Barrington honors a man who lived in a time of confusion and conflict. His ability to retain a sense of values, an understanding of his race and its place in the new pattern of free men instead of slaves is worthy of commendation.

Bill To Change Forestry Taxation Facing Fight In Legislature Of Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, June 12 (AP)—A tough fight lies ahead on a House bill to change forestry taxation. Proponents insist the move will expand reforestation, but foes claim parishes depending on forestry property taxes will suffer.

The constitutional bill by Rep. F. E. Hernandez of Vernon Parish ran into an unexpected roadblock in the House Thursday and was returned to the calendar.

The vote holding up action on the measure was 42-41.

Hernandez, with support, he said, of the Louisiana Assessors Association, the Police Jury Association, Louisiana Forestry Commission and others, proposes:

1. To exempt growing timber from property levies.

2. More uniform assessment for all lands on which timber grows.

3. Classifying, for assessment purposes, forest land into four categories: tidewater, cypress ,and, hardwood land, longleaf pine land and other pine land.

4. Changing the severance tax on timber, collected when the timber is cut, to 5 per cent of the average stumpage market value on pulpwood and 2.25 per cent on all other forms of timber. The change would yield about the same as present tax rates ranging from 15 cents on a standard cord of pulpwood to $1.50 on a thousand feet of red gum.

5. Returning 75 per cent of the severance tax, which totaled about $600,000 in 1953, to the timber-producing parishes.

Rep. W. T. Hodges Jr. of LaSalle Parish, demanded in floor debate if the bill wouldn't freeze the severance tax on timber in the constitution.

In answer, Hernandez argued "the bill provides a flat severance tax based on a percentage of the current value of timber at the time it is cut . . . I don't know of any other natural resource that is not taxed exactly the same way."

Proponents say the bill will encourage landholders to invest in reforestation with a new timber crop.

Rep. Willard Rambo of Grant Parish told the House the bill was "dangerous" because it would settle the tax in the constitution. He charged the legislation was motivated by big landowners.

But Rep. Horace Lynn Jones of Calcasieu Parish, who frequently has supported forestry matters in the legislature, denied such motives.

Proponents contend by allowing property assessments to be increased to include new timber value, reforestation is discouraged.

According to the public affairs research council, supporters claim:

1. Taxpayers other than forest landowners should share in the burden of additional taxes.

2. Timber at present is taxed every year while growing and is taxed again when cut.

3. Parishes will continue to receive the present level of revenues from property taxes on forest lands, since present assessments could be continued. Only future assessments are affected.

Opponents contend:

1. Parishes depending on property tax assessments for their major revenues would be limited to the present level of assessments.

2. Parish revenues from the severance tax would become uncertain since payment would depend on when the landowner decides to cut his timber.

3. The bill would limit the right of some parishes to incur debt since the constitution restricts the incurrence of debt by state subdivisions to 10 per cent of the assessed value of property.

Young American Doctor, Former Red, Is Seeking British Political Haven

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—A young American doctor who said he formerly belonged to the Communist party asked today to be allowed to stay in Britain as a political refugee. He said the British government has already turned him down and is trying to send him back to the United States.

Dr. Joseph H. Cort, a lecturer at Birmingham (England) University, announced at a news conference he was opposing efforts both of the U. S. Embassy and Britain's Home Office to send him home by the end of this month. If forced to return to America, he said in a prepared statement, he faced "lack of employment . . . loss of citizenship and five to 10 years in prison."

Cort, 26, said the American Embassy had accused him of leaving the United States to evade military service. He denied the charge but said if he went back he could be tried under this accusation and under the McCarran Immigration Act. Cort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boris Cort of Brookline, Mass., said he hoped to become a British citizen if allowed to remain here.

Cort, tall and bespectacled, said: "My own wish is to settle down quietly in the United Kingdom and to continue my scientific work. I firmly believe that my legal and moral position is quite justified and clear."

The Home Office and the American Embassy have declined to discuss his case. The Home Office is expected to be questioned about it in Parliament next week.

Cort is permanent lecturer in physiology at Birmingham, a post he has held since February 1953. His wife Ruth, 28, is house physician at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, the teaching hospital attached to the university. They have a joint passport. They have won support of the National Council of Civil Liberties, a private British organization. Cort's news conference was held at its headquarters. The NCCL describes itself as nonpolitical.

Mrs. Cort said she was a native of New York City. They have been married five years. Cort said he studied at Harvard and the Yale Medical School. Winner of a scholarship in England some years ago, he remained on.

The NCCL issued a statement saying the Home Office's policy "is in complete contrast to this country's (Britain's) whole tradition of granting political asylum and threatens the position of every political refugee."

Cort's statement made this reference to his political past:

"For two years, while a medical student, I had been a member of the American Communist party. My sole political activity during that period was as a member of the Assn., of Internes and Medical Students, advocating health insurance and a national health service in the United States. This political activity ceased after medical school, and I have now no political affiliations or activities."

Explaining his draft status, Cort said he registered for military service in the United States in 1948 but was declared physically unfit.

Cort added that when he received a draft notice in March 1953, a month after he got his Birmingham University post, he pointed out his 1948 rejection. He said legal advisors told him the new call was not binding on him in Britain. His parents told draft authorities of his legal position each time new induction orders came, Cort stated.

The British home secretary told Laborite Member of Parliament Anthony N. Wedgewood Benn, a Cort sympathizer, that political asylum only applies "when life is endangered," Cort declared.

BOBBY JOE INZINA (above) was named valedictorian of his graduating class at Maryhill Seminary near Alexandria on June 1. Inzina, of Monroe, received a degree as Associate in Arts. This fall he will attend Notre Dame at New Orleans and will be a counselor at the Maryhill Summer Camp for Boys this summer. The Maryhill Seminary is a junior college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Inzina, 2307 DeSiard.

He was in Memphis where one of the best skilled surgeons operated.

The report from there received here Saturday was that he withstood the operation well and his recovery is said now to be probable.

His father, Dhu Thompson, and brother, Lea S. Thompson, will be with him in Memphis for several days.

Of interest to all who hail from Caldwell Parish will be the homecoming at Little Star Academy, six miles east of Grayson, today at 10:30 a.m.

He said he is convinced that anti-Communists in Indochina are willing to fight "if they can get the arms and equipment to do it."

Knowland said that in his view the Geneva conference has reached the point where if the negotiations are continued by the free nations "we will lose the respect of the whole world."

"I don't see how we can continue to go on with sessions that are being used as a sounding board for Communist propaganda," he said. "These sessions are merely paralyzing the free nations while the Communists make their troop dispositions preparatory to taking over more territory in Indochina."

"I don't believe the motion entered is justified," Knowland said. "I think it is contrary to established procedure in the Senate. I think it would open up the door ultimately to action which would be disruptive of Senate procedure and practice established over a long period of years.

"Any action bringing the issue to the floor of the Senate would be certain to precipitate a controversy that might completely block the administration's legislative program."

Despite this, Knowland said he had no plans to consult President Eisenhower about the matter at the regular Monday morning meeting of legislative leaders with the President.

"No decision of the executive branch of the government is involved," the California Senator said. "I feel that the President would regard it as completely out of his province and I am certain he would feel that he should not advise the Senate on its procedures."

Flanders has said he has no immediate plans to bring up his motion, and McCarthy, filling speaking engagements in Wisconsin and South Dakota this weekend, has dismissed the move as another attempted "smear" against him.

McCarthy, who has stepped down temporarily as chairman of the Investigations subcommittee while it inquires into his dispute with Stevens, has said he may not be back in Washington in time to resume the witness stand Monday morning.

In that case, his subcommittee chief of staff, Francis P. Carr, probably will be the witness.

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) has indicated he would back the Flanders proposal and some Democratic senators have predicted that a large majority of their party members would vote for it if it came to an issue.

With the motion lying on the table, Republicans cannot control the timing of any possible move to bring it up. Any Democratic senator or Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) who broke with the Republicans, could move for its consideration.

Similarly, it might require a test vote in the Senate if GOP leaders moved to send it to the Rules Committee, where it might be bottled up, or to kill it.

Flanders said he acted without consulting the leadership and Knowland, in talking to reporters, scolded the Vermont senator for not taking the matter up first with the Senate Republican Policy Committee or the conference of all Republican senators.

"I thought it was a mistake for Sen. Flanders to put in this kind of a motion without consulting the leadership," Knowland said.

The California senator said that, in essence, the Flanders move involves an attack on the Senate's jealously guarded seniority rules by which members claim chairmanships.

Knowland said that if McCarthy were removed from his chairmanships, then a minority party in the future might upset the Senate organization by recruiting a few rebels from the opposing party.

As the situation now stands, the Republicans are in the minority but Democrats have made no move to take over the organization. There are 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one Independent. The latter often votes with the Democrats.

W. B. AYCOCK, JR.

Associate Agent Gets Scholarship To Maryland U.

Associate Ouachita Parish county agent, W. B. Aycock, Jr., of Monroe, will spend six weeks at the University of Maryland this summer studying human relations, as the result of a scholarship award, it was announced by the National 4-H Club Foundation in Washington.

Aycock, who was selected on the basis of his 4-H Club work with some 1,900 youngsters in the parish, is one of two agricultural extension service workers in the state to receive the honor. The other named for the $200 scholarship for the course which begins June 21 at College Park, Maryland, is Julius M. O'Quin, state 4-H Club agent from Baton Rouge.

In all, 52 extension workers from 31 states, the district of Columbia, and Puerto Rico, and two from the National 4-H Club Foundation, will attend the university under the scholarships which were made possible by a grant of $10,500 from the Sears Roebuck Foundation.

This is the third year that the training program for extension workers has been conducted at the university. Aycock said that the course has been described as an advance in the search for better ways to understand others.

Aycock, who is 28, has been in extension work since August 6, 1951 when he started on a series of short assignments with county agents in various northeast parishes. He joined the staff of Ouachita Parish county agent, J. J. Joyce, Jr., as assistant county agent in October, 1951.

Several weeks ago he was promoted to the post of associate parish county agent. He is a graduate of Mississippi State College, receiving a bachelor of science degree in general agriculture in June, 1951. He is a native of Decatur, Miss.

He is married, has a three-year-old son, William Allan, and resides at 1604 North Fourth St.

room alone at the time, while her 10-year-old daughter played with a friend in the backyard. Her husband, employed by a Winnfield concrete firm, was away at work.

Mrs. Mulloy explained that Hammons "came to the front door and asked for a drink of water." She said she had previously known him when he had lived in the vicinity, and told officers she was "afraid" of him. Mrs. Mulloy said she opened the screen door slightly and handed Hammons the water, whereupon he wrenched the door open and forced her back into the room and onto a couch.

The woman said Hammons drew a hunting knife and threatened to kill her. "He said I'll cut your throat if you scream," she told police.

She said the ex-convict struck her repeatedly with his fists after she kicked him and resisted his advances. Upon hearing her mother's screams, Mrs. Mulloy's daughter burst into the living room, and Hammons fled through the house and into the nearby swamp.

The victim, who had been bruised and battered by Hammons' blows, was found disheveled and bloody on the living room floor by her daughter.

He asked: What has my oponent done to maintain farm income? Where has he been when farm prices were sinking to a 13-year low level? Where was Senator Ellender when the cattle industry in this state needed drouth disaster relief. "Perhaps he was in Washington or perhaps on another world-wide jaunt," he chided Ellender.

Claiming that Ellender was a victim of "Potomac fever" and enjoyed the climate of Washington too much to find out about Louisiana's problems by first hand experience, Ellis first asked if anyone had seen Ellender in West Monroe "in the past 10 years" and then pledged himself to come back "every year, twice a year, or even more than that" to talk over the problems of people in this area.

"Sen. Ellender says I have the itch," Ellis said. "I have an itch to retire him."

Speaking directly in the heart of the territory of the third man in the senatorial race, State Rep. W. Gilbert Faulk, Ellis made no mention either way of the Northeast Louisiana candidate.

In earlier speeches in other sections of the state, Ellis had cited Ellender as supporting a bill to put grain barges and other small cargo haulers under control of Interstate Commerce, which Ellis said benefited no one but the large haulers.

He made no mention of this in West Monroe, confining most of his remarks about Ellender to his alleged "absenteeism."

In his speech, Ellis pointed out that he was a delegate to the Democratic national committee and was a supporter of the Democratic nominee during the last presidential election.

Touching briefly on various other subjects, Ellis said he was "unalterably opposed to sending any of our fighting men to Indo-China, or any other place such as Korea until the United States becomes directly involved."

Blasting the "leftwingers and radicals" in the Democratic Party, he said he believed in a party "close to the people."

cency in the record of the junior senator from Wisconsin," Michael shouted into the convention floor microphone above the din.

Michael, Polk County GOP chairman and president of the Joe Must Go Club of Wisconsin, said, "The future of the Republican party must be our primary concern. McCarthy is certainly not concerned with the welfare of the Republican party."

The convention chairman, Rep. Laird (R-Wis) pounded furiously with his gavel for order but the delegates booing Michael paid no attention.

"McCarthy is the one who is spreading disunity within our party—pitting Republicans against Republicans," Michael declared. "He is the one who is following the Communist line of divide and conquer. We, as a party, cannot afford to coddle McCarthy any more than we can afford to coddle Communists and by passing this resolution we are doing just that."

In a preceding resolution the 4,000 delegates sided with McCarthy against President Eisenhower on the question of giving legislative committees details on top level administrative conferences. Eisenhower has ordered that no details of such a conference concerning McCarthy's row with the Army be given to the Senate Investigations subcommittee conducting a hearing on the clash.

The Wisconsin GOP convention, however, also adopted a resolution praising the Eisenhower administration in general.

After his address, McCarthy arranged to leave immediately by private plane for Sioux Falls, S.D., where he is scheduled to address a state American Legion convention Sunday.

McCarthy planned to return to Washington Sunday night. Should he not make it in time to be on hand for start of the Monday session of the committee hearings into his row with the Army, it is likely that Frank Carr of the Investigations subcommittee staff, may be called to the witness stand. McCarthy was on the stand Friday when the hearings adjourned for the weekend.

eral that may take place within the next 30 to 60 days.

At the Richmond meeting, neither the Mississippi nor Georgia-South Carolina plans were pursued seriously. At the meeting of the attorneys general it is probable the legal ramifications of the plans will be discussed to the fullest extent.

And from these discussions it is possible the 11 states interested in a legal "out" will be able to decide how far they wish—or may be able to go—in getting around the court decision.

Virginia's Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, who initiated the 15-state Richmond conference, said he felt the meeting had done much to unify the South in a common-purpose effort to plot a new educational course.

But at the same time, he said it was clearly shown each state had individual problems which it alone must work out.

Kentucky, for instance, had only a 6.4 percentage of Negro pupils, according to 1952 figures. South Carolina's percentage was 42.7 and Georgia 48.1.

Stanley said some of the governors reported the Negro population in their states was predominantly in favor of continuing segregation. He didn't identify the governors.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has begun petitioning local school authorities for admission of Negro pupils to white schools during the 1954-55 term.

But the other 12 states have decided to sit tight until the Supreme Court hands down its final decrees directing how desegregation shall be carried out. These decrees may not come during the 1954-55 term.

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—A young American doctor who said he formerly belonged to the Communist party asked today to be allowed to stay in Britain as a political refugee. He said the British government has already turned him down and is trying to send him back to the United States.

Dr. Joseph H. Cort, a lecturer at Birmingham (England) University, announced at a news conference he was opposing efforts both of the U. S. Embassy and Britain's Home Office to send him home by the end of this month. If forced to return to America, he said in a prepared statement, he faced "lack of employment . . . loss of citizenship and five to 10 years in prison."

Cort, 26, said the American Embassy had accused him of leaving the United States to evade military service. He denied the charge but said if he went back he could be tried under this accusation and under the McCarran Immigration Act. Cort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boris Cort of Brookline, Mass., said he hoped to become a British citizen if allowed to remain here.

Cort, tall and bespectacled, said: "My own wish is to settle down quietly in the United Kingdom and to continue my scientific work. I firmly believe that my legal and moral position is quite justified and clear."

The Home Office and the American Embassy have declined to discuss his case. The Home Office is expected to be questioned about it in Parliament next week.

Cort is permanent lecturer in physiology at Birmingham, a post he has held since February 1953. His wife Ruth, 28, is house physician at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, the teaching hospital attached to the university. They have a joint passport. They have won support of the National Council of Civil Liberties, a private British organization. Cort's news conference was held at its headquarters. The NCCL describes itself as nonpolitical.

Mrs. Cort said she was a native of New York City. They have been married five years. Cort said he studied at Harvard and the Yale Medical School. Winner of a scholarship in England some years ago, he remained on.

The NCCL issued a statement saying the Home Office's policy "is in complete contrast to this country's (Britain's) whole tradition of granting political asylum and threatens the position of every political refugee."

Cort's statement made this reference to his political past:

"For two years, while a medical student, I had been a member of the American Communist party. My sole political activity during that period was as a member of the Assn., of Internes and Medical Students, advocating health insurance and a national health service in the United States. This political activity ceased after medical school, and I have now no political affiliations or activities."

Explaining his draft status, Cort said he registered for military service in the United States in 1948 but was declared physically unfit.

Cort added that when he received a draft notice in March 1953, a month after he got his Birmingham University post, he pointed out his 1948 rejection. He said legal advisors told him the new call was not binding on him in Britain. His parents told draft authorities of his legal position each time new induction orders came, Cort stated.

The British home secretary told Laborite Member of Parliament Anthony N. Wedgewood Benn, a Cort sympathizer, that political asylum only applies "when life is endangered," Cort declared.

BOBBY JOE INZINA (above) was named valedictorian of his graduating class at Maryhill Seminary near Alexandria on June 1. Inzina, of Monroe, received a degree as Associate in Arts. This fall he will attend Notre Dame at New Orleans and will be a counselor at the Maryhill Summer Camp for Boys this summer. The Maryhill Seminary is a junior college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Inzina, 2307 DeSiard.

three states might be willing to accept help from the republic of Korea, aid that the French previously turned down.

He said he is convinced that anti-Communists in Indochina are willing to fight "if they can get the arms and equipment to do it."

Knowland said that in his view the Geneva conference has reached the point where if the negotiations are continued by the free nations "we will lose the respect of the whole world."

"I don't see how we can continue to go on with sessions that are being used as a sounding board for Communist propaganda," he said. "These sessions are merely paralyzing the free nations while the Communists make their troop dispositions preparatory to taking over more territory in Indochina."

"I don't believe the motion entered is justified," Knowland said. "I think it is contrary to established procedure in the Senate. I think it would open up the door ultimately to action which would be disruptive of Senate procedure and practice established over a long period of years.

"Any action bringing the issue to the floor of the Senate would be certain to precipitate a controversy that might completely block the administration's legislative program."

Despite this, Knowland said he had no plans to consult President Eisenhower about the matter at the regular Monday morning meeting of legislative leaders with the President.

"No decision of the executive branch of the government is involved," the California Senator said. "I feel that the President would regard it as completely out of his province and I am certain he would feel that he should not advise the Senate on its procedures."

Flanders has said he has no immediate plans to bring up his motion, and McCarthy, filling speaking engagements in Wisconsin and South Dakota this weekend, has dismissed the move as another attempted "smear" against him.

McCarthy, who has stepped down temporarily as chairman of the Investigations subcommittee while it inquires into his dispute with Stevens, has said he may not be back in Washington in time to resume the witness stand Monday morning.

In that case, his subcommittee chief of staff, Francis P. Carr, probably will be the witness.

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) has indicated he would back the Flanders proposal and some Democratic senators have predicted that a large majority of their party members would vote for it if it came to an issue.

With the motion lying on the table, Republicans cannot control the timing of any possible move to bring it up. Any Democratic senator or Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) who broke with the Republicans, could move for its consideration.

Similarly, it might require a test vote in the Senate if GOP leaders moved to send it to the Rules Committee, where it might be bottled up, or to kill it.

Flanders said he acted without consulting the leadership and Knowland, in talking to reporters, scolded the Vermont senator for not taking the matter up first with the Senate Republican Policy Committee or the conference of all Republican senators.

"I thought it was a mistake for Sen. Flanders to put in this kind of a motion without consulting the leadership," Knowland said.

The California senator said that, in essence, the Flanders move involves an attack on the Senate's jealously guarded seniority rules by which members claim chairmanships.

Knowland said that if McCarthy were removed from his chairmanships, then a minority party in the future might upset the Senate organization by recruiting a few rebels from the opposing party.

As the situation now stands, the Republicans are in the minority but Democrats have made no move to take over the organization. There are 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one Independent. The latter often votes with the Democrats.

Associate Agent Gets Scholarship To Maryland U.

Associate Ouachita Parish county agent, W. B. Aycock, Jr., of Monroe, will spend six weeks at the University of Maryland this summer studying human relations, as the result of a scholarship award, it was announced by the National 4-H Club Foundation in Washington.

Aycock, who was selected on the basis of his 4-H Club work with some 1,900 youngsters in the parish, is one of two agricultural extension service workers in the state to receive the honor. The other named for the $200 scholarship for the course which begins June 21 at College Park, Maryland, is Julius M. O'Quin, state 4-H Club agent from Baton Rouge.

In all, 52 extension workers from 31 states, the district of Cilumbia, and Puerto Rico, and two from the National 4-H Club Foundation, will attend the university under the scholarships which were made possible by a grant of $10,500 from the Sears Roebuck Foundation.

This is the third year that the training program for extension workers has been conducted at the university. Aycock said that the course has been described as an advance in the search for better ways to understand others.

Aycock, who is 28, has been in extension work since August 6, 1951 when he started on a series of short assignments with county agents in various northeast parishes. He joined the staff of Ouachita Parish county agent, J. J. Joyce, Jr., as assistant county agent in October, 1951.

First Payments In Lieu Of Taxes Made In December

The first Payment in Lieu of Taxes of The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe, Louisiana, was made in December of 1953. The payment was made for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1953.

The total of the checks, or $8,315.58 repersented 10 per cent of the shelter rents charged to tenants on the four projects in operation, George Breece Manor, Dr. Arthur Johnson Manor, Louis Lock Homes and Carver Homes, a total of 351 units. These payments will be made each year on all projects according to the terms of the Cooperation Agreement with the City of Monroe in return for municipal services such as schools, streets, fire and police protection.

Each unit, for the year ended June 30, 1953, paid $16.40 to the City, $4.30 to the Parish and $2.99 to the state. Distribution was made on the basis of 31.50 mills to the City, 8.25 mills to the Parish and 5.75 mills to the state. The City received $5,756.94, Ouachita Parish $1,507.77 and the State received $1,050.87. It is estimated that the total Payment in Lieu of Taxes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954 will be over $9,000.00.

'Fan Mail' Piles Up In Big Volume, Pro And Con, In Army-McCarthy Row

WASHINGTON, June 12 —UP— The public is more interested than ever in the prolonged Army-McCarthy hearings, judging from the heavy mail and telegraph response a United Press survey showed Saturday.

A weekend survey shows mail to members of the Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee running continuously heavy. Some members reported the heaviest to date in the past week.

Still another Senator, Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.), is getting lots of mail—and some threats. Flander's staff said he is getting "hundreds" of telegrams and telephone calls since his new attack on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy Friday, and that while the messages are "heavily favorable" some of the calls are "abusive and even threatening."

The public response — by mail, telegram and telephone—shot up sharply last weekend after disclosure of monitored telephone conversations between Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) and Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

Those disclosures touched off a running row between Symington and McCarthy (R-Wis.) which apparently has kept the mail flow heavy throughout the past week.

Acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.) reports the heaviest steady flow he has received since the hearings opened April 22.

Mundt's office estimates it is receiving about 4,000 to 5,000 letters a day, plus 200 telegrams. His swamped staff has not been able to break them down into pro and con.

McCarthy's own office receives the heaviest flow — estimated to reach 10,000 a day at times. His staff isn't even able to count the letters, postcards and telegrams but the senator said they are "overwhelmingly" favorable.

Another incident that brought a sudden upturn in public response was McCarthy's attack Wednesday on Frederick G. Fisher, young Boston attorney, and Fisher's defense by special Army counsel Joseph N. Welch.

It caused a heavy spurt of telegrams and telephone calls to subcommittee members and others involved. Mail reaction to the incident is just beginning to pour in.

One telephone caller told Flanders' aides that he represented a surgical supply house which had received orders for five wheel chairs for the 73-year-old senator, whom McCarthy accused of "senility."

Mundt, who got a packet of itching powder through the mail several weeks ago, received 700 telegrams within 24 hours after disclosure of the Symington-Stevens telephone calls. But the volume levelled off this week.

Here's how the mail stacks up with other members of the subcommittee:

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) ranking Democratic member — mail shot up to a peak of 1,500-2,000 letters immediately after the Symington-Stevens calls were read but has leveled off to 500-600 a day; about 30 telegrams a day; numerous local telephone calls. Mail and telegrams estimated at "20 or 25 to one" favorable to McClellan. However, mail and telegrams just on Symington heavily unfavorable to the Missouri senator.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) —Mail not being counted, but estimated at about 2,000 letters and 50 telegrams a day. Received heavy volume critical of Symington. No accurate breakdown but mail described as heavily pro-McCarthy at the last check.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.)—"Very, very heavy" mail during the past week. Office staff estimates it at 500-600 letters a day, the heaviest sustained flow since the hearings began. Estimated at 3-1 favorable to Jackson.

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) —Mail running lightest of any subcommittee members, less than 100 letters daily and "negligible" number of telegrams. No attempt made at a breakdown.

Symington—Office staff stopped counting this week, but mail running heaviest since hearings opened. Telegrams heaviest since the subcommittee voted to exclude Francis P. Carr, subcommittee executive director, and H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of the defense, from the case. At last check a week ago, reaction estimated at 3-2 favorable to Symington. Response described as more favorable since then.

Sen. Henry C. Dworshak (R-Ida.)—Mail picked up this week after a sharp drop a few weeks ago; now running about 100 letters a day. During the past week, mail predominantly from McCarthy supporters demanding that Symington get off the subcommittee. Mail began arriving Friday charging that Fisher was mistreated by McCarthy; about 30 letters and wires—about 20 per cent of the total Friday—concerned Fisher.

Property Owners To Cast Votes On Separate Taxes

Monroe and Ouachita parish property owners Tuesday will vote on a ¾ mill tax proposal designed to provide funds for an adequate health program. If approved the levy will bring in about $56,000 yearly for the next five years.

"This $56,000," said Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the Ouachita parish health unit, "will be used to provide additional personnel for the health unit and additional services to the people of Ouachita parish. The health unit is presently operating on a budget providing about the same total personnel for its city and parish services that it had in 1940. In that 14 years the population of the parish has nearly doubled."

"We have to have this money," said Dr. Summer, "If this bill is not passed, we may have to reduce health service, and this would indeed be a bad situation since we are already understaffed.

"The proposed ¾ mill tax would cost each taxpayer 75 cents per $1,000 of assessed property valuation in excess of the $2,000 homestead exemption. It will, if passed, cost the average taxpayer only a few cents per month. If the millage tax is approved," Dr. Summer said, "the health unit would strongly recommend to the local boards of health that additional personnel in the fields of sanitation be added to the staff, and that other services be expanded.

"The wosk of the unit is split into more than a dozen major categories, with many subdivisions for each. It serves every person in the parish every day, protecting health in many ways, directly and indirectly," said Dr. Summer. "Even though a person may never enter the doors of the unit, it protects directly — through its sanitation activities in seeing that food and milk and other beverages are wholesome.

Continuing the health unit director said:

"The health unit also protects through its program of communicable disease control and through comprehensive immunization and education programs.

"The unit provides a public health nursing program; maternal and child care, which includes a program of maternal health; midwife supervision; child health, pre - school health program; school health program; communicable disease program crippled children's service; veneral disease control; tuberculosis control (including case finding, hospitalization and education); vital statistics; food sanitation; drug and cosmetic control; and general sanitation, which includes supervision of water supplies, sewage disposal, mosquito control, rabies control, rodent control, camp supervision and swimming pool supervision.

"The volume of health work which is done in Ouachita parish costs money. The proposed tax is not an unusual one. Parishes in north Louisiana which have already voted similar taxes are Caddo, Bossier, Winn, Tensas and Richland.

"The people of Ouachita parish are entitled to every ounce of health protection they can get, and the only logical means of giving the people of Ouachita parish good health protection is by voting this millage tax."

Woman Re-Enacts Part In Shooting

WASTINGTON, June 11 — UP— Mrs. Lolita Lebron, clutching a Puerto Rican flag, Friday reenacted her part in the March 1 shooting of five congressmen but cried that she did not intend to kill anyone.

Sobbing and near hysteria, the tiny Puerto Rican woman told a federal court jury that she and three other Puerto Rican nationalists wanted only to stage a demonstration for their country's independence. Puerto Rico is a U. S. territory with a large degree of self-government.

Mrs. Lebron denied she had claimed to be [illegible] of the group. She said she had to plea with the other three to bring her with them from New York to stage the shooting.

"I wanted to die for the freedom of my country," she sobbed. "I expected to die because the sacrifice was greater than me. I didn't expect to live after that day.

Standing in the witness box, the 34-year-old woman cried:

"I love you. . .I love the world . . .I love God. I have kissed the floor of my cell a hundred times, a hundred, hundred times and asked Him to come to you and tell you I am not guilty because you love freedom and my country is not free."

Low Rent Housing Projects Started In Monroe In 1940

The first positive action for low dent housing in Monroe, was begun by Joseph S. Guerriero, who presented the following petition to Mayor H. H. Benoit, Monroe, Louisiana, February 29, 1940:

"Petition for the creation of a housing authority in the City of Monroe, Louisiana to the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Monroe, La:

"Now come the following duly qualified residents of the City of Monroe, Louisiana and respectfully represent and show to your honorable body as follows:

1. That unsanitary and unsafe dwelling accomodations exist in the City of Monroe and that such unsafe and unsanitary conditions arise from overcrowding and concentration of population, the obsolete and poor conditions of buildings, improper light, air space and access, unsanitary design and arrangements, lack of proper sanitary facilities and the existence of conditions which endanger life and property by fire and other causes;

2. That in the City of Monroe many families of low income are forced to reside in unsafe and unsanitary dwelling accomodations, that there is a lack of safe or sanitary dwelling accomodations, available at rents which families of low income can afford and such families are forced to occupy overcrowded and congested dwelling accomodations, that the aforesaid conditions cause an increase in and spread of disease and crime and constitute menace to the health, safety, morals, and welfare of the residents of the City and state, and impair economic values;

3. That the conditions above recited cannot be remedied by the ordinary operations of private enterprise, that the clearance, replanning and reconstruction of the area in which unsafe or unsanitary housing conditions exist and the providing of safe and sanitary conditions for low income families are public uses and purposes for which public money is spent and private property acquired, and that it is in the public interest that work on such projects be instituted as soon as possible in order to relieve unemployment which now constitutes an emergency;

4. That there is a need for a local housing authority to function in the City of Monroe, Louisiana as authorized by the Housing Authorities Law of Louisiana, as amended;

WHEREFORE, your petitoners pray that your honorable body find that unsanitary and unsafe inhabited accomodations exist in the City of Monroe or that there is a lack of safe or sanitary dwelling accomodations in the City of Monroe, available to families of low income at rental they can afford and that your honorable body adapt a resolution declaring that there is a need for a housing authority in the City of Monroe, Louisiana.

Respectfully submitted,

C. C. Boardman, C. D. Oakley, Guy P. Stubbs, L. C. Duncan, S. E. Huey, J. A. Biedenharn, F. F. Millsaps, W. J. Riley, Ben R. Downing, N. F. Vandegaer, J. E. Godfrey, J. G. Durrett, W. C. Oliver, Max Moses, Travis Oliver, Dr. C. P. Jarrell, J. S. Washburn, Clyde R. Brown, J. M. Breard, C. Prentice Gray, Jr., M. D., Chas. N. Eichel, Samuel Rubin, Wm. P. Grasse, F. C. Terzia, Sylvian Masur, F. W. Simpson, R. M. Breard, James D. Sparks, Hillyer S. Parker, Wm. Harper, Travis Oliver, Jr., Edward Farren Hayward, J. C. Theus, Jr., J. G. Snelling, R. D. Kellogg, Bruce Frizzell.

The Resolution by the City Council creating the Authority was made February 29, 1940.

The first Commissioners, R. D. Kellogg, Chairman, Dr. S. A. Collins, Ira Cagle, B. A. Trousdale, Jr., and Samuel Rubin were appointed by Mayor Benoit April 15, 1940.

The first meeting was held May 16, 1940. At this meeting the Commissioners took their oaths of office, adopted the by-laws, elected B. A. Trousdale, Jr., Vice Chairman and appointed Samuel Rubin temporary secretary "to serve as such . . . without compensation until a permanent appointment was made."

Commissioner Cagle and Commissioner Rubin are the only ones who have served continuously since the creation of the authority. For fourteen years these men have given much of their time and effort to make decent safe housing a reality for people in low income groups.

On June 18, 1940, Mr. Joseph S. Guerriero was appointed attorney for the Authority and at this time plans were made to secure a loan from the Federal Housing Authority for financial assistance.

In November of 1940, a Cooperation Agreement was executed with the City. This agreement, in which the City recognized the need for low rent housing, authorized the Authority to develop and administer approximately 250 dwelling units. Mr. H. H. Benoit was Mayor at the time the first Cooperation Agreement was made.

Mr. Joseph S. Guerriero was appointed executive director of the Authority in February of 1941, and in addition to his duties as director, he served as attorney.

Mr. R. D. Kellogg resigned in March of 1941. Mr. J. D. Petty was appointed to fill his unexpired term. B. A. Trousdale, Jr., was elected Chairman to succeed Mr. Kellogg.

At a meeting held on August 4, 1941, the first Loan and Annual Contract with the United States Housing Authority was signed. The contract authorized the construction of 126 units, designed as LA 6-1 and LA 6-2; the total development cost was estimated at $500,000.00.

In January of 1941 telegrams were received from Representative Newt V. Mills and Senator Allen J. Ellender stating that the loan of $500,000.00 for the construction of a low-rent housing project for Monroe had been authorized.

In January of 1942, the site for LA 6-2 was purchased at a cost of $7,100.00. The property was purchased from Robert Layton. In April of 1942 the site of LA 6-1 was purchased at a total price of $7,500.00.

At the Annual Meeting of 1942, B. A. Trousdale was re-elected Chairman and Ira Cagle, Vice-Chairman. The Commissioners of the Authority at that time were: B. A. Trousdale, Jr., Ira Cagle, Samuel Rubin, J. D. Petty and S. A. Collins.

In October of 1942, due to World War II all business of the Authority was suspended.

The projects were in deferred status until 1949. In that year the United States Housing Act was amended and as soon as it was possible, plans were made to complete the projects.

In June of 1949, the Commissioners having resigned, Mayor George Breece appointed the following Commissioners; Joseph S. Guerriero, Ira Cagle, Fred Fudickar, Jr., Samuel Rubin and Raleigh Poulas. At the next meeting of the Commissioners, Joseph S. Guerriero was elected Chairman and Fred Fudickar, Jr., Vice-Chairman.

So many changes in procedure, cost of building and materials had been made that when the projects were re-activated it was necessary to execute new documents and make new plans. One of the documents was a Cooperation Agreement with the City authorizing a Preliminary Loan for the development of approximately 400 units. LA 6-3, 4, and 5 are included in this agreement.

Associated Housing Architects, represented by L. Milton King, was awarded the architectural contract to complete the plans for LA 6-1 and LA 6-2, and to begin planning projects LA 6-3 and LA 6-4.

In April of 1950, Frank F. Smith was appointed executive director and offices were opened in the Virginia Hotel Hotel Building. At this time Henry Bernstein, Jr. was appointed attorney for the authority.

On July 13, 1950, the contract for the construction of LA 6-1, 50 units and LA 6-2, 76 units was awarded to R. P. Fransworth & Co., Inc. The contract price was $984,000.00.

Bids were opened on May 2, 1951, for the construction of LA 6-3, 125 units, and LA 6-4, 100 units, R. P. Farnsworth & Con., Inc. was the bidder; the contract price was $1,728,000.00

In June of 1951, Frank F. Smith was ordered to report for active military service and W. Reynolds McWilliams was appointed to serve as executive director during his absence.

Joseph S. Guerriero and Fred Fudickar, Jr., was elected Chairman and Ira Cagle Vice Chairman. Raleigh Poulos resigned as Commissioner in 1952 and J. Arthur Smith, Jr., was appointed by Mayor John Coon to serve the unexpired term.

George Breece Manor, was ready for occupancy in the fall of 1951 and Dr. Arthur Johnson Manor was completed in the spring of 1952. Both Carver Homes and Louis Lock Homes were completed in the summer of 1952. All four projects are completely occupied.

On December 1, 1952, Frank F. Smith returned from military service and resumed his duties as Secretary and Executive Director.

At the Annual Meeting in 1953, Ira Cagle was elected Chairman and Samuel Rubin was elected Vice-Chairman. The position of Assistant Secretary was created in 1953. This position is held by Mrs. Helen B. Wasson.

In April of 1954, Joseph S. Amman was appointed Commissioner. 1954, Samuel Rubin was elected Chairman and J. Arthur Smith, Jr., was named Vice-Chairman.

The present Commissioners as well as those of the past are to be commended for their splendid work.

Party Committee Action Is Upheld By District Court

JENA, June 12 (Special)—Martin Sanders, Jr., Olla attorney barred from the Democratic Party by action of the 28th Judicial District Democratic committee, lost a suit in district court here this week seeking reversal of the committee's decision that he was ineligible as a candidate for the office of district attorney.

Sanders, through his counsel, immediately filed notice of appeal in district court that he would appeal the decision of Judge Walter Hunter, temporarily assigned to the 28th judicial district court and Judge Hunter authorized the appeal which will be made in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in Shreveport.

The notice of appeal is returnable not later than June 14, 1954.

Judge Hunter rejected a petition by Sanders that notice of protest of his candidacy was not properly handled by the district Democratic committee, ruling that service was properly obtained. Then, the judge ruled that Sanders' petition to set aside the ruling of the district committee had not been substantiated by the evidence presented and that the findings of the committee should stand.

Better Living Is Goal Of Foster Homes

Foster Homes, a low-rent housing project being constructed at the corner of Swayze and Louberta Streets by The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe, Louisiana, occupies a site of approximately 20 acres, composes 41 dwellings and a management building. There are 8 one-bedroom, 89 two-bedroom, 72-three bedroom and 6 four-bedroom apartments or a total of 175 apartments or living units. Each unit has a bathroom, kitchen, living room, and a liberal number of closets. Each kitchen is fully equipped with a gas range, refrigerator, combination sink and laundry tray, water heater, work tables and storage cabinets.

The buildings are constructed with concrete floor slabs covered with asphalt tile, exterior walls are of brick containing a cavity or air space to exclude dampness, interior partitions are of smooth plaster. The exterior and interior color schemes have been worked out to obtain a feeling of harmony and light values.

The construction of the project included the installation of water and sewer systems, storm drainage, electrical distribution, street lighting, walks and paved streets.

The site planning is particularly interesting and practical in that the buildings have been placed to obtain the benefit of prevailing breezes and the exclusion of the hot summer sun. Particular attention was given to the street pattern in order to promote safe driving by the elimination of four-way intersections and the use of sweeping curves. The 33 feet wide streets enable cars to be parked without obstructing the free flow of traffic.

Housing experts who have visited this project pronounce it one of the best planned in the country and all express enthusiasm over the Local Housing Authority's effort to provide safe and decent housing for the low rent group.

Carver Homes Named For Noted Negro Educator

Carver Homes, a 125-unit low-rent housing project was named for the noted Negro scientist and educator, George Washington Carver.

Doctor Carver was born on a farm near Diamond Grove, Missouri, in 1864 of slave parents. His mother belonged to Moses Carter, his father to a neighboring farmer. When he was six weeks old he and his mother were stolen and carried into Arkansas by night riders. Mr. Carver, heading a rescue party, succeeded in ransoming the baby for a horse valued at $300, but the mother was never heard from again. The child's father was killed in an accident. The baby was returned to the Carver home where he remained until he was about ten years old. Eventually he made his way to Minneapolis, Kansas, where he worked his way through high school. Later he worked his way through college and in 1894 received the Batchelor of Science in Agriculture from Iowa State College. In 1896 he took the M. S. degree from the same college.

After completing his course at Iowa State College he was elected to the faculty. He was placed in charge of the greenhouse where he devoted special attention to bacterial laboratory work in systematic botany.

In 1896 he became director of the Department of Agricultural Research at Tuskegee Institute. He carried on many experiments, especially with peanuts, from which he developed nearly 300 substances, including milk, butter, cheese, coffee, pickles, shaving lotion, breakfast food, ink and cosmetics. From sweet potatoes he produced 118 substances including starch, vinegar, shoe blacking, library paste and candy. He also developed dyes from clay, dandelions, onions, beans, tomato vines and trees. One of his dyes he believed to be the rediscovery of the lost purple of the Egyptians. Of the many experiments he made, peanuts were his prime interest.

On one occasion Dr. Carver said, "Why, if one knows the peanut he can find food and shelter; he can produce medicine out of that same peanut . . . .God, what is a peanut and why did You make it. . . ye shall know science and science shall make you free."

In 1935 Carver was made collaborator, Bureau Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1917 Dr. Carver was made a member of Royal Society of Arts, London, in 1923 he was awarded the Spingarn Medal and in 1939 he received the Roosevelt Medal.

Ending Of Capital Punishment Asked

NEW ORLEANS, —UP— A New Orleans attorney said Friday that a group of Orleanians would appeal Wednesday in Baton Rouge for support of Senate bills calling for an end to capital punishment in Louisiana.

Herman L. Midlo said that the delegation would seek a favorable report on bills 348 and 349. Those measures would substitute life imprisonment and solitary confinement for the death penalty in first-degree murder and aggravated assault cases.

Supervision Of Housing Projects Under L. M. King

With the nearing completion of Monroe's five housing projects, a job stretching out over a period of 13 or 14 years is drawing to a close for L. Milton King, principal architect and supervisor for the project

King, along with architects D. Curtis Smith, Merle L. Padgett, W. King Stubbs, and A. T. Turpin, Jr., was named by the local housing authority to plan and supervise the building of the projects, which cost millions of dollars to construct.

"These projects," he said in an interview this week, 'give the underprivileged a safe and decent place to live—a thing private capital has never been able to do."

"Some of the people living in the projects now have immeasurably better lives than they did before we put them up," he said. "Ask them. They can tell you better than I can."

King said plans for the housing projects in the Monroe area began in the years before World War I, but were stopped by the war and did not get underway again until 1949.

King was in on the plans from the first, and was named as one of the architects for the job when they started again after the war.

Among his jobs were the planning of sites for the projects, arranging the apartments, or units, to the various sizes of family groups and keeping the work up to the specifications of the Public Housing Authority.

The projects were designed with a view to safety, room, and comfort, with the buildings required to be so many feet apart, and the apartments required to be rented to the size of the family living in them. The streets are built in such a manner that fast driving is almost impossible, and with no dangerous intersections.

Reports are that the projects here compare favorably with any in the country.

King, who is married and resides at 1608 Auburn Avenue, was born and raised in Monroe and has lived here most of his life, with the exception of 12 years in Arkansas between 1925 and 1937. He has practiced his profession here since that time.

He is a past president of the North Louisiana chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and a member of the board of governors of the Louisiana Architects' Association of the American Institute of Architects.

Better Living Is Goal Of Foster Homes

Foster Homes, a low-rent housing project being constructed at the corner of Swayze and Louberta Streets by The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe, Louisiana, occupies a site of approximately 20 acres, composes 41 dwellings and a management building. There are 8 one-bedroom, 89 two-bedroom, 72-three bedroom and 6 four-bedroom apartments or a total of 175 apartments or living units. Each unit has a bathroom, kitchen, living room, and a liberal number of closets. Each kitchen is fully equipped with a gas range, refrigerator, combination sink and laundry tray, water heater, work tables and storage cabinets.

The buildings are constructed with concrete floor slabs covered with asphalt tile, exterior walls are of brick containing a cavity or air space to exclude dampness, interior partitions are of smooth plaster. The exterior and interior color schemes have been worked out to obtain a feeling of harmony and light values.

The construction of the project included the installation of water and sewer systems, storm drainage, electrical distribution, street lighting, walks and paved streets.

The site planning is particularly interesting and practical in that the buildings have been placed to obtain the benefit of prevailing breezes and the exclusion of the hot summer sun. Particular attention was given to the street pattern in order to promote safe driving by the elimination of four-way intersections and the use of sweeping curves. The 33 feet wide streets enable cars to be parked without obstructing the free flow of traffic.

Housing experts who have visited this project pronounce it one of the best planned in the country and all express enthusiasm over the Local Housing Authority's effort to provide safe and decent housing for the low rent group.

Carver Homes Named For Noted Negro Educator

Doctor Carver was born on a farm near Diamond Grove, Missouri, in 1864 of slave parents. His mother belonged to Moses Carter, his father to a neighboring farmer. When he was six weeks old he and his mother were stolen and carried into Arkansas by night riders. Mr. Carver, heading a rescue party, succeeded in ransoming the baby for a horse valued at $300, but the mother was never heard from again. The child's father was killed in an accident. The baby was returned to the Carver home where he remained until he was about ten years old. Eventually he made his way to Minneapolis, Kansas, where he worked his way through high school. Later he worked his way through college and in 1894 received the Batchelor of Science in Agriculture from Iowa State College. In 1896 he took the M. S. degree from the same college.

After completing his course at Iowa State College he was elected to the faculty. He was placed in charge of the greenhouse where he devoted special attention to bacterial laboratory work in systematic botany.

In 1896 he became director of the Department of Agricultural Research at Tuskegee Institute. He carried on many experiments, especially with peanuts, from which he developed nearly 300 substances, including milk, butter, cheese, coffee, pickles, shaving lotion, breakfast food, ink and cosmetics. From sweet potatoes he produced 118 substances including starch, vinegar, shoe blacking, library paste and candy. He also developed dyes from clay, dandelions, onions, beans, tomato vines and trees. One of his dyes he believed to be the rediscovery of the lost purple of the Egyptians. Of the many experiments he made, peanuts were his prime interest.

On one occasion Dr. Carver said, "Why, if one knows the peanut he can find food and shelter; he can produce medicine out of that same peanut . . . .God, what is a peanut and why did You make it. . . ye shall know science and science shall make you free."

In 1935 Carver was made collaborator, Bureau Plant industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1917 Dr. Carver was made a member of Royal Society of Arts, London, in 1923 he was awarded the Spingarn Medal and in 1939 he received the Roosevelt Medal.

Ending Of Capital Punishment Asked

NEW ORLEANS, —UP— A New Orleans attorney said Friday that a group of Orleanians would appeal Wednesday in Baton Rouge for support of Senate bills calling for an end to capital punishment in Louisiana.

Herman L. Midlo said that the delegation would seek a favorable report on bills 348 and 349. Those measures would substitute life imprisonment and solitary confinement for the death penalty in first-degree murder and aggravated assault cases.

With the nearing completion of Monroe's five housing projects, a job stretching out over a period of 13 or 14 years is drawing to a close for L. Milton King, principal architect and supervisor for the project

King, along with architects D. Curtis Smith, Merle L. Padgett, W. King Stubbs, and A. T. Turpin, Jr., was named by the local housing authority to plan and supervise the building of the projects, which cost millions of dollars to construct.

"These projects," he said in an interview this week, 'give the underprivileged a safe and decent place to live—a thing private capital has never been able to do."

"Some of the people living in the projects now have immeasurably better lives than they did before we put them up," he said. "Ask them. They can tell you better than I can."

King said plans for the housing projects in the Monroe area began in the years before World War I, but were stopped by the war and did not get underway again until 1949.

King was in on the plans from the first, and was named as one of the architects for the job when they started again after the war.

Housing Commissioners Engaged In Noblest Form Of Humanitarian Service

The Commissioners of The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe, Louisiana, are engaged in the noblest form of humanitarian service. They receive no compensation for the work they do for the Authority. The Commissioners hold no interest in the property or in the contracts pertaining to the development and operation of the low-rent projects.

The Commissioners represent diversified fields of economic endeavor, but they have one identical interest - their interest in the activities of this community.

Samuel Rubin, Chairman of The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe is the owner of R and A Jewelers. He has been a member of the American Legion since 1920, and has held National, State and local offices in that organization. Mr. Rubin organized the Red Shield Boys' Club in 1943. Mr. Rubin has taken an active interest in the patients of Carville, La. With his own funds he purchased a printing press which has been in use ever since for the publication of "Star" a periodical devoted to the news of Hansen's disease. Mr. Rubin's philanthropic endeavors are many and varied. Crisppled Children's Society, Cerebal Palsy, March of Dimes are but a few of his interests.

Samuel Rubin was appointed Commisioner of the local authority in 1940, by Mayor H. H. Benoit. Mr. Rubin has served as secretary and as vice-chairman prior to his election as Chairman.

Ira Cagle, Commissioner, is the owner of a contracting business. Mr. Cage was one of the first to recognize the need for a housing authority in Monroe. He is one of the original members of the board, appointed in 1940, by Mayor H. H. Benoit.

Mr. Cagle has served as commissioner continuously since 1940. He has held the office of Vice-chairman, and was Chairman of the Authority during 1953-54.

Commissioner Cagle is widely known for his civic interests. He has been a member of the American Legion since 1920, is a Mason, member of most Masonic bodies and is a member of the local Shrine Club. He is affiliated with Rotary Club, Knights of Pythias and is a member of the Highland Park Baptist Church.

Fred Fudickar, Jr., Commissioner, has been serving as District Attorney since 1948. Mr. Fudickar is a menber of the Episcopal Church, member of the Masonic Lodge, and a Shriner. Mr. Fudickar is a member of Kiwanis and was president of that organization during 1951.

When the Housing Authority was re-activated in 1949. Mayor George Breece appointed Fred Fudickar, Jr., Commissioner. At the expiration of his term in 1952, Mr. Fudickar was re-appointed by Mayor John Coon to serve for five years. Mr. Fudickar was Vice-chairman of the Authority for four years. In 1952 he was elected Chairman and served for one year.

Joseph S. Amman, of Amman and Fluter, Inc., an insurance agency, was appointed Commissioner of The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe in April, 1954.

Other civic leaders who have served as commissioners of the Authority are: Dr. S. A. Collins, B. A. Troisdale, Jr., R. D. Kellogg, Joseph S. Guerriero, Raleigh A. Poulas and the late J. D. Petty.

The officers of Chairman and Vice-chairman are rotated among the Commissioners, each serving a one year term in each position. The Vice-chairman, at the Annual Meeting is elected Chairman, and a new Vice- chairman is named.

The commissioners of the authority are public officials, appointed by the Mayor. The job of commissioner may tax and vex him at times, but it will always stimulate and interest him.

There are many problems the commissioners face: construction and maintenance of the property, budget, fiscal, personnel and general administrative functions, relationships with planning and operating units of local government; relationships with state and federal agencies concerning housing. Many problems entail the understanding of human values, the importance of healthy family life; of the strength and weaknesses, the difficulty and dignity of man. They are humanitarians of the highest order, theirs is a work undertaken for love of their fellowmen.

Authorities Sure Delinquency To Be Curbed By Housing

Overcrowding has long been recognized as one of the contributing factors to personality disorganization and a sense of frustration. The trend toward urban living has accentuated the problem, making it difficult to find a place where children are permitted to live.

Small, overcrowded housing facilities tend to create in a child a defensive attitude. Playing in streets and alleys invites juvenile delinquency.

Each family on the housing projects is placed in a unit designed to insure ample space for every member of the family. As a rule, no more than two individuals occupy the same bedroom. A large living room is provided with each unit, as well as a bathroom and a modern kitchen.

Swings, see-saws and other equipment have been installed on the playgrounds so that recreational facilities are available for the children of the tenants.

The Housing Authority of the City of Monroe is convinced that better housing will create better

Summer Says No Simple Remedy Can Cure All Ills

"Good housing cannot be bought in a package like an auditorium, or an arena, or a supermarket. It won't be had in a year or in a decade. Indeed, it is even more unreasonable to expect a simple remedy for a sick city than it is to anticipate a single drug that will cure all the physical and mental ills of its citizens," stated Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of Ouachita Parish Health Unit.

"The housing problem here as elsewhere in the world are complex —the resultant of a multitude of interdependent forces. Housing, in other words, cuts across social, political, and economic boundries.

Notwithstanding the greatest building boom in history, approximately one-third of the nation's 46,000,000 dwellings have basic health deficiencies. Approximately 6,600,000 dwelling units—1 out of every 7 in the country are overcrowded. About 1 out of 11 dwellings is so dilapidated that it provides inadequate shelter or protection against the elements or actually endangers the safety of the occupants. Approximately 13,800,000 dwellings—almost 1 out of 3—lack hot and cold running water inside the structure. One out of 3 houses lack good methods of sewage disposal and the same ratio of houses are overcrowded and lack proper ventilation.

Scientific studies have shown that the conditions mentioned above lead to a higher sickness and death rate", Dr. Summer further stated.

"The health department has a unique and personal relationship with the families who occupy substandard housing. The public health nurse and sanitarian are frequent visitors to the slum home and blighted area. Sickness and death rates, along with nuisance complaints, are always higher in these areas than the average for the community. It follows that public health problems are greater and expenditures for services higher in these areas," Dr. Summer remarked.

Dr. Summer offered suggestions to improve the housing situation by saying:

The regressive trend can be reversed. Many changes and improvements can be made within existing knowledge and ability. The problem becomes in part, then, a matter of attitude—your attitude and mine.

Within limits, Monroe or any other community can get as good housing as it wants. Good housing is purchaseable. It won't spring up overnight in place of blighted areas and slums. Good housing will be had only if the community—and all forces in it—will work to reach the goals that the community sets for itself".

Eden Talks With Molotov But Has Little Success

GENEVA, June 12 (AP)—Anthony Eden and Vyacheslav M. Molotov talked over proposed kill-or-cure remedies for the Geneva conference deadlock today, but failed to reach agreement.

The British and Soviet foreign ministers, co-chairmen of the Indochina parley, conferred for an hour at Molotov's villa on courses which could either break the deadlock or end the conference.

A British spokesman described the talk as inconclusive.

The plight of the French Cabinet in Paris added to the general atmosphere of frustration in Geneva.

East and West have been trying for seven weeks to reach some common ground on ways of unifying Korea and bringing peace to Indochina, but progress has been almost imperceptible.

From the outset, the Communists have rejected the Western demand for "truly impartial" supervision of free elections in Korea and of any armistice in Indochina. There have been other disagreements, but this was the paramount issue. The West charged the Communists were insisting on a veto right in both instances.

The decision of President Rene Coty to hold the French Cabinet's resignation in suspension for 48 hours left the French delegation here in an uncertain position for the week end.

A French delegation would continue to sit in on the negotiations here even if Coty accepted the Cabinet resignation, it was pointed out. But the delegation would be in no position to commit France on decisions here without the possibility of their repudiation by a new government. French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said in Paris after today's adverse Assembly vote that he would be back here Monday ready to go to work.

Both the Korean and the Indochina phases of the conference here were in suspension over the week end.

Eden Talks With Molotov But Has Little Success

GENEVA, June 12 (AP)—Anthony Eden and Vyacheslav M. Molotov talked over proposed kill-or-cure remedies for the Geneva conference deadlock today, but failed to reach agreement.

The British and Soviet foreign ministers, co-chairmen of the Indochina parley, conferred for an hour at Molotov's villa on courses which could either break the deadlock or end the conference.

A British spokesman described the talk as inconclusive.

The outcome hardened the view of the Western powers that the conference would begin to break up next week.

The plight of the French Cabinet in Paris added to the general atmosphere of frustration in Geneva.

East and West have been trying for seven weeks to reach some common ground on ways of unifying Korea and bringing peace to Indochina, but progress has been almost imperceptible.

From the outset, the Communists have rejected the Western demand for "truly impartial" supervision of free elections in Korea and of any armistice in Indochina. There have been other disagreements, but this was the paramount issue. The West charged the Communists were insisting on a veto right in both instances.

The decision of President Rene Coty to hold the French Cabinet's resignation in suspension for 48 hours left the French delegation here in an uncertain position for the week end.

A French delegation would continue to sit in on the negotiations here even if Coty accepted the Cabinet resignation, it was pointed out. But the delegation would be in no position to commit France on decisions here without the possibility of their repudiation by a new government. French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said in Paris after today's adverse Assembly vote that he would be back here Monday ready to go to work.

Both the Korean and the Indochina phases of the conference here were in suspension over the week end.

Registration Mark Set At N. E. Summer School

Summer school enrollment at Northeast State reached 725, it was announced Saturday noon. These figures far surpassed the registration of other summer terms and exceeded the number attending several regular sessions.

One of the college features which continues to prove popular is the Laboratory School, housed this summer in the Science Building. The school is attended by one hundred pupils of various grade levels.

The teaching program is being supervised by Miss Bettie Oxford, Mrs. Wanda Abbott, Miss Una Lea Wallace and T. L. Hammett. Thirty-five student teachers are experiencing observation and practical work under the four supervisors and Mrs. Evelyn Otts, director of teacher training.

Several experiments are being carried on through demonstrations in the Laboratory School, among them a project in teaching typing on the junior high school level.

Pupils attending the Laboratory School were given special recognition at the first general assembly in Brown Auditorium. Perry Elder, student body president, extended greetings to the entire student group, and President Lewis C. Slater gave the welcome address. He reviewed steps in the phenominal growth of the college and emphasized the friendliness which characterizes the campus. The President urged students to carry on this spirit which has become a characteristic of Northeast State.

George Brian of the speech faculty was master of ceremonies, and he gave a satirical reading on the lecture method used in teaching.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton of the college music faculty, and numbers were sung by Miss Betty Spurlock and Miss Manzie Guerriero. James Raymick, president of the Inter-Faith Council and the Baptist Student Union, gave the invocation.

India To Withdraw Troops From Tibet

NEW DELHI, India, June 12 (AP)—India plans to withdraw troops from Tibet within three months in accord with a recent India-China agreement. Three platoons of Indian troops have been stationed at Gyantse and Yatung for escort duty in the isolated Himalayan Mountain realm of the Dalai Lama, now under Red China military occupation.

Ava Gardner At Lake Tahoe For Divorce Period

LAKE TAHOE, Nev., June 12 (AP)—Beauteous Ava Gardner has arrived at this lake resort to establish Nevada residence for a divorce from husband No. 3—singer Frank Sinatra.

The actress drove up from Los Angeles yesterday and rented a plush cottage on the eastern shore for the required six-week stay.

Miss Gardner said she probably would "use the usual grounds" to divorce Sinatra. In Nevada that means extreme cruelty.

Miss Gardner brushed aside reports that she skipped going to Las Vegas to sit out the six weeks because former husband Artie Shaw, band leader, and Sinatra are currently performing in the southern Nevada city.

She said, "I like it better here."

Ingrid And Roberto Going To Germany

ROME, June 12 (AP) — Italian film sources say Roberto Rossellini and Ingrid Bergman will go to Germany next August to make their first film together outside Italy. Miss Bergman will star in a picture based on a story, "Fear," by German author Stefan Zweig.

Opposes Sending American Troops Into Indo-China

VICKSBURG, Miss., June 12 (AP) — Rep. Harold Patten (D-Ariz) said tonight he favored sending American money and guns to aid the French in Indochina, but opposed any use of American troops there.

Patten, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, addressed the annual encampment of the Mississippi department of Veterans of Foreign Wars. He said the United States should never send its troops to Indochina or fight any other colonial war.

Referring to the nationally televised McCarthy-Army hearings at Washington he said they were "causing America to lose face all over the world and regardless of how we feel about them personally they should never have been."

Other speakers today included Brig. Gen. Charles D. Jones, commander of the 405th Fighter Bomber Wing at Langley Air Force Base, Va.; Col. George E. Ijams, national service and rehabilitation director, Washington; and Gen. W. S. Shipman, chairman of the state veterans affairs board, Jackson.

Fined $200 For Losing Temper On Party Line

ATLANTA, June 12 (AP)—It cost William F. Holland a $200 fine to get peeved with two women using a party line telephone.

Holland told Judge Charles G. Bruce he had been trying to put in a telephone call for more than an hour, but his party line was tied up by a "long-winded" conversation between two women.

He admitted breaking in and demanding that they stop "all this gabbing." When they refused, he said he lost his temper and used "a little rough language."

Judge Bruce fined Holland $200 and gave him a suspended sentence of 12 months yesterday on a charge of "using opprobrious words."

Dutch To Command British Division

Anti-Segregation To Be Discussed At Meeting Of Kennon And 10 Solons

By JAMES MCLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The Louisiana Legislature is cautiously approaching the second phase of its determination to sidestep the Supreme Court ruling against separation of the races in public schools.

The first phase developed quickly after the high court jarred Dixie with its tradition-shattering decision. The Legislature, by resolution, said flatly it wanted school segregation to continue.

That was a few weeks ago.

A 10-man legislative committee, named to concentrate on the tremendous issue, expects to huddle Monday with Gov. Robert Kennon who has been sampling Southern sentiment in Richmond, Va.

In the House Education committee, six bills are marking the waiting for the authors to signal action.

The bills, rushed in on the deadline for introduction of legislation suggest a variety of dodges—everything from the state giving financial payments to pupils in private schools to setting up school zones for Negroes and whites.

When it begins to function, the 10-man committee likely will turn its first attention to the six bills. The lawmakers also are assigned to look into all phases of segregation in this state.

Gov. Kennon is known to favor one approach—authorizing state financial aid for parish school boards in building new schools, if necessary. And there is considerable thinking about allowing the school boards to lift the ceiling on their tax rates. School construction under present laws is financed locally without any state help.

With the 10-man committee getting ready to go to work, one member commented "we have to put something on the books.

"We will have to have legislation enacted into law in order to be prepared for the time when the Supreme Court decrees are handed down .... it is the key to the whole problem."

The court has announced it will call for further arguments after it meets in October.

The school segregation bills now in committee propose:

1. Changing the constitution by authorizing financial assistance from parish general school funds for students attending private elementary and high schools, and authorizing municipalities with their own school systems to do the same thing.

2. In two similar measures, giving parish school superintendents the power to tell each student which school he will attend, and setting up a system of appeals which protesting parents must follow before they can go into court. This is known legally as "exhausting administrative remedies" before court action can be asked.

3. Authorizing city and parish school boards to establish zones for school attendance with the right to prohibit any child to go to classes until the school board designates the school for his enrollment.

4. Prohibiting the state board of education from approving any schools which violate the separate facilities policy, and refusing to allow colleges or universities to honor high school graduate certificates from such sshools.

5. Allowing parish school boards to give financial assistance to students attending private schools with payments made to a trustee who volunteers or who is selected by the parents, and permitting school boards to sell or lease public school buildings.

While the Legislature, calmly and slowly, looks for a solution, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is watching every move.

Dr. E. A. Johnson of Natchitoches, state NAACP president, said the Louisiana division right now will push its program of asking admission of Negroes to state colleges and trade schools. The NAACP is ready with new lawsuits, if necessary.

As for the Supreme Court ruling on secondary and elementary schools, Dr. Johnson takes this view:

"I believe anything the Legislature does which has as its intent getting around the law will not hold up in a legal showdown. Such attempts may bring delays, but they will not prevent carrying out the purpose of the Supreme Court decision."

"But honestly, sincerely, we hope to acquire first class citizenship—if we don't go out for it, we'll never get it."

2-Year-Old Boy Burned; Condition Believed Serious

The two-year-old son of a Texas couple visiting in Monroe was believed to be in serious condition at St. Francis sanitarium last night following a storage room fire late Saturday afternoon which reportedly left the child severely burned.

Tony Baur, fire chief for station six, said that Jimmy McDade, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross McDade, was removed to the hospital at about 6:30 p.m. Saturday when firemen discovered the child injured at the G. R. Hammons home at 1804 Milton street. A storage room blaze, confined to the room and causing little damage, was blamed for the injuries.

Baur believed the child and his parents to be Texas visitors of the Hammons family.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Twin Cities Sports may be in last place in the Cotton States League standings, but they're definitely not out of the race. At this writing, with last night's returns still not in, the Sports were just a game and a half out of fourth place, a situation that could be changed with even a minor winning streak. Five and a half games out of third is not too much of a disadvantage, and a climb right now could do a lot to stimulate the attendance at Legion Memorial Stadium.

Manager Ed Head started shaking up his lineup on the road trip just ended, an indication that he's certainly going to squeeze the best out of what he has got in an effort to build a winner. New players supposedly are on the way (may have arrived last night) as the club seeks to strengthen. As long as the board of directors and Head keep working to mend their fences the Sports should soon find the key to some consistent victories.

All they want is for the fans to bear with them, even though it's mighty tough on customers to see their club take defeats too regularly. It just can't go on. That turn of fortune has got to come.

Starting pitchers haven't been able to go the distance often enough, but Thursday night Johnny Maroney went the route in dropping a heart-breaking four-hitter to Pine Bluff, and Friday night Len Strickler, although needing help in the last inning, mastered the Judges on five hits. The fact that two hurlers practically went the distance on successive nights could be an indication of better things to come.

Too, C. J. Fontana is on a batting climb with the possibility of cracking the .300 circle in another week. In the past week he jumped his average a full 50 points to .293.

Once again this department is ready to count the ballots from this area as baseball fans across the nation begin picking their favorite major league players for the All-Star game to be played at Cleveland on July 13. Final tabulations from this area will have to be counted not later than July 3, giving you big league followers about three weeks to make your decisions.

Ralph Bernard, Route 1, Pioneer, was our "expert" at picking the teams last year, missing only one position on each club. Jimmy Wyche, Monroe, picked the American League All-Stars man for man but missed three National League positions. Dale Boyett, Monroe, had the third best, missing one National and two American. Others with good selections a year ago were J. E. Wyche, Jr., Jerry Vineyard and Bill Little, Monroe; B. F. Barron, Oak Grove; John Menasco, Ferriday; Jerry Hoben and John Cox, Rayville; Johnny Priest, Bastrop; W. A. Thompson, Jr., Pioneer; Hughey Ham, Farmerville; and Fred H. Persson, Wisner. Hundreds took part in this area.

You win no prizes, no reward whatever, for participating in the All-Star poll. But if you are good enough at matching the final selections we'll try to recognize your efforts in this corner. All that is necessary is to select one man for each position, except pitcher, for both the American and National loops. The players chosen must regular play the positions to which they are selected. For instance, the three best outfielders in the majors may all play left field, but only one can be picked for the spot. Center fielders and right fielders only get the other jobs. Just mail your selections, with your name and address clearly written, to "The Sports Department, Monroe Morning World." Then sit back and see how the voting goes.

Jim Wilson Hurls No-Hitter For Braves

Phillies Victims Of Masterpiece By 2 To 0 Score

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE, June 12 (AP)—Big Jim Wilson, the forgotten man of the Milwaukee Braves' mound staff, pitched the first no-hit no-run game of the 1954 major league season today, beating Philadelphia, 2-0, on home runs by Johnny Logan and Del Crandall.

The 32-year-old right hander, shunted to the dugout after an indifferent season a year ago, faced only 28 batters, one over par, in hurling his near-perfect game. The lone Philadelphia base runner was Smokey Burgess, who drew the only walks Wilson issued. Burgess was left stranded in the second inning when Johnny Wyrostek struck out and was nipped in a double play in the fifth, also as Wyrostek went down swinging.

The no-hitter came on Wilson's second start of the year. In his first appearance, last Sunady, he shut out Pittsburgh, 5-0, on a four-hit job.

The no-hitter was the first in the National League since Carl Erskine whitewashed the Chicago Cubs, 5-0, for Brooklyn on June 19, 1952.

Wilson's victim was Robin Roberts, who had beaten the Braves nine straight times over the past three years. Logan blasted his No. 6 homer of the year 380-feet into the left field bleachers as the second batter in the first inning, and Crandall cleared the left field fence, some 390 feet out, as the third man in the fifth inning.

Wilson, going into today's game, had pitched only 17 1-3 innings, including the nine against Pittsburgh last Sunday. His earned run average was 3.59.

Nine years ago Wilson was virtually written out of big league pitching for the Boston Red Sox in the American League. Wilson was struck by a line drive off the bat of Hank Greenberg and came close to losing his life.

The Braves picked him up after he had posted a 24-11 record with Sattle in the Pacific Coast League in 1950. He had a 7-7 record with the Braves in 1951, and 12-14 in 1952. A year ago he won four while losing nine and finished with a 4.34 earned run average.

Cincinnati Redlegs Sign 3 Collegians

CINCINNATI, June 12 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds today signed three Ohio University baseball stars, with outfielder Dick Murphy getting a Cincinnati contract.

Jack Mehl of Parkersburg, W. Va., was signed with the Class C Duluth, Minn., club and Tom Biskup of Youngstown, Ohio, was given a Columbia, S. C., contract in the Class A Sally League.

Murphy, a Cincinnati high school graduate, is 22 years old and hit .380 for Ohio University over a three-year period. He will be in uniform tomorrow.

Mehl, a righthanded pitcher, is 21. Biskup, also 21, starred as a shortstop on the Athens, Ohio, squad.

Fontana Nears .300 Mark

By J. P. FRIEND
League Statistician

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., June 12. (Special) — Veterans have all but taken over the Cotton States League batting department. Of the 14 regulars within the coveted .300 circle nine are seasoned performers and, with exception of one, all were in the loop last season and did all right with the willow.

Freshman Frank Walenga, El Dorado first baseman, not only continues to set the blistering pace, but within the ultra stratospheric range of .413. The Oiler star blasted 10 hits in 27 times at bat last week but lost nine points. His safeties totalled 18 bases that extended his season amount to 102 to become the first to crash the century figure. He poled his eighth homer of the year, to go along with nine doubles and five triples. He has batted in 35 runs and counted 33 times himself.

Hal Martin, who indelibly wrote his name into the league record books as a slugger during 1953 with Hot Springs, may be again headed in that direction as a Greenville Buck. Last week's plate production offers promising evidence as 14 hits sailed off his power - laden bat in only 29 times at bat, including three doubles, a pair of triples and three four masters. He dented home plate 10 times and accounted for 16 mates during the extra busy session. As a result, he piled on 50 points to his batting average and wound up the Tuesday night period with .410.

Meridian's revitalized Jack Maupin also made progress towards the top rung of the batting ladder where he already has roosted once this season. He powdered 13 safeties out of 32 tries that hetted four points to an impressive .390. He has the most hits, 62, and scored the most, 49, with his 100 total bases crowding Walenga's production. He has 35 rbi's, five coming in during the June 2 game on two homers, one a grand slam.

Hugh Glaze, another Buck, has a 10-game skein in operation with last period's seven contests and upped his mace mark 41 decimals to .369 and the No. 4 slot.

Greenville's promising young Arkansas catcher, Frank Shell, kept up his stiff batting gait with 28-10 for .351, a gain of two points. So did Hot Springs' Steve Korfonta, runnerup for the swat crown in '53. The Bather outfielder shone through the dismal Hot Spring winless week with a 11-point gain to .350 with 11 hits in 28 times at bat.

Tommy Davis' bat was also busy during his six games, gaining 11 points on 21-8, getting a hit in all. The Miller manager has 123-40 for the year.

Pel Austin, El Dorado's big gun, regained the select group at .317 with a dozen safeties in 29 chances. Five doubles gave him the lead in that department with 13. He has batted in 40 runs just six short of the leader.

Vernon (Moose) Shetler, Meridian, lost 30 points to .308, but batted six runs across for the rbi lead with 46.

Banks McDowell, Greenville outfielder, has a nine - game streak in progress to highlight his 16-point boost to .307 and take his old place in the .300 circle after a two - week absence. Gene Pompelia, Meridian, also got back in the fold with a six - point gain to .304, followed by Garry Anderson (new El Dorado shortstop, .302, and Joe Miller, Hot Springs, .301. The latter showed a 47-point climb.

One of the biggest jumps of the week was turned in by Monroe's Charles Fontana, home -town boy who is trying to help the Twin Cities Sports. Fourteen hits in 30 times at bat graced his eight-game chart and boosted his batting average from .237 to .293. Twelve hits came in four successive games, June 1-4, four each in June 2 and 3.

Doug Kassay is the stolen base leader with 15, three more than Gene Bilo, El Dorado. The Judge rook has six triples, the same as Hal Martin.

Earl Castile, Greenville, won his third game without a loss over Hot Springs, but El Dorado Bobby Brown's impressive 9-1 mark overshadows. Teammate Ken Yoke boasts 6-1, and another Oiler, Elmer Toth, has 7-2. Tommy White, Meridian, ranks next with 6-2. Brown also tops the pitchers in strikeouts, 62.

Meridian has a one - point edge over Greenville in batting, .273-.273, while El Dorado's fielding margin over the Bucks is even less, only .00003 of a percentage point.

Southern Cal's Spikemen Again N. C. A. A. Kings

ANN ARBOR Mich., June 12 (AP)—Southern California's power-packed Trojans overwhelmed all their opposition today to win their sixth straight N. C. A. A. track and field championship with 66 17-20 points.

Coach Jess Mortensen's outfit was led by high-jumper Ernie Shelton, who missed three tries at the fabled seven-foot mark by a whisker, and Jim Lea, who won the 440 for the second straight year.

Shelton's winning mark was 6 feet $10\frac{1}{4}$ inches, and an inch and a quarter under the world record of 6-11 $\frac{1}{2}$, held by Walt Davis. But the dramatic moment of the two-day meet came when the officials raised the cross bar to seven feet.

Three times Shelton tried and three times he barely ticked the bar.

"I'll never make it now," he said sadly later. He will get another try next week in the National A. A. championships in St. Louis.

Indians Nose Out Bosox 4-3, To Regain Loop Lead

BOSTON, June 12 (AP) — Larry Doby's bases loaded single in the seventh inning enabled Cleveland to defeat the Boston Red Sox 4-3 today and take over the American League lead before 18,917.

Doby's timely two-run safety put the Tribe, trailing 2-3 at the time, in the lead to stay. Cleveland was outhit six to five by the Red Sox but did its damage with a three-run seventh.

Don Mossi turned in a perfect relief job over the last three innings to perserve Bob Feller's third triumph of the season and raise his lifetime record to 30-25 against the Sox.

Wheatley's Full Flight Home 1st In Richards Run

WILMINGTON, Del., June 12 (AP) —The Wheatley stable's Full Flight, second in last week's Kent, came back today with a popular victory in the 17th and richest Leonard Richards Stakes before 23,995 fans at Delaware Park.

Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps' plodding colt wore down the Woodley Lane farm's Red Hannigan about halfway through the final furlong in the mile and an eighth fixture and scored by a length and half in 150 3-5.

Red Hannigan, runner-up in the Jersey Stakes in his previous start, was second by a half dozen lengths, with Howell E. Jackson's Chateau third in the field of 10 three-year-olds.

The event had a gross value of $49,775, including the $32,500 added money, and netted the victor $38,690.

Breaking seventh, the son of Amborix was not rushed by veteran jockey Jesse Higley who gradually improved his mount's position while steering around horses to avoid trouble. Although trying to bear in slightly while challenging for the lead, Full Flight drew away smartly in the last sixteenth of a mile.

Back of the first four in order came First Watch, War Dome, Diving Board, Biloxi, Catspaw and Menemsha, the last named tiring badly after stealing a long early lead.

U. S. Girls Claim Wightman Trophy 18th Time In Row

WIMBLEDON, England, June 12 (AP)—Maureen Connolly and Doris Hart provided the one-two punch again today to lead the United States to a 6-0 sweep over England for its 18th straight victory in the Wightman Cup women's tennis competition.

Playing in sporadic rain which drenched the players and had them skidding all over the courts, Miss Connolly and Miss Hert won their second singles matches, while the veteran Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., added another point.

The Americans had stepped out to a 3-0 advantage yesterday in a program also played in miserable conditions.

A seventh match, a scheduled doubles affair involving Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, and Miss Hart and Britain's Helen Fletcher and Ann Shilcock, had to be abandoned because of rain.

Miss Brough, former Wimbledon champion, started the day's rout for America by downing 19-year-old Angela Buxton 8-6, 6-2. The match was delayed 90 minutes by rain and interrupted for 15 minutes in the opening set with the score 6-6.

Then Miss Connolly, rated the world's best in her division, trounced Ann Shilcock 6-2, 6-2 in 45 minutes and Miss Hart stood off an unexpected rally by Helen Fletcher to win 6-1, 6-8, 6-2.

Because of the weather conditions, there were only 1,000 fans in the stands of England's famous tennis stadium. It was the seventh shutout for the Americans in the series, dating back to 1923. Britain last won in 1930.

Chisox Scout Signs Crusader Baseballer

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 12 (AP) Chicago White Sox scout Benny Huffman announced today the signing of Holy Cross baseball captain Paul Brissette, 21, of Springfield for a reported bonus of $5,000.

Brissette, a long ball hitting second baseman was assigned to Chicago's Colorado Springs farm club in the Class A Western League. He will report immediately.

Negro Big League Clubs Billed Here For Friday Scrap

The Birmingham Black Barons, winners of nine of their last ten games in the Negro American League, will meet the Memphis Red Sox in an official game at Legion Memorial Stadium here next Friday night at 8 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by E. H. Hoston who is handling local arrangements for the game.

The Barons, slow to round into form but currently the hottest club in the Negro big league circuit, are riding the crest of a winning streak that has reached seven straight. The hard hitting of "Doc" Dennis, popular Black Baron first baseman, Curley Williams, shortstop, and John Kennedy and Clarence King has been a big reason for the Birmingham success that has their opposition in jitters.

Birmingham's club, always a good attraction here, currently sports a 16-7 record.

The Flying Nesbitts, screen and television acrobatics, are also appearing with the Barons as exhibitionists and promise a good show in connection with the Friday night game.

Bastrop Juniors Roll Over Delhi For 7-2 Victory

BASTROP, La., June 12 (Special) — Effective pitching by Perine Johnson, who went into action in the first inning, carried the Bastrop American Legion Junior baseball club, sponsored by J. B. Jones Ford Motors, to a 7 to 2 victory over Delhi's Juniors here last night.

Bastrop's starter, Cain, had control trouble walking two and serving up one hit as Delhi tallied one run in the first inning before Johnson came in to put out the fire. Johnson hurled one-hit ball the rest of the way, permitted one run in the second inning, and fanned eight.

After going ahead with three runs in the second inning, Bastrop got insurance with four runs in the sixth on Gayle Peek's bases-loaded triple. A single by Bill Carter scored Peek. Carter and Peek each got two hits to lead the Bastrop attack.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Twin Cities Sports may be in last place in the Cotton States League standings, but they're definitely not out of the race. At this writing, with last night's returns still not in, the Sports were just a game and a half out of fourth place, a situation that could be changed with even a minor winning streak. Five and a half games out of third is not too much of a disadvantage, and a climb right now could do a lot to stimulate the attendance at Legion Memorial Stadium.

Manager Ed Head started shaking up his lineup on the road trip just ended, an indication that he's certainly going to squeeze the best out of what he has got in an effort to build a winner. New players supposedly are on the way (may have arrived last night) as the club seeks to strengthen. As long as the board of directors and Head keep working to mend their fences the Sports should soon find the key to some consistent victories.

All they want is for the fans to bear with them, even though it's mighty tough on customers to see their club take defeats too regularly. It just can't go on. That turn of fortune has got to come.

Starting pitchers haven't been able to go the distance often enough, but Thursday night Johnny Maroney went the route in dropping a heart-breaking four-hitter to Pine Bluff, and Friday night Len Strickler, although needing help in the last inning, mastered the Judges on five hits. The fact that two hurlers practically went the distance on successive nights could be an indication of better things to come.

Too, C. J. Fontana is on a batting climb with the possibility of cracking the .300 circle in another week. In the past week he jumped his average a full 50 points to .293.

Once again this department is ready to count the ballots from this area as baseball fans across the nation begin picking their favorite major league players for the All-Star game to be played at Cleveland on July 13. Final tabulations from this area will have to be counted not later than July 3, giving you big league followers about three weeks to make your decisions.

Ralph Bernard, Route 1, Pioneer, was our "expert" at picking the teams last year, missing only one position on each club. Jimmy Wyche, Monroe, picked the American League All-Stars man for man but missed three National League positions. Dale Boyett, Monroe, had the third best, missing one National and two American. Others with good selections a year ago were J. E. Wyche, Jr., Jerry Vineyard and Bill Little, Monroe; B. F. Barron, Oak Grove; John Menasco, Ferriday; Jerry Hoben and John Cox, Rayville; Johnny Priest, Bastrop; W. A. Thompson, Jr., Pioneer; Hughey Ham, Farmerville; and Fred H. Persson, Wisner. Hundreds took part in this area.

You win no prizes, no reward whatever, for participating in the All-Star poll. But if you are good enough at matching the final selections we'll try to recognize your efforts in this corner. All that is necessary is to select one man for each position, except pitcher, for both the American and National loops. The players chosen must regular play the positions to which they are selected. For instance, the three best outfielders in the majors may all play left field, but only one can be picked for the spot. Center fielders and right fielders only get the other jobs. Just mail your selections, with your name and address clearly written, to "The Sports Department, Monroe Morning World." Then sit back and see how the voting goes.

Jim Wilson Hurls No-Hitter For Braves

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE, June 12 (AP)—Big Jim Wilson, the forgotten man of the Milwaukee Braves' mound staff, pitched the first no-hit no-run game of the 1954 major league season today, beating Philadelphia, 2-0, on home runs by Johnny Logan and Del Crandall.

The 32-year-old right hander, shunted to the dugout after an indifferent season a year ago, faced only 28 batters, one over par, in hurling his near-perfect game. The lone Philadelphia base runner was Smokey Burgess, who drew the only walks Wilson issued. Burgess was left stranded in the second inning when Johnny Wyrostek struck out and was nipped in a double play in the fifth, also as Wyrostek went down swinging.

The no-hitter came on Wilson's second start of the year. In his first appearance, last Sunady, he shut out Pittsburgh, 5-0, on a four-hit job.

The no-hitter was the first in the National League since Carl Erskine whitewashed the Chicago Cubs, 5-0, for Brooklyn on June 19, 1952.

Wilson's victim was Robin Roberts, who had beaten the Braves nine straight times over the past three years. Logan blasted his No. 6 homer of the year 380-feet into the left field bleachers as the second batter in the first inning, and Crandall cleared the left field fence, some 390 feet out, as the third man in the fifth inning.

Wilson, going into today's game, had pitched only 17 1-3 innings, including the nine against Pittsburgh last Sunday. His earned run average was 3.59.

Nine years ago Wilson was virtually written out of big league pitching for the Boston Red Sox in the American League. Wilson was struck by a line drive off the bat of Hank Greenberg and came close to losing his life.

The Braves picked him up after he had posted a 24-11 record with Sattle in the Pacific Coast League in 1950. He had a 7-7 record with the Braves in 1951, and 12-14 in 1952. A year ago he won four while losing nine and finished with a 4.34 earned run average.

Fontana Nears .300 Mark

By J. P. FRIEND
League Statistician

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., June 12. (Special) — Veterans have all but taken over the Cotton States League batting department. Of the 14 regulars within the coveted .300 circle nine are seasoned performers and, with exception of one, all were in the loop last season and did all right with the willow.

Freshman Frank Walenga, El Dorado first baseman, not only continues to set the blistering pace, but within the ultra stratospheric range of .413. The Oiler star blasted 10 hits in 27 times at bat last week but lost nine points. His safeties totalled 18 bases that extended his season amount to 102 to become the first to crash the century figure. He poled his eighth homer of the year, to go along with nine doubles and five triples. He has batted in 35 runs and counted 33 times himself.

Hal Martin, who indelibly wrote his name into the league record books as a slugger during 1953 with Hot Springs, may be again headed in that direction as a Greenville Buck. Last week's plate production offers promising evidence as 14 hits sailed off his power - laden bat in only 29 times at bat, including three doubles, a pair of triples and three four masters. He dented home plate 10 times and accounted for 16 mates during the extra busy session. As a result, he piled on 50 points to his batting average and wound up the Tuesday night period with .410.

Meridian's revitalized Jack Maupin also made progress towards the top rung of the batting ladder where he already has roosted once this season. He powdered 13 safeties out of 32 tries that netted four points to an impressive .390. He has the most hits, 62, and scored the most, 49, with his 100 total bases crowding Walenga's production. He has 35 rbi's, five coming in during the June 2 game on two homers, one a grand slam.

Hugh Glaze, another Buck, has a 10-game skein in operation with last period's seven contests and upped his mace mark 41 decimals to .369 and the No. 4 slot.

Greenville's promising young Arkansas catcher, Frank Shell, kept up his stiff batting gait with 28-10 for .351, a gain of two points. So did Hot Springs' Steve Korfonta, runnerup for the swat crown in '53. The Bather outfielder shone through the dismal Hot Spring winless week with a 11-point gain to .350 with 11 hits in 28 times at bat.

Tommy Davis' bat was also busy during his six games, gaining 11 points on 21-8, getting a hit in all. The Miller manager has 123-40 for the year.

Pel Austin, El Dorado's big gun, regained the select group at .317 with a dozen safeties in 29 chances. Five doubles gave him the lead in that department with 13. He has batted in 40 runs just six short of the leader.

Vernon (Moose) Shetler, Meridian, lost 30 points to .308, but batted six runs across for the rbi lead with 46.

Banks McDowell, Greenville outfielder, has a nine - game streak in progress to highlight his 16-point boost to .307 and take his old place in the .300 circle after a two - week absence. Gene Pompelia, Meridian, also got back in the fold with a six - point gain to .304, followed by Garry Anderson, new El Dorado shortstop, .302; and Joe Miller, Hot Springs, .301. The latter showed a 47-point climb.

One of the biggest jumps of the week was turned in by Monroe's Charles Fontana, home -town boy who is trying to help the Twin Cities Sports. Fourteen hits in 30 times at bat graced his eight-game chart and boosted his batting average from .237 to .293. Twelve hits came in four successive games, June 1-4, four each in June 2 and 3.

Doug Kassay is the stolen base leader with 15, three more than Gene Bilo, El Dorado. The Judge rook has six triples, the same as Hal Martin.

Earl Castile, Greenville, won his third game without a loss over Hot Springs, but El Dorado Bobby Brown's impressive 9-1 mark overshadows. Teammate Ken Yoke boasts 6-1, and another Oiler, Elmer Toth, has 7-2. Tommy White, Meridian, ranks next with 6-2. Brown also tops the pitchers in strikeouts, 62.

Meridian has a one - point edge over Greenville in batting, .273-.273, while El Dorado's fielding margin over the Bucks is even less, only .00003 of a percentage point.

Southern Cal's Spikemen Again N. C. A. A. Kings

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 12 (AP)—Southern California's power-packed Trojans overwhelmed all their opposition today to win their sixth straight N. C. A. A. track and field championship with 66 17-20 points.

Coach Jess Mortensen's outfit was led by high-jumper Ernie Shelton, who missed three tries at the fabled seven-foot mark by a whisker, and Jim Lea, who won the 440 for the second straight year.

Shelton's winning mark was 6 feet 10¼ inches, and an inch and a quarter under the world record of 6-11 ½, held by Walt Davis. But the dramatic moment of the two-day meet came when the officials raised the cross bar to seven feet.

Three times Shelton tried and three times he barely ticked the bar.

"I'll never make it now," he said sadly later. He will get another try next week in the National A. A. championships in St. Louis.

Dixon Signs Pact

Pitcher Dixon, 21, Will Report To Shreveport Tomorrow

Pitcher Dixon, 21, who was released by the Shreveport Sports of the Texas League last week, has signed a contract with the Monroe Sports of the Cotton States League, it was announced today by Manager Ed Head.

Dixon will report to the Sports in Shreveport tomorrow.

Dixon, a right-hander, was released by Shreveport after he had been given a chance to work out with the Sports. He had been with the Sports in spring training.

Dixon, who is 6-1 and weighs 190 pounds, was signed by Shreveport after he had been released by Monroe in 1953. He had been with the Sports in 1952 and 1953.

Cincinnati Redlegs Sign 3 Collegians

CINCINNATI, June 12 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds today signed three Ohio University baseball stars, with outfielder Dick Murphy getting a Cincinnati contract.

Jack Mehl of Parkersburg, W. Va., was signed with the Class C Duluth, Minn., club and Tom Biskup of Youngstown, Ohio, was given a Columbia, S. C., contract in the Class A Sally League.

Murphy, a Cincinnati high school graduate, is 22 years old and hit .380 for Ohio University over a three-year period. He will be in uniform tomorrow.

Mehl, a righthanded pitcher, is 21. Biskup, also 21, starred as a shortstop on the Athens, Ohio, squad.

Imbros, Determine Run 1-2 To Take Californian Race

INGLEWOOD, Calif., June 12 (AP)—Kentucky Derby champion Determine took his first swing at the older horses today and gave a fine account of himself, but it was left to his stablemate, Imbros, to lead him to the wire in the $121,400 Californian Stakes at Hollywood Park.

The speedy Imbros tied the world record for a mile and one-sixteenth held by Count Fleet, as he beat the little gray dandy, Determine, by a little more than a length. Imbros was clocked at 1.41.00 in a wire to wire triumph.

The King Ranch's High Scud was third.

Determine, the lone 3-year-old in the field of nine in this inaugural running of the allowance stakes, held a steady position at third around the track, and then came up to challenge his 4-year-old stablemate in a run down the stretch.

An estimated 50,000 fans cheered the tiny gray scrapper on, but just about this time the King Ranch's High Scud began to rush toward the front.

For a time it appeared that Determine would pass Imbros, and then for a moment both Imbros and Determine seemed in dire danger from High Scud.

Jockey Johnny Longden, if he wasn't already giving Imbros his all, went to the whip in earnest and swept on in.

Ray York, meanwhile, was giving Determine a teriffic ride in the stretch, and there was no doubt that Andrew J. Crevolin's handsome pair, the heavy betting favorite, would grab the rich prize in one-two fashion.

The entry paid $3.10, $2.80 and $2.40, and High Scud $4.80.

Indians Nose Out Bosox 4-3, To Regain Loop Lead

BOSTON, June 12 (AP) — Larry Doby's bases loaded single in the seventh inning enabled Cleveland to defeat the Boston Red Sox 4-3 today and take over the American League lead before 18,917.

Doby's timely two-run safety put the Tribe, trailing 2-3 at the time, in the lead to stay. Cleveland was outhit six to five by the Red Sox but did its damage with a three-run seventh.

Don Mossi turned in a perfect relief job over the last three innings to perserve Bob Feller's third triumph of the season and raise his lifetime record to 30-25 against the Sox.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 12 (AP)—The Wheatley stable's Full Flight, second in last week's Kent, came back today with a popular victory in the 17th and richest Leonard Richards Stakes before 23,905 fans at Delaware Park.

Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps' plodding colt wore down the Woodley Lane farm's Red Hannigan about halfway through the final furlong in the mile and an eighth fixture and scored by a length and half in 150 3-5.

Red Hannigan, runner-up in the Jersey Stakes in his previous start, was second by a half dozen lengths, with Howell E. Jackson's Chateau third in the field of 10 three-year-olds.

The event had a gross value of $49,775, including the $32,500 added money, and netted the victor $38,690.

Breaking seventh, the son of Ambiorix was not rushed by veteran jockey Jesse Higley, who gradually improved his mount's position while steering around horses to avoid trouble. Although trying to bear in slightly while challenging for the lead, Full Flight drew away smartly in the last sixteenth of a mile.

Back of the first four in order came First Watch, War Doings, Diving Board, Biloxi, Catspaw and Menemsha, the last named tiring badly after stealing a long early lead.

U. S. Girls Claim Wightman Trophy 18th Time In Row

WIMBLEDON, England, June 12 (AP)—Maureen Connolly and Doris Hart provided the one-two punch again today to lead the United States to a 6-0 sweep over England for its 18th straight victory in the Wightman Cup women's tennis competition.

Playing in sporadic rain which drenched the players and had them skidding all over the courts, Miss Connolly and Miss Hart won their second singles matches while the veteran Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., added another point.

The Americans had stepped off to a 3-0 advantage yesterday in a program also played in miserable conditions.

A seventh match, a scheduled doubles affair involving Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, and Miss Hart and Britain's Helen Fletcher and Ann Shilcock, had to be abandoned because of rain.

Miss Brough, former Wimbledon champion, started the day's rout for America by downing 19-year-old Angela Buxton 8-6, 6-2. The match was delayed 90 minutes by rain and interrupted for 15 minutes in the opening set with the score 6-6.

Then Miss Connolly, rated the world's best in her division, trounced Ann Shilcock 6-2, 6-2 in 45 minutes and Miss Hart stood off an unexpected rally by Helen Fletcher to win 6-1, 6-8, 6-2.

Because of the weather conditions, there were only 1,000 fans in the stands of England's famous tennis stadium. It was the seventh shutout for the Americans in the series, dating back to 1923. Britain last won in 1930.

Chisox Scout Signs Crusader Baseballer

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 12 (AP)—Chicago White Sox scout Benny Huffman announced today the signing of Holy Cross baseball captain Paul Brissette, 21, of Springfield for a reported bonus of $5,000.

Brissette, a long ball hitting second baseman, was assigned to Chicago's Colorado Springs farm club in the Class A Western League. He will report immediately.

The Birmingham Black Barons, winners of nine of their last ten games in the Negro American League, will meet the Memphis Red Sox in an official game at Legion Memorial Stadium here next Friday night at 8 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by E. H. Hoston who is handling local arrangements for the game.

The Barons, slow to round into form but currently the hottest club in the Negro big league circuit, are riding the crest of a winning streak that has reached seven straight. The hard hitting of "Doc" Dennis, popular Black Baron first baseman, Curley Williams, shortstop, and John Kennedy and Clarence King has been a big reason for the Birmingham success that has their opposition in jitters.

Birmingham's club, always a good attraction here, currently sports a 16-7 record.

The Flying Nesbitts, screen and television acrobatics, are also appearing with the Barons as exhibitionists and promise a good show in connection with the Friday night game.

Bastrop Juniors Roll Over Delhi For 7-2 Victory

BASTROP, La., June 12 (Special)—Fine relief pitching by Ronnie Johnson, who went into action in the first inning, carried the Bastrop American Legion Junior baseball club, sponsored by J. B. Jones Ford Motors, to a 7 to 2 victory over Delhi's Juniors here last night.

Bastrop's starter, Cain, had control trouble, walking two and serving up one hit as Delhi tallied one run in the first inning before Johnson came in to put out the fire. Johnson hurled one-hit ball the rest of the way, permitted one run in the second inning, and fanned eight.

After going ahead with three runs in the second inning, Bastrop got insurance with four runs in the sixth on Gayle Peek's bases-loaded triple. A single by Bill Carter scored Peek. Carter and Peek each got two hits to lead the Bastrop attack.

Sports In Fine Form To Nose Out Bathers, 3 To 2

Twin Cities Take Game In Ninth On Halley's 4-Hitter

The faces were the same but there were position shifts as the Twin Cities Sports came home from a seven-game road trip to turn in their most colorful performance of the season at Legion Memorial Stadium to turn back the Hot Springs Bathers, 3 to 2, in the opener of a three-game series. They meet here again this afternoon in a single game beginning at 3 o'clock.

The four hundred and sixty-three fans got some real fielding treats of heads-up ball by Skipper Ed Head's outfit in the third and fifth innings that could have meant the difference in victory and defeat, but the Sports still had to fight for everything they got as they broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth inning with nothing more than a base on balls and a pair of sacrifices.

Shortstop Herman Herzog caught the Hot Springs infield napping in the ninth to gain two bases on a sacrifice bunt by Bill Halley to set up the winning run. Herzog had walked. Halley bunted and was thrown out at first with Herzog giving the fans a charge as he raced in under a belated throw to third safely.

Chuck Forbes came up to bat and fouled a fly along the left field line. He was tagged up to go after Steve Korfonta's catch, but the Bather outfielder dropped the ball. Forbes then lofted another fly to Korfonta in fair territory and Herzog raced home behind the catch with the game-winning run.

Halley, except for some tense moments when he was passing out seven bases on balls, put the Bathers away with four hits. The Sports got only five off the offerings of Larry Kelcher and Ray Glazer.

A triple by Stoney Bolton, Bather catcher, started the scoring in the third inning as he came home on a single by Kelcher. The Sports saved a run in the frame when Frank Cooper, who had walked just ahead of Bolton's blow, was thrown out trying to steal, Sam Chetta to Paul Flores at second.

The Sports went ahead with two runs in their half of the third when C. J. Fontana singled into right field, scoring Frank Marinkovich and Flores. Marinkovich was aboard with an infield hit and Flores had walked when Fontana drove the runs home. Fontana had headed for second as Marinkovich crossed the plate, scoring from second, and while Fontana drew the play as he was run down between second and first, Flores also scored.

But the Spas tied it up at 2-2 in the fourth as Halley became too free with his passes. Steve Korfonta opened with a single. Free passes to Bud Miller, Cooper and Bolton after two were out forced Korfonta across.

Good Twin Cities fielding probably beat Hot Springs out of a run in the fourth. Lee Akers, who had walked, was the victim of a pickoff at first, Halley to Bob Norden. Korfonta lashed a long blow off the fence in right center. He had two bases easy and was out for a triple. Marinkovich fielding the ball threw to Flores to be relayed to "Duren" Falatic, the catcher working at third base and Falatic caught Korfonta cold there.

NEW TALENT HERE

Jimmie Nissel, 20-year-old second baseman for Tulane University for three years and rated one of the outstanding infielders of the Southeastern Conference has signed with the Twin Cities Sports. Nissel, a 165-pound graduate of Jesuit High of New Orleans who played for the Bastrop Barons in the Big Eight League last year, was present but not in uniform last night. He is due to break into the starting lineup this afternoon.

Also on hand was Virgil Petty, an infielder - catcher obtained from Lake Charles of the Evangeline. Petty is also awaiting his first start with the Sports.

Manager Ed Head said he had some other deals in the making and appeared confident that the Sports are ready for better days.

Player, Pilot Row Jars A's

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, June 12 (AP)—Slugger Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics was fined $250 today for a dugout row with manager Eddie Joost creating a situation that could result in trading of the outfielder or firing of the manager.

Joost, striding angrily into the clubhouse after a morning meeting with club vice president Earle Mack and Zernial, told newsmen that homer hammering Gus had been fined $250. It was the heaviest such penalty imposed on a major league player this year.

The fiery Joost was really hot under the collar as he gave reporters only the bare bones of his news: "Zernial was fined $250. That's all I have to say." And with that he ended the short-lived interview.

Zernial and Joost argued bitterly in plain view of the crowd before the second game of last night's double header with the Detroit Tigers. The outfielder resented being benched and told his manager so bluntly. Zernial finally was escorted from the dugout and Vic Power replaced him in the lineup. The A's, who had lost the first game 16-5, won the nightcap 2-1.

Zernial came out of the three conered meeting obviously an unhappy ball player. He said it was "a misunderstanding between Eddie and me. He didn't think it proper for me to argue on the bench in front of other players."

The 210-pound Texan, who now resides in California, said he didn't know that he had been fined as yet. "I haven't received a salary check with any deduction. If Eddie said I was fined, that will have to be his words. This is the first time in my baseball career I have ever been fined—if I have been fined."

Asked if the situation had been resolved, Gus said, "It's straightened out as much as it can be straightened out."

Mack was perplexed.

What's it all about, reporters asked the A's executive.

"Truthfully, I don't know," said Mack. "Nobody tells me anything. I had Joost and Zrnial in here and I couldn't get a word in edgewise. Apparently this thing has been smouldering for some time. I'll have to conduct an investigation into the situation and find out what the trouble is. I certainly am not satisfied with the results of this meeting."

Mack said the $250 fine would stick.

"As long as Joost is manager I'll have to stand by him. After all I put him there. I am not going to have a ball player manage the club so long as I have a manager."

Mack said his object was to get the two together but "I couldn't find out what it was all about."

Mack said the meeting was climaxed when Joost walked out in anger. He said he then told Zernial to "go to the clubhouse, get dressed and do whatever Eddie Joost tells you to do."

Asked if he would trade Zernial, Mack said, "I'll have to decide that after further investigation. After all, Gus had never given us any trouble before. He had batted home 100 runs a season for us and is a gate attraction.

"Our lineup wouldn't look like much without him. I realize it has been a question of whether his hitting helps us or his fielding hurts us. But if six other clubs in the league believe he'll help them, I'm inclined to believe he'll help us."

Mack said the deal that brought Bill Wilson to the A's yesterday from Chicago, was made with Zernial in mind. "We feel Wilson is a top flight fielder and can help Zernial cover the outfield."

The general manager agreed, however, that if he couldn't reconcile the pair, something would have to be done, nodding his head yes when a trade of Zernial or firing of Joost was suggested.

Later, when he had cooled off some, Joost told reporters that Zernial took his removal from the lineup as a personal affront. He went on: "A manager can't form personal likes and dislikes. I can't have players protesting when I remove them from a game. That's my job and my responsibility. As for trading Zernial, I would let him go only if we can help the ball club. I certainly wouldn't trade just to get rid of him."

Cook To Get Main Event Date On Boxing Program

Larche Campbell, the Bastrop promoter who plans to open Twin Cities Boxing Club productions at the West Monroe Fair Grounds on Thursday night, June 24, declared yesterday "We will not stage a poor card."

"We're making arrangements with fight managers in New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, Galveston, California, Mexico, and even with the touring fighters from France in an effort to bring to the Monroe area some of the best fighters available," Campbell said.

Clarence Cook, winner of over 80 amateur bouts, and who has beaten some of the best in the south and southwest, will be Campbell's first main-eventer.

Cook was named "middleweight prospect of the month" in the June issue of Ring magazine, and Campbell said he expects to find a good match for the Oak Grove puncher since "several managers with good boys are interested in getting a match with Cook." Campbell said Ray Arcel, trainer of ex-champion Ezzard Charles has contacted him with interest in working toward Cook's future.

Arcel is presently promoting Saturday night TV boxing shows as well as managing a stable of fighters, so, if Cook should prove himself worthy against more notable fighters, he may be in line for bigger things.

The Oak Grove lad's professional record now shows four kayoes, four decisions and a single loss in nine fights. The lone defeat was to the Bastrop Bomber, Norris Ray, who got up off the canvas three times in six rounds before nailing Cook with his devastating right hand. Cook later won a clear-cut 10-round decision over Ray.

Campbell said he expected to be able to name Cook's main event opponent within the next few days. By next week end he expects to have his complete card arranged for the Twin Cities Club's first production.

Braves' No-Hit Pitcher Earns Starting Post

The big righthander, a 32-year-old curve baller, turned the first no-hitter in the National League in two years to beat Philadelphia, 2-0, in his second start of the season after being in the doghouse most of the 1953 campaign. In his earlier start this year, last Sunday, he shut out Pittsburgh, 5-0, on four hits.

"Yeah, I think I'll let him try again," Grimm said with a grin in the clubhouse when it was all over. "If I didn't, they'd have me up in the front office as vice president instead of letting me run the ball club."

Haines also ran on the winning 440-yard relay team, which supplied the visitors with their eighth and clinching point in the 15-event meet. Scoring was by the British system of winners only.

Others on the relay team were Alan Kline of Penn and Larry Latomus and John Morris of Cornell.

By RIP WATSON

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., June 12 (AP)—If you shot 63 or less you beat Ben Hogan in the 1954 golf day firing.

The defending U. S. Open champion shot a brilliant 64 today over a somewhat easier version of the Baltusrol course on which he will defend his title next week. Actually, he played some holes and laid out for the championship course which has a par of 70. On other holes he used the tees of the members' par 72 course.

But that didn't bother him. He was under par on six of the first seven holes and reached the turn in 30. He had three more birdies coming in and missed a putt for a birdie on the 15th.

Hogan's score will be the basis for determining who among an estimated 125,000 golfers, including Vice-President Nixon, beat Hogan in the annual National Golf Day, sponsored by Life Magazine. Most of the others played their matches last Saturday but Hogan had to postpone his play until today because of a virus infection.

Farrell, the home pro and 1928 open champion played with Hogan today and carded an 81. Also in the champion's foursome were Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N. Y., who had a 73, and Joe Lucas, Rutgers University junior who is going to school on a caddy scholarship. Lucas matched Farrell's 81.

Today Hogan shot as though trying to prove his Open record of 276, set at Riviera in Los Angeles in 1948, could be broken here. He had predicted as much after playing a practice round over the course.

He had nine one-putt greens, eight with the normal two putts and three-putted the 15th.

Hogan shot a 71 on the first National Golf Day in 1952 and his score was bettered by 14,000 golfers, who enjoyed varying handicaps. Last year Jullus Boros, the '52 Open winner, shot 71 and his score was bettered by 12,000.

Hogan's card:

Hogan out 434 233 443 — 30
Par in 443 444 355—36—72
Hogan in 443 345 344—34—64

TWO LOCALS BEAT BEN

At Bayou DeSiard Country Club, Curtis Cook, Monroe, had a 62 to top Hogan's 64; Mrs. Aileen Guthrie, at Municipal, had a 63; and while no one at McGuire Park beat Bantam Ben's low mark, Miss Jo Ann Rhodes was close, with 65; Dr. T. A. Brulte shot a 67; Jimmy Green, 68; Mrs. Bernice Watkins, 69; Clyde Nash, Leonard Warren (host pro), and Loy Heard, 70; and Mrs. Leonard Warren, Ken Holt and E. J. Miller, 71's.

According to pro Winny Cole, of Bayou DeSiard, three golfers in Saturday's competition tied Hogan's 64.

Miss Guthrie, at Municipal, had a 31 handicap, and shot a 94, for a net low of 63; and Mr. Cook, at DeSiard, fired a 74 with a handicap of 11, for his net of 62, the best score of the day at any of the three clubs.

Andrade Scores Ninth Round TKO Over Vet Chavez

BOSTON, June 12 (AP)—Cisco Andrade, the unbeaten Compton, Calif., kid, scored a ninth round technical knockout over veteran Darlos Chavez of Los Angeles tonight in a scheduled 10-round boxing bout at the arena.

Referee Jim McCarron stopped the bout at 2:05 of the ninth as Chavez had cuts over both eyes. Andrade weighed 134½, Chavez 136.

Andrade, who now has won 23 and fought to a draw in 24 professional appearances, opened a cut over Chavez' left eye in the fourth and reopened it in the sixth. That bleeding became bothersome for Chavez by the eighth and when Andrade opened a gash over the right eye the referee stepped in.

This was a rematch of a January contest which Andrade took on a split decision. But the California kid left no doubt tonight about his superiority as he showed some clever boxing against the experienced Chavez.

All the cards had Andrade ahead when it was stopped. Judge Jim Shaughnessy had Andrade leading 79-74, judge Tom McNeeley 80-72 and referee McCarron 80-73. The AP card had it 79-72 for Andrade.

Chavez, a perpetual motion machine, carried the attack to Andrade who responded by effectively dodging or blocking the veteran's punches and countering well. Chavez landed the most punches but it was Andrade who put on the solid exhibition of boxing and maneuvering.

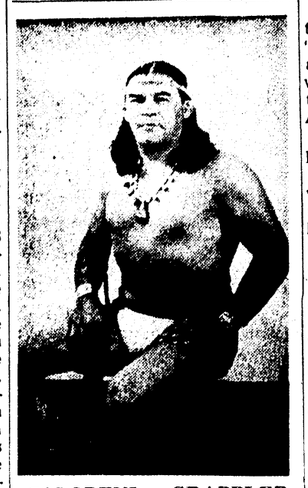
'Big Boy' Cronin, Dusek Vs. Chief, Fargo Tuesday



COLORFUL GRAPPLER is Indian Chief Apache, (above) whose headstanding hammerlock and war dances have made him a very popular matman here. He and youthful Jackie Fargo take on Pat "Big Boy" Cronin, a renowned villain, and Danny Dusek in a tag tussle at Kallio's Arena Tuesday night.

The number one villain of all time at Gus Kallio's Arena, Pat "Big Boy" Cronin, returns to local action Tuesday night when he pairs with husky Danny Dusek in a tag team tussle against Indian Chief Apache and Jackie Fargo.

Cronin, who has not appeared here in many weeks, is a crowd-baiting, sneaky - type grappler, whose experience in mat battles always stands him in good stead as he swings his opponent deftly away from the referee every chance he gets to commit numerous fouls.

His main event matches with Apache were some of the most crowd-pleasing, as well as hilarious, bouts ever seen here. His constant jawing at the fans, particularly the galleryites, after the Chief had administered one of his numerous swift kicks to the "Big Boy's" pants, and his hurt and indignant expressions kept the fans roaring with laughter, as well as referee Bill Barney, who tried unsuccessfully each time to withhold the mirth.

He and the Alaska Wolf Man lost a tag team match to Chief and Paddy Mack when a Wolf punch misfired and knocked Cronin sprawling, resulting in a grudge fight between the two the following week. Cronin lost, and has not wrestled here since.

Although Chief is accustomed to Cronin's tactics, Fargo is not, and he will be in for a rough evening when he encounters "Big Boy's" fouls to break holds and consistent hair-pulling.

However, Cronin is also in for many surprises, when the young Jackie unleashes his bag of tricks, which consist of some of the most dazzling and fastest throws and holds ever seen here.

Two ten-minute time limit falls, between opposing team members, will serve as preliminaries. Both matches require one fall to win, and the first begins at 8:15. Bill Barney is slated to referee all matches.

Joe Louis Says Marciano Slow, —Overtrained

GROSSINGER, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Joe Louis watched Rocky Marciano box three rounds today and said he thought the heavyweight champion was overtrained.

The Brown Bomber, however, stuck by his pick that the Brockton Blaster would knock out challenger Ezzard Charles "within ten rounds."

"He looks slow and overtrained," said Louis. "He didn't have any snap in his punches. But he never did look good in training anyway. They way he fights he looks bad until he catches you and he'll throw punches at Charles until he catches him."

Charles Weighs 191 After Sparring Six

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Ezzard Charles, who opposes champion Rocky Marciano in the heavyweight title bout in Yankee Stadium Thursday, weighed 191 pounds after a six-round workout today. Charles hopes to weigh 187 for the fight.

Charles appeared sharp in the drill but trainer Jimmy Brown said the challenger would box again tomorrow and also on Tuesday.

The faces were the same but there were position shifts as the Twin Cities Sports came home from a seven-game road trip to turn in their most colorful performance of the season at Legion Memorial Stadium to turn back the Hot Springs Bathers, 3 to 2, in the opener of a three-game series. They meet here again this afternoon in a single game beginning at 3 o'clock.

The four hundred and sixty-three fans got some real fielding treats of heads-up ball by Skipper Ed Head's outfit in the third and fifth innings that could have meant the difference in victory and defeat, but the Sports still had to fight for everything they got as they broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth inning with nothing more than a base on balls and a pair of sacrifices.

Shortstop Herman Herzog caught the Hot Springs infield napping in the ninth to gain two bases on a sacrifice bunt by Bill Halley to set up the winning run. Herzog had walked. Halley bunted and was thrown out at first with Herzog giving the fans a charge as he raced in under a belated throw to third safely.

Chuck Forbes came up to bat and fouled a fly along the left field line. He was tagged up to go after Steve Korfonta's catch, but the Bather outfielder dropped the ball. Forbes then lofted another fly to Korfonta in fair territory and Herzog raced home behind the catch with the game-winning run.

Halley, except for some tense moments when he was passing out seven bases on balls, put the Bathers away with four hits. The Sports got only five off the offerings of Larry Kelcher and Ray Glazer.

A triple by Stoney Bolton, Bather catcher, started the scoring in the third inning as he came home on a single by Kelcher. The Sports saved a run in the frame when Frank Cooper, who had walked just ahead of Bolton's blow, was thrown out trying to steal, Sam Chetta to Paul Flores at second.

The Sports went ahead with two runs in their half of the third when C. J. Fontana singled into right field, scoring Frank Marinkovich and Flores. Marinkovich was aboard with an infield hit and Flores had walked when Fontana drove the runs home. Fontana had headed for second as Marinkovich crossed the plate, scoring from second, and while Fontana drew the play as he was run down between second and first, Flores also scored.

But the Spas tied it up at 2-2 in the fourth as Halley became too free with his passes. Steve Korfonta opened with a single. Free passes to Bud Miller, Cooper and Bolton after two were out forced Korfonta across.

Good Twin Cities fielding probably beat Hot Springs out of a run in the fourth. Lee Akers, who had walked, was the victim of a pickoff at first, Halley to Bob Norden. Korfonta lashed a long blow off the fence in right center. He had two bases easy and was out for a triple. Marinkovich, fielding the ball, threw to Flores to be relayed to "Dutch" Falatic, the catcher working at third base, and Falatic caught Korfonta cold turkey.

NEW TALENT HERE

Jimmie Nissel, 20-year-old second baseman for Tulane University for three years and rated one of the outstanding infielders of the Southeastern Conference has signed with the Twin Cities Sports. Nissel, a 165-pound graduate of Jesuit High of New Orleans who played for the Bastrop Barons in the Big Eight League last year, was present but not in uniform last night. He is due to break into the starting lineup this afternoon.

Also on hand was Virgil Petty, an infielder - catcher obtained from Lake Charles of the Evangeline. Petty is also awaiting his first start with the Sports.

Manager Ed Head said he had some other deals in the making and appeared confident that the Sports are ready for better days.

Player, Pilot Row Jars A's

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, June 12 (AP)—Slugger Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics was fined $250 today for a dugout row with manager Eddie Joost creating a situation that could result in trading of the outfielder or firing of the manager.

Joost, striding angrily into the clubhouse after a morning meeting with club vice president Earle Mack and Zernial, told newsmen that homer hammering Gus had been fined $250. It was the heaviest such penalty imposed on a major league player this year.

The fiery Joost was really hot under the collar as he gave reporters only the bare bones of his news: "Zernial was fined $250. That's all I have to say." And with that he ended the short-lived interview.

Zernial and Joost argued bitterly in plain view of the crowd before the second game of last night's double header with the Detroit Tigers. The outfielder resented being benched and told his manager so bluntly. Zernial finally was escorted from the dugout and Vic Power replaced him in the lineup. The A's, who had lost the first game 16-5, won the nightcap 2-1.

Zernial came out of the three conered meeting obviously an unhappy ball player. He said it was "a misunderstanding between Eddie and me. He didn't think it proper for me to argue on the bench in front of other players."

The 210-pound Texan, who now resides in California, said he didn't know that he had been fined as yet. "I haven't received a salary check with any deduction. If Eddie said I was fined, that will have to be his words. This is the first time in my baseball career I have ever been fined—if I have been fined."

Asked if the situation had been resolved, Gus said, "It's straightened out as much as it can be straightened out."

What's it all about, reporters asked the A's executive.

"Truthfully, I don't know," said Mack. "Nobody tells me anything. I had Joost and Zrnial in here and I couldn't get a word in edgewise. Apparently this thing has been smouldering for some time. I'll have to conduct an investigation into the situation and find out what the trouble is. I certainly am not satisfied with the results of this meeting."

Mack said the $250 fine would stick.

"As long as Joost is manager I'll have to stand by him. After all I put him there. I am not going to have a ball player manage the club so long as I have a manager."

Mack said his object was to get the two together but "I couldn't find out what it was all about."

Mack said the meeting was climaxed when Joost walked out in anger. He said he then told Zernial to "go to the clubhouse, get dressed and do whatever Eddie Joost tells you to do."

Asked if he would trade Zernial, Mack said, "I'll have to decide that after further investigation. After all, Gus had never given us any trouble before. He had batted home 100 runs a season for us and is a gate attraction.

"Our lineup wouldn't look like much without him. I realize it has been a question of whether his hitting helps us or his fielding hurts us. But if six other clubs in the league believe he'll help them, I'm inclined to believe he'll help us."

Mack said the deal that brought Bill Wilson to the A's yesterday from Chicago, was made with Zernial in mind. "We feel Wilson is a top flight fielder and can help Zernial cover the outfield."

The general manager agreed, however, that if he couldn't reconcile the pair, something would have to be done, nodding his head yes when a trade of Zernial or firing of Joost was suggested.

Later, when he had cooled off some, Joost told reporters that Zernial took his removal from the lineup as a personal affront. He went on: "A manager can't form personal likes and dislikes. I can't have players protesting when I remove them from a game. That's my job and my responsibility. As for trading Zernial, I would let him go only if we can help the ball club. I certainly wouldn't trade just to get rid of him."

Larche Campbell, the Bastrop promoter who plans to open Twin Cities Boxing Club productions at the West Monroe Fair Grounds on Thursday night, June 24, declared yesterday "We will not stage a poor card."

"We're making arrangements with fight managers in New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, Galveston, California, Mexico, and even with the touring fighters from France in an effort to bring to the Monroe area some of the best fighters available," Campbell said.

Clarence Cook, winner of over 80 amateur bouts, and who has beaten some of the best in the south and southwest, will be Campbell's first main-eventer.

Cook was named "middleweight prospect of the month" in the June issue of Ring magazine, and Campbell said he expects to find a good match for the Oak Grove puncher since "several managers with good boys are interested in getting a match with Cook." Campbell said Ray Arcel, trainer of ex-champion Ezzard Charles has contacted him with interest in working toward Cook's future.

Arcel is presently promoting Saturday night TV boxing shows as well as managing a stable of fighters, so, if Cook should prove himself worthy against more notable fighters, he may be in line for bigger things.

The Oak Grove lad's professional record now shows four kayoes, four decisions and a single loss in nine fights. The lone defeat was to the Bastrop Bomber, Norris Ray, who got up off the canvas three times in six rounds before nailing Cook with his devastating right hand. Cook later won a clear-cut 10-round decision over Ray.

Campbell said he expected to be able to name Cook's main event opponent within the next few days. By next week end he expects to have his complete card arranged for the Twin Cities Club's first production.

Braves' No-Hit Pitcher Earns Starting Post

The big righthander, a 32-year-old curve baller, tossed the first no-hitter in the National League in two years to beat Philadelphia, 2-0, in his second start of the season after being in the doghouse most of the 1953 campaign. In his earlier start this year, last Sunday, he shut out Pittsburgh, 5-0, on four hits.

"Yeah, I think I'll let him try again," Grimm said with a grin in the clubhouse when it was all over. "If I didn't, they'd have me up in the front office as vice president instead of letting me run the ball club."

Haines also ran on the winning 440-yard relay team, which supplied the visitors with their eighth and clinching point in the 15-event meet. Scoring was by the British system of winners only.

By RIP WATSON

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., June 12 (AP)—If you shot 63 or less you beat Ben Hogan in the 1954 golf day firing.

The defending U. S. Open champion shot a brilliant 64 today over a somewhat easier version of the Baltusrol course on which he will defend his title next week. Actually, he played some holes and laid out for the championship course which has a par of 70. On other holes he used the tees of the members' par 72 course.

But that didn't bother him. He was under par on six of the first seven holes and reached the turn in 30. He had three more birdies coming in and missed a putt for a birdie on the 15th.

Hogan's score will be the basis for determining who among an estimated 125,000 golfers, including Vice-President Nixon, beat Hogan in the annual National Golf Day, sponsored by Life Magazine. Most of the others played their matches last Saturday but Hogan had to postpone his play until today because of a virus infection.

Farrell, the home pro and 1928 open champion played with Hogan today and carded an 81. Also in the champion's foursome were Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N. Y., who had a 73, and Joe Lucas, Rutgers University junior who is going to school on a caddy scholarship. Lucas matched Farrell's 81.

Today Hogan shot as though trying to prove his Open record of 276, set at Riviera in Los Angeles in 1948, could be broken here. He had predicted as much after playing a practice round over the course.

He had nine one-putt greens, eight with the normal two putts and three-putted the 15th.

Hogan shot a 71 on the first National Golf Day in 1952 and his score was bettered by 14,000 golfers, who enjoyed varying handicaps. Last year Julius Boros, the '52 Open winner, shot 71 and his score was bettered by 12,000.

Hogan's card:

Par out	5	4	4	3	4	4	3	5	36
Hogan out	4	3	4	2	3	3	4	4	30
Par in	4	4	3	4	5	5	3	4	36—72
Hogan in	4	4	3	4	3	4	3	5	34—64

TWO LOCALS BEAT BEN

At Bayou DeSiard Country Club, Curtis Cook, Monroe, had a 62 to top Hogan's 64; Mrs. Alieen Guthrie, at Municipal, had a 63; and while no one at McGuire Park beat Bantam Ben's low mark, Miss Jo Ann Rhodes was close, with 65; Dr. T. A. Brulte shot a 67; Jimmy Green, 68; Mrs. Bernice Watkins, 69; Clyde Nash, Leonard Warren (host pro), and Loy Heard, 70; and Mrs. Leonard Warren, Ken Holt and E. J. Miller, 71's.

According to pro Winny Cole, of Bayou DeSiard, three golfers in Saturday's competition tied Hogan's 64.

Miss Guthrie, at Municipal, had a 31 handicap, and shot a 94, for a net low of 63; and Mr. Cook, at DeSiard, fired a 74 with a handicap of 11, for his net of 62, the best score of the day at any of the three clubs.

WALTHAM, Mass., June 12 (AP)—Outfielder Sid Goidfader signed a contract today with the Atlanta farm club at the Milwaukee Braves following his graduation from Brandeis University.

BOSTON, June 12 (AP)—Cisco Andrade, the unbeaten Compton, Calif., kid, scored a ninth round technical knockout over veteran Darlos Chavez of Los Angeles tonight in a scheduled 10-round boxing bout at the arena.

Referee Jim McCarron stopped the bout at 2:05 of the ninth as Chavez had cuts over both eyes. Andrade weighed 134½, Chavez 136.

Andrade, who now has won 23 and fought to a draw in 24 professional appearances, opened a cut over Chavez' left eye in the fourth and reopened it in the sixth. That bleeding became bothersome for Chavez by the eighth and when Andrade opened a gash over the right eye the referee stepped in.

This was a rematch of a January contest which Andrade took on a split decision. But the California kid left no doubt tonight about his superiority as he showed some clever boxing against the experienced Chavez.

All the cards had Andrade ahead when It was stopped. Judge Jim Shaughnessy had Andrade leading 79-74, judge Tom McNeeley 80-72 and referee McCarron 80-73. The AP card had it 79-72 for Andrade.

Chavez, a perpetual motion machine, carried the attack to Andrade who responded by effectively dodging or blocking the veteran's punches and countering well. Chavez landed the most punches but it was Andrade who put on the solid exhibition of boxing and maneuvering.

COLORFUL GRAPPLER is Indian Chief Apache, (above) whose headstanding hammerlock and war dances have made him a very popular matman here. He and youthful Jackie Fargo take on Pat "Big Boy" Cronin, a renowned villain, and Danny Dusek in a tag tussle at Kallio's Arena Tuesday night.

The number one villain of all time at Gus Kallio's Arena, Pat "Big Boy" Cronin, returns to local action Tuesday night when he pairs with husky Danny Dusek in a tag team tussle against Indian Chief Apache and Jackie Fargo.

Cronin, who has not appeared here in many weeks, is a crowd-baiting, sneaky - type grappler, whose experience in mat battles always stands him in good stead as he swings his opponent deftly away from the referee every chance he gets to commit numerous fouls.

His main event matches with Apache were some of the most crowd-pleasing, as well as hilarious, bouts ever seen here. His constant jawing at the fans, particularly the galleryites, after the Chief had administered one of his numerous swift kicks to the "Big Boy's" pants, and his hurt and indignant expressions kept the fans roaring with laughter, as well as referee Bill Barney, who tried unsuccessfully each time to withhold the mirth.

He and the Alaska Wolf Man lost a tag team match to Chief and Paddy Mack when a Wolf punch misfired and knocked Cronin sprawling, resulting in a grudge fight between the two the following week. Cronin lost, and has not wrestled here since.

Although Chief is accustomed to Cronin's tactics, Fargo is not, and he will be in for a rough evening when he encounters "Big Boy's" fouls to break holds and consistent hair-pulling.

However, Cronin is also in for many surprises, when the young Jackie unleashes his bag of tricks, which consist of some of the most dazzling and fastest throws and holds ever seen here.

Two ten-minute time limit falls, between opposing team members, will serve as preliminaries. Both matches require one fall to win, and the first begins at 8:15. Bill Barney is slated to referee all matches.

Joe Louis Says Marciano Slow, —Overtrained

GROSSINGER, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Joe Louis watched Rocky Marciano box three rounds today and said he thought the heavyweight champion was overtrained.

The Brown Bomber, however, stuck by his pick that the Brockton Blaster would knock out challenger Ezzard Charles "within ten rounds."

"He looks slow and overtrained," said Louis. "He didn't have any snap in his punches. But he never did look good in training anyway. They way he fights he looks bad until he catches you and he'll throw punches at Charles until he catches him."

Charles Weighs 191 After Sparring Six

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Ezzard Charles, who opposes champion Rocky Marciano in the heavyweight title bout in Yankee Stadium Thursday, weighed 191 pounds after a six-round workout today. Charles hopes to weigh 187 for the fight.

Charles appeared sharp in the drill but trainer Jimmy Brown said the challenger would box again tomorrow and also on Tuesday.

Unbeaten Champ Defends Crown Thursday Night

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, fast running out of opponents, rules a 7-2 favorite to convince Ezzard Charles "they never come back" when he defends his world heavyweight title against the 32-year-old former champion Thursday night at Yankee Stadium.

The 15-round-match, scheduled for 8:30 p.m. (CST) will not be seen on home television although it will be beamed to 61 theaters in 45 cities outside New York on a closed TV circuit. It will be carried on radio (ABC). In case of a postponement, the fight will be held Monday, June 21.

Because advance sales have been higher than for the Marciano-Roland LaStarza match last September, the International Boxing Club talks about a $500,000 house and about 40,000 fans-in-the-flesh. Approximately 200,000 are expected to see the theater-TV version.

The record book says Charles, a former champ, must fall again as Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, Max Schmeling, Joe Louis, Jack Dempsey, Jersey Joe Walcott and Charles himself have failed. It's a stern rule of the prize ring that no man ever regained its richest prize.

Actually Charles missed his big chance when he lost a decision to Walcott at Philadelphia, June 5, 1952, a year after Walcott had knocked him loose from the title at Pittsburgh. Many thought Charles beat Walcott in their last fight but few were inclined to argue that he deserved it because of his over-cautious approach.

Since the Walcott series, Charles has been more aggressive showing a little "tiger" in an all-or-nothing campaign. The comeback was derailed last summer when he lost to both Harold Johnson and Nino Valdes but knockouts over Coley Wallace and Bb Satterfield earned him another title shot.

Ring experts who watched Charles train at his Monticello, N. Y., camp think he has the equipment to give Rocky a terrific battle—if Charles fights his fight. They think Ezzy did not fight his fight against Walcott at Philadelphia and fear he may revert to his old super caution against a savage puncher like Marciano.

Rocky has been living at his Grossinger, N. Y., camp since shortly after the first of the year, running over the hills and indulging in his favorite sport—work. Three weeks ago he looked ready for battle. An attempt to present a "new" streamlined Marciano was abandoned midway in training and the Rock remains the same relentless slugger of yore.

Marciano's perfect record of 45 victories in 45 fights with 40 knockouts speaks for itself. The champ has been on the deck only once, when Walcott floored him with a left hook in the first round of their fierce battle at Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1952, the night he won the title. At 29, he still is improving and has developed a solid hook to the body that may crumple Charles. He is working on a string of 10 straight knockouts.

Charles is a veteran of 97 pro fights, dating back to 1940, and his record is 86-10-1. He has stopped 53 opponents and has been knocked out twice, by Lloyd Marshall in 1943 and by Walcott. He has fought 11 championship fights, including nine defenses.

Because of the income tax situation and the lack of opponents who would draw big money, Marciano has not been an active champ. Since he knocked out Walcott in the 13th round of the gruelling 1952 brawl, he has fought only 12 rounds. He needed only one round to finish Walcott in the rematch at Chicago, May 15, 1953, and wore down LaStarza in 11 rounds at the Polo Grounds last Sept. 24.

The pride of Brockton, Mass., is vulnerable to a master boxer because his reach of 67 inches is the shortest of any heavy champ in history. An opponent who moves from side to side bothers the Rock but he usually catches up with his man sooner or later, weaving and bobbing as he applies relentless pressure.

There is authority in Charles' fists when he decides to volley in combinations, rather than wait for the one perfect punch ending. The Cincinnati Negro has been training as though he means to try to push off Rocky to keep him from getting inside. Ezzy still remembers how Walcott nailed him with a hook when the two weren't a foot apart.

There has been much screaming from the Charles camp of "foul fighting" by Marciano. They point to the fact that Rocky was warned for butting and hitting on the break in the LaStarza bout and lost one round for a low hook. Al Weill, Marciano's manager, claims the champ is just a rough fighter who never fouled anybody intentionally. In addition, Marciano's supporters point to the fact that Charles drew several warnings for low left hooks in the past.

In case of a Charles victory, there is a rematch contract calling for another bout within 90 days, probably in September. If Rocky wins, Weill talks of going to London to box Don Cockell in the fall.

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Whitey Ford pitched a two-hit shutout today as the New York Yankees knocked the Chicago White Sox out of the American League lead with a 2-0 victory, their second straight over the Sox at Yankee Stadium.

He was the first lefthander to go all the way against the Chicagoans and the second to beat them this year. The other was another Yank, Ed Lopat, who beat them April 29.

Suggs, Berg Aim At 5th Women's Western Crowns

WAUKEGAN, Ill., June 12 (AP)—Defending champion Louise Suggs, leading money winner for 1954 among women pros, and Patty Berg will try to set a precedent in the 25th annual Women's Western Golf open next week.

Each has won the prestige-filled meet four times in the past and if either can repeat she will become the first five-time champion in the meet's history.

Another four-time winner and one of the veterans of the tournament, Babe Zaharias, has yet to file an entry and because of tourney weariness after her comeback from a cancer operation may pass up the competition.

Miss Suggs, the petite Georgian who has won five titles this season, has the steady drives and accurate putting essential to conquer the heavily-wooded, well-trapped Glen Flora Country Club course. It rolls 6,425 yards and carries a 38-37—75 women's par.

Miss Suggs is the early favorite, although Miss Berg, runner-up to Louise for the 1953 crown at Atlanta, appears near the peak of her game for the season. She recently breezed to victory in the round robin competition with a 51-point advantage.

Of the 24 winners in the past, 19 of them represent victories by a player who is now a professional. The runner-up ranks are crowded with amateurs and perhaps one of them may break through to the title this time.

Leading the amateur bids are Pat Lesser, semi-finalist last year; Anne Richardson and Joyce Ziske, the Wisconsin lass who was a sensation this winter in Florida with two championships.

A field of 100 will tee off Monday in 18-hole qualifying rounds to determine a match-play championship field of 32.

Mayfield Ties Bolt For Lead At Virginia Beach

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., June 12 (AP)—Shelley Mayfield, the handsome blond from Chicopee, Mass., shot a four-under-par 65 here today to pull into a tie with Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., for the 54-hole lead in the $15,000 Virginia Beach Open Golf Tournament.

Mayfield and Bolt will move into tomorrow's final 18 holes with 194's, a new competitive record for the par 69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club layout for 54 holes.

Bolt had started today's round with a three-stroke advantage over Mayfield but fired his worst round of the tourney—a one-under-par 68.

Mayfield had a golden opportunity to grab the lead as he teed off on the 18th hole, a 200-yard troublemaker flanked by water. Then his putter failed him for the first time during the hot, sultry afternoon. Mayfield three-putted the green, missing a three-footer that would have given him a par three and the tourney lead.

The leaders:

Construction On New Skeet Range Here Will Start

Construction work on the new skeet and trapshooting range to be installed at the site of the old Selman Field pistol range by the now organizing Twin Cities Gun Club will begin this week, it was reported yesterday by Leroy Stern, who, with S. K. Bernheim and T. O. "Toby" Bancroft, is helping lead the reorganizational efforts.

Stern said the newest models in traps, self-loading machines, will be ordered also this week, while other construction work will be in progress.

If building plans follow the schedule, the first shoot will be held in July.

Meanwhile, the membership drive is continuing with Stern and Bernheim, who will serve as range managers, accepting the membership registerations.

Any shotgun enthusiasts of this area interested in skeet and trapshooting and desiring to join the organization should contact Stern by telephoning 6626 or Bernheim at 2-2470.

Marciano Rules 7-2 Favorite To Repulse Charles

Unbeaten Champ Defends Crown Thursday Night

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, fast running out of opponents, rules a 7-2 favorite to convince Ezzard Charles "they never come back" when he defends his world heavyweight title against the 32-year-old former champion Thursday night at Yankee Stadium.

The 15-round-match, scheduled for 8:30 p.m. (CST) will not be seen on home television although it will be beamed to 61 theaters in 45 cities outside New York on a closed TV circuit. It will be carried on radio (ABC). In case of a postponement, the fight will be held Monday, June 21.

Because advance sales have been higher than for the Marciano-Roland LaStarza match last September, the International Boxing Club talks about a $500,000 house and about 40,000 fans-in-the-flesh. Approximately 200,000 are expected to see the theater-TV version.

The record book says Charles, a former champ, must fail again as Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, Max Schmeling, Joe Louis, Jack Dempsey, Jersey Joe Walcott and Charles himself have failed. It's a stern rule of the prize ring that no man ever regained its richest prize.

Actually Charles missed his big chance when he lost a decision to Walcott at Philadelphia, June 5, 1952, a year after Walcott had knocked him loose from the title at Pittsburgh. Many thought Charles beat Walcott in their last fight but few were inclined to argue that he deserved it because of his over-cautious approach.

Since the Walcott series, Charles has been more aggressive showing a little "tiger" in an all-or-nothing campaign. The comeback was derailed last summer when he lost to both Harold Johnson and Nino Valdes but knockouts over Coley Wallace and Bb Satterfield earned him another title shot.

Ring experts who watched Charles train at his Monticello, N. Y., camp think he has the equipment to give Rocky a terrific battle—if Charles fights his fight. They think Ezzy did not fight his fight against Walcott at Philadelphia and fear he may revert to his old super caution against a savage puncher like Marciano.

Rocky has been living at his Grossinger, N. Y., camp since shortly after the first of the year, running over the hills and indulging in his favorite sport—work. Three weeks ago he looked ready for battle. An attempt to present a "new" streamlined Marciano was abandoned midway in training and the Rock remains the same relentless slugger of yore.

Marciano's perfect record of 45 victories in 45 fights with 40 knockouts speaks for itself. The champ has been on the deck only once, when Walcott floored him with a left hook in the first round of their fierce battle at Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1952, the night he won the title. At 29, he still is improving and has developed a solid hook to the body that may crumple Charles. He is working on a string of 10 straight knockouts.

Charles is a veteran of 97 pro fights, dating back to 1940, and his record is 86-10-1. He has stopped 53 opponents and has been knocked out twice, by Lloyd Marshall in 1943 and by Walcott. He has fought 11 championship fights, including nine defenses.

Because of the income tax situation and the lack of opponents who would draw big mney, Marciano has not been an active champ. Since he knocked out Walcott in the 13th round of the gruelling 1952 brawl, he has fought only 12 rounds. He needed only one round to finish Walcott in the rematch at Chicago, May 15, 1953, and wore down LaStarza in 11 rounds at the Polo Grounds last Sept. 24.

The pride of Brockton, Mass., is vulnerable to a master boxer because his reach of 67 inches is the shortest of any heavy champ in history. An opponent who moves from side to side bothers the Rock but he usually catches up with his man sooner or later, weaving and bobbing as he applies relentless pressure.

There is authority in Charles' fists when he decides to volley in combinations, rather than wait for the one perfect punch ending. The Cincinnati Negro has been training as though he means to try to push off Rocky to keep him from getting inside. Ezzy still remembers how Walcott nailed him with a hook when the two weren't a foot apart.

There has been much screaming from the Charles camp of "foul fighting" by Marciano. They point to the fact that Rocky was warned for butting and hitting on the break in the LaStarza bout and lost one round for a low hook. Al Weill, Marciano's manager, claims the champ is just a rough fighter who never fouled anybody intentionally. In addition, Marciano's supporters point to the fact that Charles drew several warnings for low left hooks in the past.

In case of a Charles victory, there is a rematch contract calling for another bout within 90 days, probably in September. If Rocky wins, Weill talks of going to London to box Don Cockell in the fall.

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Whitey Ford pitched a two-hit shutout today as the New York Yankees knocked the Chicago White Sox out of the American League lead with a 2-0 victory, their second straight over the Sox at Yankee Stadium.

He was the first lefthander to go all the way against the Chicagoans and the second to beat them this year. The other was another Yank, Ed Lopat, who beat them April 29.

West Monroe's Juniors Defeat Ruston, 5 To 4

RUSTON, La., June 12 (Special)—West Monroe maintained its first place tie with Bastrop in the Fifth District American Legion Junior baseball race here last night by defeating Ruston, 5 to 4. Coach Loy Scarborough of West Monroe used three pitchers, George Fruge, Jackie Norman, and Lavell Browder, in earning the victory over Alexander, the Ruston hurler, who was termed by Scarborough as "the best pitcher we've seen this season."

Fruge worked the first three innings, allowing two runs on five hits. Norman pitched two innings of hitless ball, and Browder finished, allowing two hits and two runs.

Alexander, working all the way, gave up only seven hits, two of them by Dave "Chubby" Johnston. Cole led Ruston batting with two hits.

Suggs, Berg Aim At 5th Women's Western Crowns

WAUKEGAN, Ill., June 12 (AP)—Defending champion Louise Suggs, leading money winner for 1954 among women pros, and Patty Berg will try to set a precedent in the 25th annual Women's Western Golf open next week.

Each has won the prestige-filled meet four times in the past and if either can repeat she will become the first five-time champion in the meet's history.

Another four-time winner and one of the veterans of the tournament, Babe Zaharias, has yet to file an entry and because of tourney weariness after her comeback from a cancer operation may pass up the competition.

Miss Suggs, the petite Georgian who has won five titles this season, has the steady drives and accurate putting essential to conquer the heavily-wooded, well-trapped Glen Flora Country Club course. It rolls 6,425 yards and carries a 38-37—75 women's par.

Miss Suggs is the early favorite, although Miss Berg, runner-up to Louise for the 1953 crown at Atlanta, appears near the peak of her game for the season. She recently breezed to victory in the round robin competition with a 51-point advantage.

Of the 24 winners in the past, 19 of them represent victories by a player who is now a professional. The runner-up ranks are crowded with amateurs and perhaps one of them may break through to the title this time.

Leading the amateur bids are Pat Lesser, semi-finalist last year, Anne Richardson and Joyce Ziske, the Wisconsin lass who was a sensation this winter in Florida with two championships.

A field of 100 will tee off Monday in 18-hole qualifying rounds to determine a match-play championship field of 32.

Mayfield Ties Bolt For Lead At Virginia Beach

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., June 12 (AP)—Shelley Mayfield, the handsome blond from Chicopee, Mass., shot a four-under-par 65 here today to pull into a tie with Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., for the 54-hole lead in the $15,000 Virginia Beach Open Golf Tournament.

Mayfield and Bolt will move into tomorrow's final 18 holes with 194's, a new competitive record for the par 69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club layout for 54 holes.

Bolt had started today's round with a three-stroke advantage over Mayfield but fired his worst round of the tourney—a one-under-par 68.

Mayfield had a golden opportunity to grab the lead as he teed off on the 18th hole, a 200-yard trouble-maker flanked by water. Then his putter failed him for the first time during the hot, sultry afternoon. Mayfield three-putted the green, missing a three-footer that would have given him a par three and the tourney lead.

The leaders:

Construction On New Skeet Range Here Will Start

Construction work on the new skeet and trapshooting range to be installed at the site of the old Selman Field pistol range by the now organizing Twin Cities Gun Club will begin this week, it was reported yesterday by Leroy Stern, who, with S. K .Bernheim and T. O. "Toby" Bancroft, is helping lead the reorganizational efforts.

Stern said the newest models in traps, self-loading machines, will be ordered also this week, while other construction work will be in progress.

If building plans follow the schedule, the first shoot will be held in July.

Meanwhile, the membership drive is continuing with Stern and Bernheim, who will serve as range managers, accepting the membership registerations.

Arkansas Men To Seek New River Speedboat Mark

NEW ORLEANS, June 12 (AP) — Two Arkansas men are scheduled to leave here early Monday in an attempt to crack the Mississippi River speedboat run to St. Louis, Mo.

Quintin H. DeClerk, manager of the sporting goods department of a Little Rock concern, and Michael L. Heim, a Little Rock wholesale meat dealer, said they have been planning the 1,045-mile trip since last October.

The attempt will be the 1,046th made for the trip, which was made famous by the race between the steamboats Robert E. Lee and the Natchez in 1870. Only five boats have reached St. Louis in the attempts to set a new standard.

The record was set last October when St. Louis businessman Frank Burkarth and two river veterans, John Ritchie and Herman Blattel, negotiated the tricky course in 61 hours and 22 minutes.

DeClerk and Heim will try for the record in a 200-horsepower boat which started as a kit from a now-defunct prefabricated boat concern.

The two men said they plan to average between 35 and 37 miles per hour. They said they hope to knock eight hours off the record by attempting to make the run in slightly better than 53 hours. They said they will travel during the daylight hours only since the record is judged on a time elapsed basis.

DeClerk said he and Heim will stop overnight at Greenville, Miss., Cairo, Ill., and hope to reach St. Louis the morning of June 16.

GOD CALLED OUR JOHNNY
Our loss but heaven's gain
Since Johnny's gone to that domain.
And though our hearts
Feel they will break
He was God's own child
To leave or take.
But God saw fit to claim his own
So he called our Johnny home.
He can't return, there is no way.
But we can meet him there someday.
And tonight Heaven seems more fair

IN MEMORY
Of our little son, Johnny, whom the Lord called home just three weeks ago today, May 22, 1954. Our baby went to be with Jesus. We take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all of our dear friends who showed us such sympathy and understanding and to our dear brothers in the Lord, Rev. Chambers of the Central Assembly of God Church, who conducted the funeral, also Rev. Troy Tisdale of Beigle Assembly of God, Rev. Graves of Morning Side Assembly of God. May God richly bless every one of you. There's a great longing and emptiness in our heart that cannot be replaced. We can't bring him back to us but as King David said, we shall go to him someday. Thank you one and all our prayers are with you. This is a poem written by Johnny's dear teacher, whose kindness can't be expressed.

Arkansas Men To Seek New River Speedboat Mark

NEW ORLEANS, June 12 (AP) — Two Arkansas men are scheduled to leave here early Monday in an attempt to crack the Mississippi River speedboat run to St. Louis, Mo.

Quintin H. DeClerk, manager of the sporting goods department of a Little Rock concern, and Michael L. Heim, a Little Rock wholesale meat dealer, said they have been planning the 1,045-mile trip since last October.

The attempt will be the 1,046th made for the trip, which was made famous by the race between the steamboats Robert E. Lee and the Natchez in 1870. Only five boats have reached St. Louis in the attempts to set a new standard.

The record was set last October when St. Louis businessman Frank Burkarth and two river veterans, John Ritchie and Herman Blattel, negotiated the tricky course in 61 hours and 22 minutes.

DeClerk and Heim will try for the record in a 200-horsepower boat which started as a kit from a now-defunct prefabricated boat concern.

The two men said they plan to average between 35 and 37 miles per hour. They said they hope to knock eight hours off the record by attempting to make the run in slightly better than 53 hours. They said they will travel during the daylight hours only since the record is judged on a time elapsed basis.

DeClerk said he and Heim will stop overnight at Greenville, Miss., Cairo, Ill., and hope to reach St. Louis the morning of June 16.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of our kind friends and neighbors for their floral offerings and many kind expressions of sympathy and condolence during our recent bereavement. All have our everlasting gratitude.
Courtney H. Caples, Billy Caples, J. L. Caples.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to our friends, neighbors and relatives for the many expressions of kindness and sympathy during the illness and loss of our wife and mother.
A. D. Wilhite and Paul

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mrs. T. J. Hill wish to extend thanks to our many friends and relatives who gave help and comfort at the time of our mother's passing away. Your kindnesses made it easier for us.
We should like to mention in particular that we appreciate the comforting words of Brother Henderson and Brother Brock. The understanding kindess of the personnel of Kilpatricks Funeral Home, the lovely music of Virginia Yelton, Mr. and Mrs. Armour, the choir, the beautiful flowers sent by thoughtful friends and the time offered by those doing the many tasks such as preparing food and fulfilling favors required at our home at this time. You were indeed comforting to us.

GOD CALLED OUR JOHNNY
Our loss but heaven's gain
Since Johnny's gone to that domain.
And though our hearts
Feel they will break
He was God's own child
To leave or take.
But God saw fit to claim his own
So he called our Johnny home.
He can't return, there is no way
But we can meet him there someday
And tonight Heaven seems more fair
May 24, 1954.

IN MEMORY
Of our little son, Johnny, whom the Lord called home just three weeks ago today, May 22, 1954. Our baby went to be with Jesus. We take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all of our dear friends who showed us such sympathy and understanding and to our dear brothers in the Lord, Rev. Chambers of the Central Assembly of God Church, who conducted the funeral, also Rev. Troy Tisdale of Beigle Assembly of God, Rev. Graves of Morning Side Assembly of God. May God richly bless every one of you. There's a great longing and emptiness in our heart that cannot be replaced. We can't bring him back to us, but as King David said, we shall go to him someday. Thank you one and all, our prayers are with you. This is a poem written by Johnny's dear teacher, whose kindness can't be expressed.

PLUMB PEEVED!
And wouldn't you be if you'd just built a new home and then get transferred to another city? Well . . . that's the case here, the owner needs to sell, therefore the reasonable price! If you'd like to get outside the city limits in a new 3-bedroom home that's already financed . . . How's this: it's on an 80'x195' lot . . . has 40 gal. water heater . . . copper plumbing . . . four wall furnaces with thermostats . . . nice kitchen cabinet space . . . and a host of other fine features. Pay the owner's equity ($1353) and assume monthly payments of only $56.89! It's located on BLAIR ST. in Butler's subdivision just a couple blocks from Claiborne Grammar School.

EXPENSIVE . . .
but not expensive. If you want to know exactly what we mean — we'll continue. First of all, it's a three bedroom home located on a corner lot at 2710 NORTH 8TH in West Monroe. The attic is roomy enough to build another bedroom or a den if you like—it would only take a week end or so to do this. Other features are: 42" attic fan; floor furnace; enclosed garage with a door leading into the hall; washer plumbing; oak floors; shower in bath; separate dining room; and the home has just been painted. G. I.'s can get a 100 per cent G. I. loan on this 3½ year old home. If you're interested, let us take you to see it — pay the closing costs and the key is yours.

SOMEBODY DO SOMETHING!
IT'S A crime to let this home just "sit there"! The location is out of the city limits on Restful Home Road - trees and all! Among the 1,473 square feet of living area you'll find such features as these: the garage has a metal overhead door - and there's a disappearing stair to the attic in the garage. Central heating and a 48" attic fan. You'll especially like the big den - and the two nice size bedrooms, both with huge double closets. Added "extra" features are: natural woodwork, tension joint windows, aluminum screens and there's a neat attractive chicken house in the back yard. For a G.I. it's only $650.00 plus closing costs.

DON'T DARE LOOK . . .
at this home without going inside! It's just been painted inside and out and the floors have been resanded and finished. You can't help but note the big tree by the carport that helps keep the house cool. The kitchen has nice cabinet space and roomy breakfast area; the two bedrooms have nice closet space and there's a hall closet; in the living room there's a false fireplace with book shelves on either side; venetian blinds and a 40" attic fan. It's located at 206 Georgia Street and it'll 100 per cent G. I. Just pay the closing costs and low monthly payments.

VERY CHOICE . . .

IT'S BRICK . . .
. . . and whata' brick at that! It's hardly 2 years old and about the nicest home you'll find anywhere! Among the 1166 sq. feet of living area of this one are such features as: 2 comfortable bedrooms; a large living room and a separate dining room; the unique kitchen has washer plumbing, stove hood, nice cabinet space; and "to boot" there's a separate breakfast room. This home also contains: auto. shutter attic fan . . . floor furnace . . . both with shower . . . there's a carport with storage and the hardwood floors hardly look like they've been walked on. It's located just half a block from Sherrouse grammar at 3904 BLANKS and can be bought with a 100 per cent G. I. loan. It's vacant and we'll be glad to show today!

IT'S A SNAP . . .
. . . to buy this bargain! All it takes is $633 down and just $37.00 a month including taxes and insurance! This bargain at 708 ADCOCK ST. has aluminum tension screens, metal Venetian blinds, natural woodwork throughout and it's on a 50x150 lot. Total price is only $5108. Call today for a "peep."

PLUMB PEEVED!
And wouldn't you be if you'd just built a new home and then get transferred to another city? Well . . . that's the case here, the owner needs to sell, therefore the reasonable price! If you'd like to get outside the city limits in a new 3-bedroom home that's already financed . . . How's this: It's on an 80'x195' lot . . . has 40 gal. water heater . . . copper plumbing . . . four wall furnaces with thermostats . . . nice kitchen cabinet space . . . and a host of other fine features. Pay the owner's equity ($1353) and assume monthly payments of only $58.89! It's located on BLAIR ST. in Butler's subdivision just a coupla' blocks from Claiborne Grammar School.

EXPENSIVE...
but not expensive. If you want to know exactly what we mean — we'll continue. First of all, it's a three bedroom home located on a corner lot at 2710 NORTH 8TH in West Monroe. The attic is roomy enough to build another bedroom or a den if you like—it would only take a week and or so to do this. Other features are: 42" attic fan; floor furnace; enclosed garage with a door leading into the hall; washer plumbing; oak floors; shower in bath; separate dining room; and the home has just been painted. G. I.'s can get a 100 per cent G. I. loan on this 3½ year old home. If you're interested, let us take you to see it — pay the closing costs and the key is yours.

SOMEBODY DO SOMETHING!
IT'S A crime to let this home just "sit there"! The location is out of the city limits on Restful Home Road - trees and all! Among the 1,473 square feet of living area you'll find such features as these: the garage has a metal overhead door - and there's a disappearing stair to the attic in the garage. Central heating and a 48" attic fan. You'll especially like the big den - and the two nice size bedrooms, both with huge double closets. Added "extra" features are: natural woodwork, tension joint windows, aluminum screens and there's a neat attractive chicken house in the back yard. For a G.I. it's only $650.00 plus closing costs.

DON'T DARE LOOK...
at this home without going inside! It's just been painted inside and out and the floors have been resanded and finished. You can't help but note the big trees by the carport that helps keep the house cool. The kitchen has nice cabinet space and roomy breakfast area; the two bedrooms have nice closet space and there's a hall closet; in the living room there's a false fireplace with book shelves on either side; venetian blinds and a 40" attic fan. It's located at 206 Georgia Street and it'll 100 per cent G. I. Just pay the closing costs and low monthly payments.

VERY CHOICE...

IT'S BRICK...
. . . and whata' brick at that! It's hardly 2 years old and about the nicest home you'll find anywhere! Among the 1166 sq. feet of living area of this one are such features as: 2 comfortable bedrooms; a large living room and a separate dining room; the unique kitchen has washer plumbing, stove hood, nice cabinet space; and "to boot" there's a separate breakfast room. This home also contains: auto. shutter attic fan . . . floor furnace . . . both with shower . . . there's a carport with storage and the hardwood floors hardly look like they've been walked on. It's located just half a block from Sherrouse grammar at 3904 BLANKS and can be bought with a 100 per cent G. I. loan. It's vacant and we'll be glad to show today!

IT'S A SNAP...
. . . to buy this bargain! All it takes is $633 down and just $37.00 a month including taxes and insurance! This bargain at 708 ADCOCK ST. has aluminum tension screens, metal Venetian blinds, natural woodwork throughout and it's on a 50x150 lot. Total price is only $5108. Call today for a "peep."

Miss Chandler Bride Of Lt. M. L. Frazier

Of interest here and elsewhere in Louisiana was the wedding yesterday celebrated in the Fairmount Presbyterian Church, Shaker Heights, Ohio, of Miss Jean C. Chandler, daughter of Mrs. Frederick C. Chandler, Jr., to Lt. (jg) Montgomery L. Frazier, USN, son of Mrs. Marie Frazier of this city. The ceremony, which took place at 4:30 in the late afternoon, was performed by the Reverend Richard Pacini. Decorating the altar of the church were clusters of white peonies and larkspur and sprays of green. Seven branch candelabra entwined with smilax were at either side. The family pews were tied with green and white satin ribbons.

The bride entered the church with her brother, Mr. Frederick C. Chandler, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of silk satin made with tight fitting bodice having a sweetheart neckline. Her full skirt was made with three unpressed pleats in the front. Similar pleats formed a cathedral length train in the back. On her head she wore a long veil of heirloom Brussells lace which fell from a lace cap over the train of the bridal dress. She carried a bouquet of lily of the valley and phaelonopsis with trailing English ivy.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Arthur G. Merriman. Other attendants were Mrs. Robert Saxton, Mrs Frederick C. Chandler, her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Ann Mellen, Miss Aloise O'Brien, all of Cleveland, Ohio. Miss Margurite Bauer, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. They wore dresses of mint green taffeta made with round necks and short sleeves. The empire waists had full skirts over crinoline. Renoir bows with long streamers were at the back neckline. They wore matching hats of straw and carried baskets of yellow daisies with trailing ivy. The flower girl was dressed in green organdy over taffeta with full skirt tied with a big sash. Her hat was the same as the bridemaids and she carried a smaller basket of daisies and ivy.

Mr. Alfred G. Bauer of Canton, Ohio, brother - in - law of the bridegroom was best man and the groomsmen were Aylmer Montgomery and Dr. Phanor L. Perot of Monroe, Lt. Thomas Cowan, Alabama, and Lt. Woolwine, Nashville, Tenn., and Charles L. Smythe, Jr.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, 24000 Stanford Road. The wedding party received before a bay window in the living room banked with pink roses and larkspur. Bouquets of pink flowers were used throughout the house. The guests were invited to the garden in the rear of the house where a canopy covered the buffet table which was covered with a green organdy cloth and edged with yellow daisies and the cake table also covered in green organdy and outlined in maiden hair fern and white flowers. Small tables covered in green and chairs with yellow covers were on the terrace and under the canopy where supper was served later in the evening. An accordian, bass violin and violin played music for dancing.

After a wedding trip to Sea Island, Ga., where they will be guests at The Cloisters, the young couple will reside in Key West, Fla., where Lt. Frazier is stationed

Joyce Clark Receives DAR History Award

During the graduation exercises, Miss Joyce Clark, of 106 Rex St., West Monroe was presented with the D. A. R. medal for excellence in history. Miss Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W I.. Clark and has been a student of the parish school system since her entrance in school. For the past year she has been secretary of the Distributive Education Club, treasurer of F. B. L. A., treasurer of her home room, a member of the Rebel Dispatch Staff, and one of the beauties of West Monroe High school.

Miss Katherine Averett, member of the Chief Tusquahoma chapter, D. A. R., who made the presentation, had this to say in part: "It is with a sense of pride that tonight the Chief Tusquahoma chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution establishes a precedent in awarding a medal to a student who has the highest grade in American history.

"Our organization recognizes the fact that the future of our country lies in the education of its youth; and in this hour if doubt and disloyalty how important it is that our young people be acquainted with the record of the establishment and growth of these United States on the premise of trust in God, freedom of the individual and love of country. We want to be guilty of the strong nationalism and patriotism of which our enemy forces accuse us. We believe in our country, and we believe in her youth."

Amarylis Lee Becomes Bride Of Dale Colvin

WINNSBORO — In nuptials solemnized on Tuesday evening, June 1, at 7:30 o'clock in the Temple Baptist Church, Miss Uldeen Amarylis Lee became the bride of Alton Dale Colvin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Lee of Winnsboro, and Mr. Colvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Colvin of 3707 Cypress, West Monroe.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. B. Odom, uncle of the groom of Hico, assisted by the Rev. H. K. Stringer, pastor.

The altar of the church was decorated with floor baskets of white gladioli. Evergreen entwined with white daisies decorated the arch which formed the center decor for the ceremony. Palm branches and tall white tapers adorned the altar railing. White wrought-iron candelabras held tiers of white burning tapers.

As the pre-nuptial music was played by Mrs. Cline Ellis of McGhee, Ark., the candle lighters, Misses Nellie Faye Lee of Winnsboro, sister of the bride, and Sondra Jean Ellis, niece of the bridegroom lighted the tapers. They wore satin and net floor length dresses with floral headpieces. Soloist Max Lee of Magnolia, Ark., sang "Always," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of traditional white satin with fitted bodice. Tiny white satin covered buttons extended down the back to the waistline. Chantilly lace curved around the hips and down the train. It also formed the bodice and topped the nylon yoke with a winged collar. The skirt extended into a regal train. Her veil was nylon net cascaded finger-tip length from her crown of satin, trimmed with seed pearls.

The bride had as her maid of honor, Miss Ellen Thomas of Shreveport. She wore a pale pink floor length net over satin gown. The bridesmaids were Misses Joy Clifton of Minden, Cecil Clark, Le Compte; and Joan McCain of Alexandria. Their gowns were ice blue net over taffeta with sweetheart neckline identical to the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of blue and pink daisies entwined with matching tulle and satin ribbons.

Flower girls were Susie Allison of Ruston and Charlotte Bradley of Baton Rouge. They wore net over satin floor length models. They carried dainty pink satin handmade baskets filled with fragrant flower petals.

Immediately following the ceremony the reception was held in the annex of the church. In the receiving line with the wedding party were Mrs. Smith, Mr. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Colvin.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white linen cutwork cloth over green, carrying out the color scheme of green and white. The center decor was a handsome silver candle holder which held six burning white tapers. This was entwined with a double wedding ring floral arrangement. At the ends of the table was placed the three tiered white wedding cake, decorated with sugar-spun roses, and the crystal punch service. Miss Ann Riser and Mrs. Alice B. Walter alternated at the punch service. Mrs. David Cook of Ruston served the wedding cake. Miss Virginia Graham of Ruston assisted in serving. MR. AND MRS. NICK N. VELCHOFF, JR.

Nuptial Mass Unites Couple

The impressive new Pope Pious X Catholic Church in New Orleans was the scene of a lovely nuptial mass at eleven o'clock recently, when Betty Neil Simon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil D. Simon of New Orleans became the bride of Nick N. Velchoff, Jr., son of Mrs. Nick N. Velchoff and the late Mr. Velchoff of Rayville.

The young couple spoke their vows before the beautiful altar of the new church, which was banked with masses of Easter lillies. Father M. J. Killouhey officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a bridal frock of informal length, fashioned of white coton lace with matching mittens of the same fabric. Her short veil of imported Belgium maline was caught to a coronet of seed pearls. For something borrowed she wore a small gold and diamond cross at her neck. Her bridal bouquet was of Fleur D' Amoir gardenias.

Atending the bride as her bridesmaid was Miss Leo Adams of Tallulah who chose a navy suit with white collar and accessories of white. She wore a shrimp colored spring sailor with veil to match. Her flowers were gardenias.

Both Mrs. Simon, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Velchoff, mother of the groom, were charming in models of navy with white accessories. Their corsages were of carnations. Also in attendance among the small group of relatives and close friends were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. M. Simon of New Orleans, and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. A. Svetlecic of Winnsboro.

Mr. Velchoff is a graduate of Rayville High School, atended Tulane University and is a graduate of Louisiana State University. He is now an accountant with the California Oil Company in New Orleans.

Couple Pledge Troth In Lake Providence

The Lake Providence First Methodist Church was the scene on Sunday afternoon, June 6, at three o'clock of an impressive wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Mary Katherine Babb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Alton Babb of Lake Providence, and Theodore Soden Bull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Bull of Trenton, N. J.

As the guests were being seated by the ushers, Leon C. Harbin, Jr., and Stanley Burkett of West Monroe, Miss Carolyn Babb, sister of the bride, at the organ rendered a program of nuptial music. She also accompanied Marvin Dobson of Greenville, Tenn., who sang "I Love Thee," and "Oh! Perfect Love," preceding the ceremony and "Savior, Like A Shepherd Lead Us," as the benediction.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Frances Babb, Miss Alma Lee Babb, as bridal attendants, and Sadie Ruth Babb as flower girl. Miss Lois Bull, sister of the bridegroom, was a member of the bridal party.

All of the attendants were identically attired in gowns of pastel shades of embroidered organza over taffeta slips of matching shades. Each carried a colonial bouquet of orchid asters with graduated streamers. The little flower girl carried a wicker basket of rosepetals. Miss Frances Babb, the junior bridesmaid, wore canary; Miss Alma Lee Babb, maid of honor, wore green; Miss Lois Bull, a bridesmaid, wore pink, and Sadie Ruth Babb, white with double ruffled skirt. Each added a velvet bandeau of dress matching leaves.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was gowned in an exquisite white model combining nylon net and chantilly lace over satin. A lace bolero covered the strapless lace bodice, and lace panels centered the front and back of the extremely full waltz length net skirt.

The veil of illusion, which framed the shoulders, fell from a lace calot embroidered in pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, from which fell a cascade of narrow satin ribbon. Mr. Melvin Cox, Trenton, N. J., served the bridegroom as his best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Babb were hosts at the reception which immediately followed the church ceremony and was held in Fellowship Hall of the educational building. The flowers used in the church altar decoration were used for the background flower arrangement. Mr. and Mrs. Bull, their mothers and feminine members of the bridal party stood in the receiving line. Miss Allie Jo Hammack, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register, which was placed on an antique table decorated with a miniature bridal party.

Refreshments were served from twin tables, overlaid with handsome linen Mexican drawn work, and illuminating the setting were branched crystal candelabra holding tall white tapers. Mrs. William Henry Maben sliced and served the cake, assisted by Miss Martha Carolyn McClendon. Decor for the table for serving punch, with Mrs. Thomas J. Sitton presiding was a tiered crystal arrangement of white gladioli. To assist in the serving courtesies were Mrs. C. R. Brown, Mrs. A. S. Herzog, Mrs. Adron Williams and Mrs. T. M. Lancaster.

For the wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Trenton, N. J., and Strausburg, Pa., the bride chose a beige and brown ensemble with Eton jacket. Her straw shell was in white, and to complete the costume she added the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will spend the summer in Strausburg, where he will be director of a boys camp. In the fall they will return to Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C., where he will be a faculty member and continue work towards a master's degree and she a member of the office secretarial staff.

Out of town guests from Louisiana were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burkett and son, Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Mitchell, all of West Monroe; Mrs. W. W. Dance and daughter, Miss Sue Dance, Gibsland, Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Dufresne, Houghton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Alexandria.

Rehearsal Supper

Mrs. W. W. Dance of Gibsland and Mrs. C. R. Brown were hostesses for the rehearsal supper following the church rehearsal of Saturday evening. Entertaining in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist educational building, mixed spring flowers were used in vases and floor baskets. Centering the table was a continuous spray of ivy, interspersed with low bowls of phlox. MR. AND MRS. NICK N. VELCHOFF, JR.

Nuptial Mass Unites Couple

The impressive new Pope Pious X Catholic Church in New Orleans was the scene of a lovely nuptial mass at eleven o'clock recently, when Betty Neil Simon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil D. Simon of New Orleans became the bride of Nick N. Velchoff, Jr., son of Mrs. Nick N. Velchoff and the late Mr. Velchoff of Rayville.

The young couple spoke their vows before the beautiful altar of the new church, which was banked with masses of Easter lillies. Father M. J. Killouhey officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a bridal frock of informal length, fashioned of white coton lace with matching mittens of the same fabric. Her short veil of imported Belgium maline was caught to a coronet of seed pearls. For something borrowed she wore a small gold and diamond cross at her neck. Her bridal bouquet was of Fleur D' Amoir gardenias.

Atending the bride as her bridesmaid was Miss Leo Adams of Talluiah who chose a navy suit with white collar and accessories of white. She wore a shrimp colored spring sailor with veil to match. Her flowers were gardenias.

Both Mrs. Simon, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Velchoff, mother of the groom, were charming in models of navy with white accessories. Their corsages were of carnations. Also in attendance among the small group of relatives and close friends were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. M. Simon of New Orleans, and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. A. Svetlecic of Winnsboro.

Mr. Velchoff is a graduate of Rayville High School, atended Tulane University and is a graduate of Louisiana State University. He is now an accountant with the California Oil Company in New Orleans.

Couple Pledge Troth In Lake Providence

The Lake Providence First Methodist Church was the scene on Sunday afternoon, June 6, at three o'clock of an impressive wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Mary Katherine Babb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Alton Babb of Lake Providence, and Theodore Soden Bull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Bull of Trenton, N. J.

The Rev. Edgar Dufresne of Haughton performed the double ring ceremony before an altar framed in magnolia blooms and leaves and floor baskets of white gladioli.

As the guests were being seated by the ushers, Leon C. Harbin, Jr., and Stanley Burkett of West Monroe, Miss Carolyn Babb, sister of the bride, at the organ rendered a program of nuptial music. She also accompanied Marvin Dobson of Greenville, Tenn., who sang "I Love Thee," and "Oh! Perfect Love," preceding the ceremony and "Savior, Like A Shepherd Lead Us," as the benediction.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Frances Babb, Miss Alma Lee Babb, as bridal attendants, and Sadie Ruth Babb as flower girl. Miss Lois Bull, sister of the bridegroom, was a member of the bridal party.

All of the attendants were identically attired in gowns of pastel shades of embroidered organza over taffeta slips of matching shades. Each carried a colonial bouquet of orchid asters with graduated streamers. The little flower girl carried a wicker basket of rosepetals. Miss Frances Babb, the junior bridesmaid, wore canary; Miss Alma Lee Babb, maid of honor, wore green; Miss Lois Bull, a bridesmaid, wore pink, and Sadie Ruth Babb, white with double ruffled skirt. Each added a velvet bandeau of dress matching leaves.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was gowned in an exquisite white model combining nylon net and chantilly lace over satin. A lace bolero covered the strapless lace bodice, and lace panels centered the front and back of the extremely full waltz length net skirt.

The veil of illusion, which framed the shoulders, fell from a lace calot embroidered in pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, from which fell a cascade of narrow satin ribbon. Mr. Melvin Cox, Trenton, N. J., served the bridegroom as his best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Babb were hosts at the reception which immediately followed the church ceremony and was held in Fellowship Hall of the educational building. The flowers used in the church altar decoration were used for the background flower arrangement. Mr. and Mrs. Bull, their mothers and feminine members of the bridal party stood in the receiving line. Miss Allie Jo Hammack, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register, which was placed on an antique table decorated with a miniature bridal party.

Refreshments were served from twin tables, overlaid with handsome linen Mexican drawn work, and illuminating the setting were branched crystal candelabra holding tall white tapers. Mrs. William Henry Maben sliced and served the cake, assisted by Miss Martha Carolyn McClendon. Decor for the table for serving punch, with Mrs. Thomas J. Sitton presiding was a tiered crystal arrangement of white gladioli. To assist in the serving courtesies were Mrs. C. R. Brown, Mrs. A. S. Herzog, Mrs. Adron Williams and Mrs. T. M. Lancaster.

For the wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Trenton, N. J., and Strausburg, Pa., the bride chose a beige and brown ensemble with Eton jacket. Her straw shell was in white, and to complete the costume she added the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will spend the summer in Strausburg, where he will be director of a boys camp. In the fall they will return to Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C., where he will be a faculty member and continue work towards a master's degree and she a member of the office secretarial staff.

Out of town guests from Louisiana were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burkett and son, Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Mitchell, all of West Monroe; Mrs. W. W. Dance and daughter, Miss Sue Dance, Gibsland, Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Dufresne, Houghton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Alexandria.

Rehearsal Supper

Mrs. W. W. Dance of Gibsland and Mrs. C. R. Brown were hostesses for the rehearsal supper following the church rehearsal of Saturday evening. Entertaining in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist educational building, mixed spring flowers were used in vases and floor baskets. Centering the table was a continuous spray of ivy, interspersed with low bowls of phlox. Fronting the bride and groom was a decorative replica of the bridal party with dolls dressed in the pastel shades to be worn by the attendants.

A delectable supper was served by the hostesses to 25 members of the bridal party and their families.

News From The Public Library

Now that the summer season is here in full force, it is time to think about books for light summer reading. Because so many of our patrons enjoy mystery stories, we added last month a number of new mystery titles, so that we could be ready for the summer rush.

I am not going to tell you the plots of the mystery stories, but give you the author and title, so that you can ask for the one by the writer of your choice. "Gallows in My Garden" is an interesting title by Richard Deming. Other mystery books are "The Glass Spear" by Sidney Hobson Courtier, "Murder Twice Removed" by Muriel Bradley, "Tragic Target" by Mary V. Heberden, "The Congo Venus" by Matthew Head. "The Magician" by Frederick L. Green, "Murder in the House" by Kate Clugston, "Alibi for A Witch" by E. X. Ferrars, "The Widow Had A Gun" by George H. Coxe, "Always Ask A Policeman" by Seldon Truss, "Most Men Don't Kill" by David Alexander, "The Castle of Iron" by Lyon Sprague de Camp, "Ballroom of the Skies" by John D. McDonald, "Riders of Red Butte" by Roe Richmond, "The Iron Baby Angel" by Charles R. McDowell, "The Case Against Myself," by Gregory Tree, "The Shroud off Her Back" by Stephen Ransome, "Murder of A Red-Haired Man" by Mary Plum, "The Doctor and the Corpse" by Max Murray; "Death Walks Softly" by Hazel McDonald Christie; "Not in the Script" by John Bonet, "Death Has Seven Faces" by Hugh Austin, "A Shroud for Grandma" by Ashe Douglas and "The Beckoning Door" by Mabel Seeley.

In addition to mystery stories there are a great many new books of fiction which have appeared in the past few weeks. "Star in the Rigging" by Garland Roark is a fascinating sea story. "Mary Anne" by Daphne Du Maurier is a very interesting story based on the life of her own grandmother. It bids fair to be one of the most popular novels of the summer. "Beyond the Hungry Country" by Louise A. Stinetorf should be read by everyone who enjoyed "The White Witch Doctor."

There are several new books of non-fiction, which are as entertaining to read as fiction. One of these is the fascinating biography "Mamie Doud Eisenhower" by Dorothy Brandon; another is "The Yazoo River" by Frank E. Smith. A book which should be helpful to anyone planning to take a trip is "Dining out in America's Cities" by Raymond H. Ewell.

There are books for every taste at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If you are not using its resources, enroll as soon as possible.

Gray Ladies Activities

Mrs. Robert L. Fuller will head the service group as general chairman. Mrs. Faye Weinberg, co-chairman and Mrs. Milton Coverdale, co-chairman with Mrs. Herman Reece, assistant publicity chairman.

Our monthly meeting was held in the home of Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, outgoing general chiarman. She presented each co-chairman, Mrs. Hoyle Kight and Mrs. Milton Coverdale, who worked with her the last year a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

While Mrs. McWilliams was conducting her last monthly meeting as general chairman all the Gray Ladies had the florist to deliver her a beautiful potted plant in appreciation for the wonderful work she has done as general chairman the past two years.

The other chairman and co-chairman for the various homes are—Adams Street — Mrs. Mildred O'Brien, chairman. Mrs. Stella Pifer, co-chairman; Charity Hospital, Mrs. Kathleen Eason, chairman and Mrs. Dorothy Singley, co-chairman; Cooley Sanitorium, Mrs. Irene DeLay, chairman, Miss Zelma Ouchley, co-chairman; DeSiard Street, Mrs. Lena Hinton, chairman, Mrs. Helen Carlson, co-chairman; Jackson Street, Mrs. Shingo Smith, chairman, Mrs. Esther Embanato, co-chairman; Pine Street, Mrs. Rudie St. John, chairman, Mrs. Lora Carson, co-chairman, St. Joseph Home, Mrs. Mae Gleason, chairman and Mrs. Jean Marx, co-chairman.

All these homes are visited weekly by the Gray Ladies bringing as much happiness and sunshine as they can — letters are written, shopping is done, reading to those that can't see to read, carrying those to doctors offices and to the hospital that need to go.

News From The Public Library

Now that the summer season is here in full force, it is time to think about books for light summer reading. Because so many of our patrons enjoy mystery stories, we added last month a number of new mystery titles, so that we could be ready for the summer rush.

I am not going to tell you the plots of the mystery stories, but give you the author and title, so that you can ask for the one by the writer of your choice. "Gallows in My Garden" is an interesting title by Richard Deming. Other mystery books are "The Glass Spear" by Sidney Hobson Courtier, "Murder Twice Removed" by Muriel Bradley, "Tragic Target" by Mary V. Heberden, "The Congo Venus" by Matthew Head. "The Magician" by Frederick L. Green, "Murder in the House" by Kate Clugston, "Alibi for A Witch" by E. X. Ferrars, "The Widow Had A Gun" by George H. Coxe, "Always Ask A Policeman" by Seldon Truss, "Most Men Don't Kill" by David Alexander, "The Castle of Iron" by Lyon Sprague de Camp, "Ballroom of the Skies" by John D. McDonald, "Riders of Red Butte" by Roe Richmond, "The Iron Baby Angel" by Charles R. McDowell, "The Case Against Myself," by Gregory Tree, "The Shroud off Her Back" by Stephen Ransome, "Murder of A Red-Haired Man" by Mary Plum, "The Doctor and the Corpse" by Max Murray; "Death Walks Softly" by Hazel McDonald Christie; "Not in the Script" by John Bonet, "Death Has Seven Faces" by Hugh Austin, "A Shroud for Grandma" by Ashe Douglas and "The Beckoning Door" by Mabel Seeley.

In addition to mystery stories there are a great many new books of fiction which have appeared in the past few weeks. "Star in the Rigging" by Garland Roark is a fascinating sea story. "Mary Anne" by Daphne Du Maurier is a very interesting story based on the life of her own grandmother. It bids fair to be one of the most popular novels of the summer. "Beyond the Hungry Country" by Louise A. Stinetorf should be read by everyone who enjoyed "The White Witch Doctor."

There are several new books of non-fiction, which are as entertaining to read as fiction. One of these is the fascinating biography "Mamie Doud Eisenhower" by Dorothy Brandon; another is "The Yazoo River" by Frank E. Smith. A book which should be helpful to anyone planning to take a trip is "Dining out in America's Cities" by Raymond H. Ewell.

There are books for every taste at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If you are not using its resources, enroll as soon as possible.

Prolong the life of your sheets by loosening the edges before removing them from the bed. Yanking them off while they are still tucked under puts a great strain on the material.

With their own counselors the girls plan their camp activities, joining with the whole camp only for special occasions.

Bridal Parties Compliment Miss Jane Tidwell

Outstanding among the parties given for Miss Jane Tidwell before her marriage to Harry Chappell last week was the tea given by Mrs. Charles Swain and Mrs. Pat Thompson. The party was held in the garden of the Swain home on South Grand street where Mrs. Swain, Miss Tidwell, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Jr., Mrs. Dennis Chappell and Mrs. A. S. Tidwell Sr. received the guests that called during the party hours.

A green cloth covered the tea table and magnolias formed the centerpiece. Assisting in serving were Mrs. James Gaddy of Ruston, Mrs. Jack Cannon and Miss Emma Lou Barton.

Two Luncheons

A white theme was carried in the luncheon Mrs. Vernon E. LaCour, of Opelousas, aunt of the bride, gave in her honor at a downtown hotel. An arrangement of white asters and Esther Reed daisies, under a cluster of wedding bells centered the table The bride's place was marked with a corsage of agapanthus and carnations and a gift of silver. She was wearing a black Pima cotton dress with yellow bolero. Place cards of miniature wedding bells named the other guests, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell Sr., Mrs. Dennis Chappell, Miss Pat Sanders, Miss Anita O'Kelly and Miss Martha Nell Chappell.

Among the guests included with the honoree were Miss Martha Nell Chappell, Miss Anita O'Kelly, Miss Pat Sanders, Mrs. Dennis Chappell, and Mrs. A. S. Tidwell.

Dock Party

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Marcus were hosts to the bridal couple last Saturday night at their camp on Bayou DeSiard. A barbecue supper was served on the lawn sloping to the bayou's edge. Later in the evening the guests were served coffee and dessert in lounge of the camp. Bouquets of bright summer flowers decorated the room and centering the serving table was a low bowl of daisies with branched candelabra at either side. The honorees received a gift from their hosts.

Preserve That New Look In Your Summer Cottons

High styled cotton dresses, suits, coats, and evening dresses deserve and need the finest care. Because fashion is now built into our cotton garments, we must take steps to preserve it—cottons are no longer meant to be routed to the wash basin in the bathroom or relegated to the basement for laundering. They require professional cleaning service.

Cotton is a very versatile fabric, and designers have run the gamut of color, texture, finish, and design this season. You may have noticed that stores and shops are flooded with high polished cottons, with colors gay and lustrous. Be sure to give consideration to garment design when you select a high polish cotton for summer wear, because they can be very warm on hot, humid days.

The new "patent leather prints" are a designers delight. Some of these are imported, others are American made. The design is usually black and lustrous like patent leather. Color may be added. The designs may dull slightly with wear and cleaning, but not sufficiently to make you unhappy.

Straw fabrics and decorative trims of straw are the new pacesetters. The fabrics may be made of raffia—which is high strength paper made to look like straw. The straw effect is achieved in cotton fabrics by using rough textured yarns in irregular weaves, or by a resin treatment.

THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF DRY CLEANING says you can preserve your cotton garments with proper care. Cottons are susceptible to fabric damage from perspiration, deodorants, and anti-perspirants if improperly used. Many ask, "Does drycleaning really clean cottons?" The answer is "Yes." Besides, your drycleaner can improve the appearance of your summer cottons by professional finishing.

Bridal Parties Compliment Miss Jane Tidwell

Outstanding among the parties given for Miss Jane Tidwell before her marriage to Harry Chappell last week was the tea given by Mrs. Charles Swain and Mrs. Pat Thompson. The party was held in the garden of the Swain home on South Grand street where Mrs. Swain, Miss Tidwell Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Jr., Mrs. Dennis Chappell and Mrs. A. S. Tidwell Sr. received the guests that called during the party hours.

A green cloth covered the tea table and magnolias formed the centerpiece. Assisting in serving were Mrs. James Gaddy of Ruston. Mrs. Jack Cannon and Miss Emma Lou Barton.

Two Luncheons

A white theme was carried in the luncheon Mrs. Vernon E. LaCour, of Opelousas, aunt of the bride, gave in her honor at a downtown hotel. An arrangement of white asters and Esther Reed daisies, under a cluster of wedding bells centered the table The bride's place was marked with a corsage of agapanthus and carnations and a gift of silver. She was wearing a black Pima cotton dress with yellow bolero. Place cards of miniature wedding bells named the other guests, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell Sr., Mrs. Dennis Chappell, Miss Pat Sanders, Miss Anita O'Kelly and Miss Martha Nell Chappell.

Among the guests included with the honoree were Miss Martha Nell Chappell, Miss Anita O'Kelly, Miss Pat Sanders, Mrs. Dennis Chappell, and Mrs. A. S. Tidwell.

Dock Party

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Marcus were hosts to the bridal couple last Saturday night at their camp on Bayou DeSiard. A barbecue supper was served on the lawn sloping to the bayou's edge. Later in the evening the guests were served coffee and dessert in lounge of the camp. Bouquets of bright summer flowers decorated the room and centering the serving table was a low bowl of daisies with branched candelabra at either side. The honorees received a gift from their hosts.

CPL. AND MRS. FRANK EDWARD KLOTZ

Klotz-Tullos Vows Exchanged In Jonesboro

Miss Bettie Jo Tullos, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Tullos of Jonesboro became the bride of Cpl. Frank Edward Klotz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Louis Klotz of Mexico, Mo., in a double ring home ceremony performed by the bride's father.

The improvised altar was a nuptial arch decorated in southern smilax and white carnations. Tall baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra enhanced the setting.

Miss Rennie Sanderson of Mangham presented nuptial music and accompanied Wendell Phillips of Rayville who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," "Oh, Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's gown was a white satin chapel length with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which came to points over the wrist. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a satin Juliet cap trimmed in lilies of the valley. Her colonial bouquet was of white feathered carnations and lilies of the valley carried on a white Bible.

The candles were lighted by Miss Edith Smith of Jonesboro.

Cpl. Joe Massey, Jr., served the bridegroom as best man. Michael B. Knight, the bride's nephew was ring bearer.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a black linen ensemble with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Weston High School and attended Louisiana Tech and graduated from Louisiana Business College in Monroe. Cpl. Klotz finished at the city school in Mexico, Mo., and has served four years in the armed forces.

They will make their home in Rayville.

Among the latest wardrobe - stretchers is a scarf that boasts a big, attached flower. It can be worn in a variety of ways: Around the neck, from neck to hip as a peplum, or around the waist. Anyway you use it, it will give a new look to a costume.

The most satisfactory type of at-home dress for the busy woman is one she can slip into without mussing her hair. And to keep it ever fresh with the least amount of trouble, she should select a dress or gown that washes and dries quickly and needs no ironing.

FRED PREAUS

Preaus To Take Chairman's Post On State Board

Fred Preaus of Farmerville, prominent north Louisiana business man and civic leader, has been named chairman of the state board of highways effective July 1.

He replaces Sherwood R. Loe of Shreveport who has resigned.

Preaus, who represents the fifth congressional district on the board, was elected unanimously at the last regular meeting of the group in Baton Rouge.

He is a graduate of Farmerville High School and Louisiana Tech. In 1933, immediately following his graduation, he joined the Ford agency in Farmerville and in 1938 he became the dealer and the name was changed to the Preaus Motor Co.

Preaus has been a member of the Lions Club of Farmerville for 19 years, served as a member of the town's board of aldermen from 1942-1953; served as Union parish war bond chairman from 1941 to the present time.

He served as president of the Louisiana Tech Alumni Association from 1952-53 and 1953-54 and prior to that time served as a member of the board of directors of the Alumni Association.

Preaus has been a member of the state board of highways from the fifth district since its organization in 1952 on an appointment by Gov. Robert F. Kennon. He is also a member of the executive board of the Ouachita Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, comprising all of the fifth district and parts of the eighth district. His firm has sponsored an American Legion junior baseball team for eight years and he has participated in numerous charitable and civic drives; he is also a member of the board of directors of the Louisiana Automobile Dealers Association.

He is married to the former Mona Gill of Ruston and they are the parents of two sons, Frederick and Eugene.

By YVONNE BRETT
State Editor

WINNSBORO, June 13 — On June 14, 1953, John L. Waller, 41-year-old Franklin parish deputy sheriff was killed and since that time Joseph Sheffield, who was convicted and sentenced to die for the crime, has been incarcerated in the Franklin parish jail.

Though a year has elapsed since the slaying of Waller, the convicted man, who is now 25 years old, is still waiting for the death sentence imposed on him by a district court to be carried out.

On Friday of last week formal papers of appeal to the United States supreme court were filed in Washington. Eugene Stanley, prominent New Orleans attorney and former state attorney general, was reported to be acting as chief counsel for Sheffield in the appeal. Associate Justice Hugo Black had granted permission to file a writ with the supreme court which would, in effect, order the records in the case transferred to Washington.

A close examination of records shows that the Sheffield appeal will be the first ever made in a criminal case to the highest court in the land from this area.

Many legal steps have been taken in the Sheffield case. He was convicted and sentenced to die for killing the Franklin parish deputy, who was a brother of Sheriff Hiram Waller on July 3, 1953, 19 days after the crime was committed.

All through the trial in the crowded courtroom Sheffield showed no emotion. When Judge Carey J. Ellis asked him if he had any statement to make before sentence was passed, he said, "not that I know of." When the judge sentenced him to death, he was still unemotional. One week later, on July 10, he was baptized in an oblong zinc tub outside of his cell door by Rev. Eugene Smith, pastor of the Egypt Baptist Church, a little country church located about five miles from Winnsboro. After the baptism Sheffield was taken into the church as a member.

The request for a death date was referred to the office of the attorney general. Only July 28 Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc reported that the matter had been thoroughly investigated and that Sheffield's death warrant was being forwarded to the office of Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

Gov. Kennon refused to act on the death warrant at that time saying that he had not reviewed the papers.

On October 9, 1953, several attorneys were in Winnsboro conferring with local authorities and checking records of the Sheffield case. Steven Mascro, secretary of the Louisiana Bar Association, confirmed that an inquiry was being made, but refused to make further comment.

Gov. Kennon said on November 12, 1953, that he would continue to delay action on a death warrant for Sheffield because he was still awaiting a report from the bar association and that an attorney, hired by Sheffield's mother, had written the governor asking a delay, pending a request to the state supreme court to review the case.

"I want to wait until all legal remedies have been exhausted," he said.

Leon A. Picou, Jr., of St. Francisville, and J. Charles Collins, Jr., of New Orleans were employed to represent Sheffield. Kent Breard, of Monroe, was appointed by the bar association to follow the proceedings of the murder trial and to keep the board of governors fully informed of further developments in the case. Approximately 200 citizens of Franklin parish filed a protest petition against the way the trial was conducted.

In December, 1953, trial Judge Ellis turned down a request for a new trial on the grounds that legal time for review had expired.

On the 17th day of February, 1954, the Louisiana state supreme court refused to review the trial and this was followed by a refusal of the Louisiana pardon board on April 7, 1954, to review the application submitted on Sheffield's behalf for commutation of his death sentence.

To date, there has been no further steps made on the local and state level, the matter having been given to the U. S. supreme court.

Deputy Sheriff Waller was shot when he went to the J. H. Wilson home, Sheffield's stepfather, on the Sunday afternoon a year ago. He was reported to have died almost instantly from a full load of squirrel shot which entered the left side of his neck and went down into his heart, Dr. Henry E. Jones, parish coroner, said.

Testimony at Sheffield's trial by Homer Hodges, state game agent and special deputy for the sheriff's department, revealed that Waller was shot by Sheffield as he attempted to leave his police car. Hodges, who accompanied Waller, said that he ducked and grabbed the hot barrel of the gun and managed to get it away from Sheffield, who then ran back into the house and got another gun. Hodges said that he didn't fire in the house because there were a number of people and he turned and ran.

Further testimony in the case disclosed that after Sheffield shot Deputy Waller and Hodges had left the scene, he went to where the dying man lay and took his pistol and shotgun.

Joseph Sheffield had been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pilgram at Crossett, Ark., and he and the Pilgrams and their five small children were visiting in the Wilson home at the time of the shooting.

On Sunday morning the group was taking some pictures. One of the children didn't want his picture taken and an argument ensued between Joseph and his brother, Travis Sheffield. The brother went to call authorities after the two became involved in a fist fight.

A few minutes before Waller and Hodges arrived, Joe got the single barrel shotgun, according to testimony, and said "If they come out here some one will probably die. If they come out here someone's going to hell."

District Attorney Harry Anders tried the case for the state. Court-appointed lawyers did not use a single witness and the defendant did not take the stand in his own behalf.

Sheffield on June 9 of this year, when asked how it felt to be in jail for a year said, "It hurts. It is a thunder of a place to be in, but I've got to be here. I don't worry about it. I'll stay here until it comes time to leave. That's all a person can do and there is no use to raise a bunch of sand about it. I'm here and I had just as well to make it as peaceful as possible."

When asked if he felt any different now than he did a year ago, Sheffield asserted, "I have made the change in life since I've been here that I should have made years ago. I am now trying to serve the Lord."

Sheriff Waller, also in a statement issued on June 9, 1954, said, "I am not bloodthirsty. But there has been a lot of wars fought and a lot of people have given their lives in order that our freedom and democratic way of life be preserved. We all should abide by, and be governed by the law."

Continuing his statement Waller said, "Joseph Sheffield was tried by due process of law and found guilty of murdering Deputy Sheriff John L. Waller by a jury of 12 men. The penalty for this crime is death. I see no reason why, in this case or any other case, that all parties concerned should not be governed by the laws of the state of Louisiana."

State Editor

WINNSBORO, June 13 — On June 14, 1953, John L. Waller, 41-year-old Franklin parish deputy sheriff was killed and since that time Joseph Sheffield, who was convicted and sentenced to die for the crime, has been incarcerated in the Franklin parish jail.

Though a year has elapsed since the slaying of Waller, the convicted man, who is now 25 years old, is still waiting for the death sentence imposed on him by a district court to be carried out.

On Friday of last week formal papers of appeal to the United States supreme court were filed in Washington. Eugene Stanley, prominent New Orleans attorney and former state attorney general, was reported to be acting as chief counsel for Sheffield in the appeal. Associate Justice Hugo Black had granted permission to file a writ with the supreme court which would, in effect, order the records in the case transferred to Washington.

A close examination of records shows that the Sheffield appeal will be the first ever made in a criminal case to the highest court in the land from this area.

Many legal steps have been taken in the Sheffield case. He was convicted and sentenced to die for killing the Franklin parish deputy, who was a brother of Sheriff Hiram Waller on July 3, 1953, 19 days after the crime was committed.

All through the trial in the crowded courtroom Sheffield showed no emotion. When Judge Carey J. Ellis asked him if he had any statement to make before sentence was passed, he said, "not that I know of." When the judge sentenced him to death, he was still unemotional. One week later, on July 10, he was baptized in an oblong zinc tub outside of his cell door by Rev. Eugene Smith, pastor of the Egypt Baptist Church, a little country church located about five miles from Winnsboro. After the baptism Sheffield was taken into the church as a member.

The request for a death date was referred to the office of the attorney general. Only July 28 Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc reported that the matter had been thoroughly investigated and that Sheffield's death warrant was being forwarded to the office of Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

Gov. Kennon refused to act on the death warrant at that time saying that he had not reviewed the papers.

On October 9, 1953, several attorneys were in Winnsboro conferring with local authorities and checking records of the Sheffield case. Steven Mascro, secretary of the Louisiana Bar Association, confirmed that an inquiry was being made, but refused to make further comment.

Gov. Kennon said on November 12, 1953, that he would continue to delay action on a death warrant for Sheffield because he was still awaiting a report from the bar association and that an attorney, hired by Sheffield's mother, had written the governor asking a delay, pending a request to the state supreme court to review the case.

"I want to wait until all legal remedies have been exhausted," he said.

Leon A. Picou, Jr., of St. Francisville, and J. Charles Collins, Jr., of New Orleans were employed to represent Sheffield. Kent Breard, of Monroe, was appointed by the bar association to follow the proceedings of the murder trial and to keep the board of governors fully informed of further developments in the case. Approximately 200 citizens of Franklin parish filed a protest petition against the way the trial was conducted.

In December, 1953, trial Judge Ellis turned down a request for a new trial on the grounds that legal time for review had expired.

On the 17th day of February, 1954, the Louisiana state supreme court refused to review the trial and this was followed by a refusal of the Louisiana pardon board on April 7, 1954, to review the application submitted on Sheffield's behalf for commutation of his death sentence.

Joyful Church Group Has Mortgage Burned

Last Sunday was a red letter day at the First Christian Church, for at that time, during the morning worship service, the mortgage on the property was liquidated when before a large congregation, it was destroyed by burning.

This handsome little church, declared by Pastor R. T. Watson and others as perhaps the finest example of edifice of this nature to be found anywhere, was dedicated April 19, 1951. A mortgage was to run ten years, but last Sunday, two years and two months later, the debt was wiped out.

There was an appropriate program executed. C D. McAdams, chairman of the church board, made a statement of the work of that group; Merl Padgett, architect, also explained the style of building that was fashioned and R. O. Ware, finance committee chairman, told of how the church membership was able to pay off a large indebtedness so long time before it became due.

The pastor, Rev. Watson, delivered an appropriate sermon in which he showed that at best all are deeply indebted for we have been so greatly blessed by the Divine that we must return a proper and complete accounting of the blessings we enjoy.

Joyful Church Group Has Mortgage Burned

Last Sunday was a red letter day at the First Christian Church, for at that time, during the morning worship service, the mortgage on the property was liquidated when before a large congregation, it was destroyed by burning.

This handsome little church, declared by Pastor R. T. Watson and others as perhaps the finest example of edifice of this nature to be found anywhere, was dedicated April 19, 1951. A mortgage was to run ten years, but last Sunday, two years and two months later, the debt was wiped out.

There was an appropriate program executed. C. D. McAdams, chairman of the church board, made a statement of the work of that group; Merl Padgett, architect, also explained the style of building that was fashioned and R. O. Ware, finance committee chairman, told of how the church membership was able to pay off a large indebtedness so long time before it became due.

The pastor, Rev. Watson, delivered an appropriate sermon in which he showed that at best all are deeply indebted for we have been so greatly blessed by the Divine that we must return a proper and complete accounting of the blessings we enjoy.

City Playgrounds To Open Monday

The Monroe recreation department will open all city playgrounds Monday at 8:30 a. m. Jack Hesketh, director, announced Saturday. The grounds will be open in the morning during the summer vacation period.

Of the 12 playgrounds, seven will be operated for white children and five for Negroes. The locations of the white playgrounds will be Missouri Pacific grounds, Barkdull Faulk, Lida Benton, Plum Street School, Georgia Tucker, Lexington and Sherrouse Schools.

Negro playgrounds will be at Carroll High School, Booker T. Washington, Bryant's addition, Mt. Nebo School and the Texas Avenue housing project.

Handicraft will be conducted on each playground again this year under the direction of Mrs. Peggy Garnett. All materials are furnished free and there is no charge for attendance, Hesketh pointed out.

The ages for playground participation are from six through 15 years.

The playgrounds will be open Monday through Friday each week, closing on August 6 with an all-day picnic.

By YVONNE BRETT

WINNSBORO, June 13 — On June 14, 1953, John L. Waller, 41-year-old Franklin parish deputy sheriff was killed and since that time Joseph Sheffield, who was convicted and sentenced to die for the crime, has been incarcerated in the Franklin parish jail.

Though a year has elapsed since the slaying of Waller, the convicted man, who is now 25 years old, is still waiting for the death sentence imposed on him by a district court to be carried out.

On Friday of last week formal papers of appeal to the United States supreme court were filed in Washington. Eugene Stanley, prominent New Orleans attorney and former state attorney general, was reported to be acting as chief counsel for Sheffield in the appeal. Associate Justice Hugo Black had granted permission to file a writ with the supreme court which would, in effect, order the records in the case transferred to Washington.

A close examination of records shows that the Sheffield appeal will be the first ever made in a criminal case to the highest court in the land from this area.

Many legal steps have been taken in the Sheffield case. He was convicted and sentenced to die for killing the Franklin parish deputy, who was a brother of Sheriff Hiram Waller on July 3, 1953, 19 days after the crime was committed.

All through the trial in the crowded courtroom Sheffield showed no emotion. When Judge Carey J. Ellis asked him if he had any statement to make before sentence was passed, he said, "not that I know of." When the judge sentenced him to death, he was still unemotional. One week later, on July 10, he was baptized in an oblong zinc tub outside of his cell door by Rev. Eugene Smith, pastor of the Egypt Baptist Church, a little country church located about five miles from Winnsboro. After the baptism Sheffield was taken into the church as a member.

The request for a death date was referred to the office of the attorney general. Only July 28 Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc reported that the matter had been thoroughly investigated and that Sheffield's death warrant was being forwarded to the office of Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

Gov. Kennon refused to act on the death warrant at that time saying that he had not reviewed the papers.

On October 9, 1953, several attorneys were in Winnsboro conferring with local authorities and checking records of the Sheffield case. Steven Masero, secretary of the Louisiana Bar Association, confirmed that an inquiry was being made, but refused to make further comment.

Gov. Kennon said on November 12, 1953, that he would continue to delay action on a death warrant for Sheffield because he was still awaiting a report from the bar association and that an attorney, hired by Sheffield's mother, had written the governor asking a delay, pending a request to the state supreme court to review the case.

"I want to wait until all legal remedies have been exhausted," he said.

Leon A. Picou, Jr., of St. Francisville, and J. Charles Collins, Jr., of New Orleans were employed to represent Sheffield. Kent Breard, of Monroe, was appointed by the bar association to follow the proceedings of the murder trial and to keep the board of governors fully informed of further developments in the case. Approximately 200 citizens of Franklin parish filed a protest petition against the way the trial was conducted.

In December, 1953, trial Judge Ellis turned down a request for a new trial on the grounds that legal time for review had expired.

On the 17th day of February, 1954, the Louisiana state supreme court refused to review the trial and this was followed by a refusal of the Louisiana pardon board on April 7, 1954, to review the application submitted on Sheffield's behalf for commutation of his death sentence.

To date, there has been no further steps made on the local and state level, the matter having been given to the U. S. supreme court.

Deputy Sheriff Waller was shot when he went to the J. H. Wilson home, Sheffield's stepfather, on the Sunday afternoon a year ago. He was reported to have died almost instantly from a full load of squirrel shot which entered the left side of his neck and went down into his heart, Dr. Henry E. Jones, parish coroner, said.

Testimony at Sheffield's trial by Homer Hodges, state game agent and special deputy for the sheriff's department, revealed that Waller was shot by Sheffield as he attempted to leave his police car. Hodges, who accompanied Waller, said that he ducked and grabbed the hot barrel of the gun and managed to get it away from Sheffield, who then ran back into the house and got another gun. Hodges said that he didn't fire in the house because there were a number of people and he turned and ran.

Further testimony in the case disclosed that after Sheffield shot Deputy Waller and Hodges had left the scene, he went to where the dying man lay and took his pistol and shotgun.

Joseph Sheffield had been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pilgram at Crossett, Ark., and he and the Pilgrams and their five small children were visiting in the Wilson home at the time of the shooting.

On Sunday morning the group was taking some pictures. One of the children didn't want his picture taken and an argument ensued between Joseph and his brother, Travis Sheffield. The brother went to call authorities after the two became involved in a fist fight.

A few minutes before Waller and Hodges arrived, Joe got the single barrel shotgun, according to testimony, and said "If they come out here some one will probably die. If they come out here someone's going to hell."

District Attorney Harry Anders tried the case for the state. Court-appointed lawyers did not use a single witness and the defendant did not take the stand in his own behalf.

Sheffield on June 9 of this year, when asked how it felt to be in jail for a year said, "It hurts. It is a thunder of a place to be in, but I've got to be here. I don't worry about it. I'll stay here until it comes time to leave. That's all a person can do and there is no use to raise a bunch of sand about it. I'm here and I had just as well to make it as peaceful as possible."

When asked if he felt any different now than he did a year ago, Sheffield asserted, "I have made the change in life since I've been here that I should have made years ago. I am now trying to serve the Lord."

Sheriff Waller, also in a statement issued on June 9, 1954, said, "I am not bloodthirsty. But there has been a lot of wars fought and a lot of people have given their lives in order that our freedom and democratic way of life be preserved. We all should abide by, and be governed by the law."

Continuing his statement Waller said, "Joseph Sheffield was tried by due process of law and found guilty of murdering Deputy Sheriff John L. Waller by a jury of 12 men. The penalty for this crime is death. I see no reason why, in this case or any other case, that all parties concerned should not be governed by the laws of the state of Louisiana."

Search Conducted In Attack On Man

The injured man was identified as Edgar Wiley, 33, 710 Washington street (rear). He was taken to the Charity hospital for treatment.

Police said they received the call that Wiley had been hurt about 12:32 a.m. Saturday, and were dispatched to 818 Grammont where they found Wiley. He said he did not know the man who hit him, and officers gave no reason for the incident.

The other men, who could not be charged unless they were taking a regular profit percentage from the game, were not held.

Joyful Church Group Has Mortgage Burned

Last Sunday was a red letter day at the First Christian Church, for at that time, during the morning worship service, the mortgage on the property was liquidated when before a large congregation, it was destroyed by burning.

This handsome little church, declared by Pastor R. T. Watson and others as perhaps the finest example of edifice of this nature to be found anywhere, was dedicated April 19, 1951. A mortgage was to run ten years, but last Sunday, two years and two months later, the debt was wiped out.

There was an appropriate program executed. C D. McAdams, chairman of the church board, made a statement of the work of that group; Merl Padgett, architect, also explained the style of building that was fashioned and R. O. Ware, finance committee chairman, told of how the church membership was able to pay off a large indebtedness so long time before it became due.

The pastor, Rev. Watson, delivered an appropriate sermon in which he showed that at best all are deeply indebted for we have been so greatly blessed by the Divine that we must return a proper and complete accounting of the blessings we enjoy.

Joyful Church Group Has Mortgage Burned

Last Sunday was a red letter day at the First Christian Church, for at that time, during the morning worship service, the mortgage on the property was liquidated when before a large congregation, it was destroyed by burning.

This handsome little church, declared by Pastor R. T. Watson and others as perhaps the finest example of edifice of this nature to be found anywhere, was dedicated April 19, 1951. A mortgage was to run ten years, but last Sunday, two years and two months later, the debt was wiped out.

There was an appropriate program executed. C D. McAdams, chairman of the church board, made a statement of the work of that group; Merl Padgett, architect, also explained the style of building that was fashioned and R. O. Ware, finance committee chairman, told of how the church membership was able to pay off a large indebtedness so long time before it became due.

The pastor, Rev. Watson, delivered an appropriate sermon in which he showed that at best all are deeply indebted for we have been so greatly blessed by the Divine that we must return a proper and complete accounting of the blessings we enjoy.

Handsome Baptist Center Proposed For N. E. State

A long desired project for Northeast State College will be in all probability, brought nearer to fruition Tuesday at 10 a.m. when bids for the proposed Baptist Student Center will be opened.

They will be for the general construction of a building that may cost as much as $45,000 and also heating and airconditioning bids will also be opened at the same time and place.

Baptists all over the state have donated for this building which they regard as highly essential as there are said to be 400 to 500 students of Baptist faith attending college here.

The building, planned by Architect Allen T. Turpin, will face on College avenue at DeSiard street. It will have frontage of 86 feet on College and 40 feet on DeSiard. It will be of modernistic design with brick such as to match in color and design those that were used on nearby college buildings. Roman brick is used to decorate where a special emphasis of this nature is essential.

There is a lounge and a recreation room with well equipped kitchen proposed so that parties can be served meals. There is a room proposed for the office of the director and a council room. One bedroom is provided for the use of the director.

The recreation room and lounge can when needed be thrown into one room. The lounge room has a large fireplace and mantel and of course there are usual facilities provided by modern plumbing.

Bible Words for Today

I PETER 1:3-5 — "We have been born anew to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead...to an inheritance which is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you who by God's power are guarded through faith..." (RSV)

The Apostle is saying here that, in spite of Calvary, Jesus of Nazareth had renewed His person and His message in the life of His friends. We do not know exactly how it happened, but we do know that His resurrection was something glorious and tremendous. And this is still true for all believers. This power of Jesus Christ to renew His spirit in our life from generation to generation is at once an abiding source of perennial hope and the marvel of the ages. How often does He still appear among us on the dusty road, "closer than breathing and nearer than hands and feet." How often does He still walk the lonely ways of our deserted altars to inhabit their dead shrines with new life and hope and bring us back to our lost saints and to the simple faith and the first loves of our childhood. And it is the chief glory of our personal Christian lives that we can rejoice and say, O Son of Man, O Son of God, this day Thou has renewed Thy life even it little me!

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: "I am very worried because my husband is not a Christian and so far I have failed to win him for the Lord. I have tried to argue with him, but I do not seem to have made any impression. Is there anything more I can do?" J. G.

Handsome Baptist Center Proposed For N. E. State

A long desired project for Northeast State College will be in all probability, brought nearer to fruition Tuesday at 10 a.m. when bids for the proposed Baptist Student Center will be opened.

They will be for the general construction of a building that may cost as much as $45,000 and also heating and airconditioning bids will also be opened at the same time and place.

Baptists all over the state have donated for this building which they regard as highly essential as there are said to be 400 to 500 students of Baptist faith attending college here.

The building, planned by Architect Allen T. Turpin, will face on College avenue at DeSiard street. It will have frontage of 86 feet on College and 40 feet on DeSiard. It will be of modernistic design with brick such as to match in color and design those that were used on nearby college buildings. Roman brick is used to decorate where a special emphasis of this nature is essential.

There is a lounge and a recreation room with well equipped kitchen proposed so that parties can be served meals. There is a room proposed for the office of the director and a council room. One bedroom is provided for the use of the director.

The recreation room and lounge can when needed be thrown into one room. The lounge room has a large fireplace and mantel and of course there are usual facilities provided by modern plumbing.

In the rooms, interior walls are of exposed brick. There is a plan for outdoor parties on the lawn when desired during the warm days of summer.

Bible Words for Today

I PETER 1:3-5 — "We have been born anew to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead...to an inheritance which is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you who by God's power are guarded through faith..." (RSV)

The Apostle is saying here that, in spite of Calvary, Jesus of Nazareth had renewed His person and His message in the life of His friends. We do not know exactly how it happened, but we do know that His resurrection was something glorious and tremendous. And this is still true for all believers. This power of Jesus Christ to renew His spirit in our life from generation to generation is at once an abiding source of perennial hope and the marvel of the ages. How often does He still appear among us on the dusty road, "closer than breathing and nearer than hands and feet." How often does He still walk the lonely ways of our deserted altars to inhabit their dead shrines with new life and hope and bring us back to our lost saints and to the simple faith and the first loves of our childhood. And it is the chief glory of our personal Christian lives that we can rejoice and say, O Son of Man, O Son of God, this day Thou has renewed Thy life even it little me!

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: "I am very worried because my husband is not a Christian and so far I have failed to win him for the Lord. I have tried to argue with him, but I do not seem to have made any impression. Is there anything more I can do?" J. G.

ANSWER: Yes, there are two things you can do — and must do —if you really want to win

Avoid Cutting Grass Too Close

When the state Home Demonstration Agents' Association met in Monroe last week, the agents said they had never seen such flower arrangements. Every meeting room, luncheon and banquet table was a veritable flower garden, thanks to Miss Pearl LeFevre, members of the Gardenettes, Welcome Garden Club, and Home Garden Club. Several agents asked if they could come to Monroe for instructions in flower arrangements after seeing the talent displayed in the flowers used at our meetings. Thanks to all of you who did the work, for making our convention a success.

Around the Garden

It's about time for the red spider to start his yearly damage. In fact, I've noticed his signs on violets in my yard. They often attack azaleas and camellias, too. To check this pest, dust frequently with sulphur. (Always when foliage is dry.)

Some of us greatly damage our lawns by mowing the grass too close to the ground. To properly grow, there must always be sufficient leaf surface of the grass to manufacture food for the roots. Set the lawn mower so it will cut the grass 1½ to 2 inches above the surface of the soil.

Now is the time to make azalea and camellia cuttings. Make them from current season's growth, three to six inches long. Remove all leaves except two or three at the tip end. Set in beds or rows, in partial shade or even in fruit jars. Keep well watered but not soaking wet.

Gardenias are easily rooted. Select a twig, now, when the new wood is beginning to toughen. Make the cutting from four to six inches long. Plant in semi-shade. Until it has grown its own roots, the cutting should be kept moist but not soggy, and it likes a humid atmosphere. This you can supply by spraying with a hose or inverting a glass jar over the cutting, thus making the effect of a miniature greenhouse.

The vitexes could be used more frequently in large gardens. I believe you find the large and dwarf varieties in the catalogs, but the former is grown more in Louisiana. It grows very large, eight to ten feet high, comes in white and blue. The nurseries mention pink and yellowish varieties but I've never seen these. They put forth flowers in long spikes made up of a number of individual small flowers.

By pruning, the plant can be kept in bounds. The time to prune is early spring, before growth starts. The blooms appear on new wood. In addition to seeds, the plant is easily propagated from cuttings and will root by layering. The blooms are lovely in flower arrangements, but they shed very quickly. I'm sure some of the garden club women have a solution for that. Serena Lewis solved the hydrangea wilting problem. She says completely immerse the blooms in water over night.

The smoke tree blooms have been a disappointment this year, as have many other blooming plants. In 1951-52-53 they were gorgeous. I promised to call your attention to outstanding blooms of this tree but we'll have to wait til next year. The tamarix (salt cedar) will soon be in bloom and I'll direct you to a yard that has the shrub.

It is not too late to plant hibiscus in buckets. Just cut the bucket and slide the plant down into a well prepared hole. Fill in with good soil and water well. Remember bud drop is caused by lack of food but I told you about that last Sunday.

Keep that compost pile turned and soaked if you want quick rotting.

If you have a clematis that won't grow off as it should, shade the roots. They like their roots shaded and their tops in the sun. A little lime worked in the soil to sweeten it will help, too.

Slick Tricks

If a piece of bread is stuck in your toaster, don't try to take it out with a fork — the tines might damage the toaster. The proper way to remove the piece of bread is to take the card out of the outlet, turn the toaster upside down and shake the bread out.

For years Waldorf salad has been a big family favorite. It always makes a delicious company salad, too. If you'd like to vary it a bit, try using peeled fresh pears, instead of apples. Mix the diced pears with celery, nuts and mayonnaise. Serve on salad greens and sprinkle with a little paprika.

Sew a half slip to the tail of your young daughters blouse if she is having trouble keeping blouse and skirt together.

Those who dislike taking medicine can help the distasteful procedure by holding a piece of ice on the tongue to chill the taste buds, before 'downing" the dose.

When the babies are at the spilling age, it's a good idea to keep absorbent white blotters in the drawer near the dining table. You can "sop" up spills quickly and not stain your dish towels or napkins.

In July I'd like to give an advanced dress making course if there are eight or ten of you who are interested. This will not be a beginners class. Those who enroll can make a linen, broadcloth, voile or dress of other material. We'll sew in the auditorium at the Agricultural Building where there's an attic fan — unless some enrollee can find us an air conditioned place. Call me Monday or Tuesday at 3-2251 if you want to enroll.

You're invited to tune in Tuesday at 1:30 on KNOE-TV for a very instructive show on what you are getting when you buy vegetables. Mr. Woodard and Mr. Taylor from the experiment station at Calhoun will be on with me.

See you next Sunday.

Right Way To Cut Flowers

For those not familiar with garden center hours we would like to publish them again. We are open from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. every day in the week except Monday. The new flower show comes in every Tuesday morning. Our exhibitor this week was the Camellia Garden Club of Monroe. Mrs. A. L. Barnes and Mrs. L. P. Craighead of Delhi judged the exhibits.

In the arrangement section first place was awarded to Mrs. Ola Mae Passman. Using a Chinese brass container on a teakwood stand, Mrs. Passman skillfully combined magnolia foliage and deep wine gladiolus. Second place, Mrs. J. C. Leath for a distinctive and original design using magnolia in the bud and bloom stage combined with salmon floribunda roses and shasta daisies. Third place to Mrs. J. C. Magee, for a symmetrical design with iris foliage in the background and deep lavender dahlias as a focal point.

In the horticulture class, Mrs. J. C. Magee was awarded a blue ribbon for Chinese holly and berries, Mrs. Ola Mae Passman, blue ribbon for salmon galdiolus, and Mrs. J. C. Leath, a red ribbon for peace rose.

The new garden club year books are coming in now and they are most beautiful. The Wisner Garden Club chose a pale pink cover and their club flower, the iris, is hand tinted in blue. The Jonesville Garden Club book has a deep rose cover, with green printing and green - thumb garden gloves hand sketched. A pale yellow cover with a deep yellow rose is the choice of the College Heights Garden Club.

Now is the time to start collecting materials for your dried arrangements. Many ornamental grasses may be found along our roadsides. The method for preserving these grasses is to store flat in a box or stand upright in a fruit jar in a dark closet. We have had many calls on how to condition cut flowers: Here are the general rules: always cut your flowers early in the morning or late in the afternoon. Carry a bucket of water to the garden with you, cut stems on a slant - to allow for maximum absorption of water. Bring the flowers into the house and store in your coolest place, out of the sun and out of drafts for at least two hours before using. The experts say that we should use a knife to make the slanting cut on the stem rather than scissors. In the case of hard-stemmed flowers such as chrysanthemum and stocks, actual splitting of the stem in necessary for an inch or more. One arranger uses this method on hydrangeas with excellent results. The stems of poinsettia, poppies, heliotrope and euphorbia should be singed before plunging them into water. There are two treatments for dahlias: 1, place them in warm water and allow to cool gradually, 2, place them in ice - cold water right up to the base of the bloom. When arranging, be sure to remove all foliage which would be submerged (in order to prevent decay). The stem - splitting method is used for branches of flowering or other shrubs, trees, evergreens, etc. The addition of Bloomlife or Floralife (available at your florist) is a big help. Temperature and humidity play a large part in the keeping qualities of your cut flowers and no matter what precautions are taken, flowers will not keep long in hot, dry rooms.

A well grown specimen of almost any plant is a thrilling sight to a gardener. The other day, your columnist saw a tremendous climbing rose which had been allowed to just climb all over the whole end of a medium sized house. The sight of it was so arresting that it was impossible not to stop and admire this plant. Perhaps you have guessed that it was a Silver Moon, but it was Dr. Van Fleet, that beautiful old pink climber that smells so sweetly of the "tea scent" in roses. This splendid plant will travel amost as far as Silver Moon if allowed to do so. Neither of these long climbing varieties ever really needs any pruning. They will just go from year to year without much attention if you will feed them. In fact, that is just what the great Dr. Van Fleet was trying to create when he originated Alida Lovett, American Pillar, Bess Lovett, Birdie Blye, Breeze Hill, Dr. E. M. Mills, Glenn Dale, Mary Lovett, and Mary Wallace. The famous doctor succeeded amazingly well in his ideal, for the best rose gardens still boast these varieties. He wanted to name his vigorous pink variety Daybreak before Peter Henderson introduced it, but Henderson insisted upon honoring its creator with his very own name. We shall certainly never forget him with such a permanent monument as this rose growing in our gardens over fences and houses! The seedling rose which he gave to Mr. Conard of Conard-Pyle rose company was a single. According to the late Dr. Nicolas, Mr. Conard did not like single roses and called them "wild" roses. He did not wish to introduce the new seedling, but Antoine Wintzner, his head propagator said "It is an American rose; call it American Pillar. It will fight it's battles and win everywhere." Everybody knows this seedling of Dr. Van Fleet's today. At Kew Gardens, the Royal Botanic Gardens near London, one of the most beautiful sights in the whole place has always been the border of the "everblooming" form of Dr. Van Fleet which was named New Dawn.

In planning our gardens, we use plants, to a large extent in masses for color and mass effect. In this, we are following Nature, of course, but Nature also uses specimens, here and there frequently. A lone cedar tree, a handsome dogwood standing out by itself away from the crowded woods, a tall redbud—all these single plants are arresting to the eye. In gardens, specimen plants of some very rare or fine kind can be planted as features right out in the edge of the lawn where they can develop to their fullest. The flowering trees are especially good for this because they are mostly medium or small trees which flower down at the level where the eye can take them in as a part of the color scheme. If you will feed them properly and feed the plants grown near them, small flowering trees are very beautiful growing right out of your flower beds. Dogwoods and the other shallow rooted trees and large shrubs are not very good for this, but redbud, fringe tree, flowering crab-apples and other trees and shrubs with roots that go down will do very well with the perennials and bulbs. The needle bearing evergreens are usually grown as specimens because they do not tolerate shade from other trees. Our native American hemlocks will tolerate even rather deep shade, once you have got them established. They will grow and succeed fairly far South if they can have other trees over them and good air drainage. They do not like boggy places, of course, and they always need to be fed to help them compete with the large trees that are shading them. Southerners do not need to be reminded that camellias are wonderful specimen plants in either the shady or the sunny garden. The problem has always been to know where to use so many specimen camellias.

No matter what your favorite plants are, you can display them in the garden as specimens. Even choice vines besides the climbing roses can be used on posts as specimens. Be sure that your support is a good strong post. The best and longest lived kind, of course, is a black locust post. Before you set it up, drive some of the very largest nails you can find into it to support the vines, or bore holes through the wood and install some iron or wood cross pieces at an upward angle.

As has been announced in the press, the column will come to you from England, France, Belgium, Italy and other countries where your columnist is studying and lecturing throughout the summer months. We hope you will enjoy knowing what goes on in English and European gardens.

If you're on the lookout for the very latest in accessories, then hunt down a belt that wraps around to tie, lets buckle hang over for fun.

In buying your summer clothes, keep your vacation plans in mind. It's wisest to know where you'll be going before buying anything. Some vacation spots demand casual clothes exclusively. Others demand a mixture, and still others expect a girl to have a heavy touch of drama in her wardrobe.

He did not wish to introduce the new seedling, but Antoine Wintzner, his head propagator said "It is an American rose; call it American Pillar. It will fight it's battles and win everywhere." Everybody knows this seedling of Dr. Van Fleet's today. At Kew Gardens, the Royal Botanic Gardens near London, one of the most beautiful sights in the whole place has always been the border of the "everblooming" form of Dr. Van Fleet which was named New Dawn.

In planning our gardens, we use plants, to a large extent in masses for color and mass effect. In this, we are following Nature, of course, but Nature also uses specimens, here and there frequently. A lone cedar tree, a handsome dogwood standing out by itself away from the crowded woods, a tall redbud—all these single plants are arresting to the eye. In gardens, specimen plants of some very rare or fine kind can be planted as features right out in the edge of the lawn where they can develop to their fullest. The flowering trees are especially good for this because they are mostly medium or small trees which flower down at the level where the eye can take them in as a part of the color scheme. If you will feed them properly and feed the plants grown near them, small flowering trees are very beautiful growing right out of your flower beds. Dogwoods and the other shallow rooted trees and large shrubs are not very good for this, but redbud, fringe tree, flowering crab-apples and other trees and shrubs with roots that go down will do very well with the perennials and bulbs. The needle bearing evergreens are usually grown as specimens because they do not tolerate shade from other trees. Our native American hemlocks will tolerate even rather deep shade, once you have got them established. They will grow and succeed fairly far South if they can have other trees over them and good air drainage. They do not like boggy places, of course, and they always need to be fed to help them compete with the large trees that are shading them. Southerners do not need to be reminded that camellias are wonderful specimen plants in either the shady or the sunny garden. The problem has always been to know where to use so many specimen camellias.

No matter what your favorite plants are, you can display them in the garden as specimens. Even choice vines besides the climbing roses can be used on posts as specimens. Be sure that your support is a good strong post. The best and longest lived kind, of course, is a black locust post. Before you set it up, drive some of the very largest nails you can find into it to support the vines, or bore holes through the wood and install some iron or wood cross pieces at an upward angle.

As has been announced in the press, the column will come to you from England, France, Belgium, Italy and other countries where your columnist is studying and lecturing throughout the summer months. We hope you will enjoy knowing what goes on in English and European gardens.

If you're on the lookout for the very latest in accessories, then hunt down a belt that wraps around to tie, lets buckle hang over for fun.

In buying your summer clothes, keep your vacation plans in mind. It's wisest to know where you'll be going before buying anything. Some vacation spots demand casual clothes exclusively. Others demand a mixture, and still others expect a girl to have a heavy touch of drama in her wardrobe.

Agriculture, Business In W. Carroll On Sound Basis

By MAUDE VAN FOSSEN

History records that the Choctaw and Natchez Indians were the first authentically identified inhabitants of West Carroll Parish, although it is believed that a group of unidentified people lived in the area earlier.

But we do know that the land we now know as northeast Louisiana, of which West Carroll Parish is a part, goes back to a period long before the coming of the white man into the Mississippi River wilderness. This period was enfolded in mystery and legend with only occasional rents in the curtain and tales from generation to generation to give partial glimpses and history of the aboriginal scene and happenings.

This entire northeast area of Louisiana was known as Ouachita, a name derived from the Ouachita tribe of Indians, who left as a memorial of their inhabitation, remnants of numerous mounds, erected in a forgotton past as buried places of populous villages by peoples who have long since been swept from the face pf the earth. Along Bayou Macon are some of the largest mounds in the region.

The real history of the parish begins with the attempts to settle the Ouachita country by the white man. The first attempt was fostered by the Baron de Bastrop, a Spanish Nobleman of Dutch descent. His activities in West Carroll history were extensive and attracted the interest of a number of noteworthy figures. Such men as Edward Lumpton (who influenced Tohmas Jefferson to make the Louisiana Purchase), General John Adair, Judge Charles Lynch, Aaron Burr and Stephen Girard (the Philadelphia philanthropist) became interested in the "Washita" country. The dream of de Bastrop was to make this section a great wheat producing area, but before he accomplished his purpose he became interested in Indian trade. He finally sold his interest in this section to Andrew Morehouse, who was more instrumental in settling this region than Bastrop.

Early History

West Carroll Parish once included a portion of what was once Concordia and Ouachita parishes. In 1832 the area became a political subdivision and was named Carroll, for Charles Carroll of Carrollton, philanthropist, statesman and signer of the Declaration of Independence. His connection with the area was through Honore Morancy, the state senator who proposed the formation of Carroll parish. Act No. 24, extra session of the legislature of Louisiana, 1877, divided Carroll parish into West Carroll and East Carroll parishes. Floyd, former county seat of Carroll parish, was to remain the parish seat of West Carroll.

Floyd today is little more than a ghost town, with an old pail and the gallows tree the only remnant of a once prosperous and colorful community which once thrived there and which furnished interesting lore of the Civil War days. The escapades of the James Brothers and Quantrelle's guerillas, furnishes the most oft repeated tales of any section of the parish. It was in 1855 that the citizens voted to move the parish seat from Providence (now Lake Providence) to Floyd. Two and one-half acres were given by George C. Wilson and Silvanus Floyd for the courthouse square and Andrew W. Doles contracted to erect a jail for $3,100. The jail was completed in 1857 and the people of Carroll parish prospered as planters and merchants.

To suffer with the entire south this parish found its prosperity threatened by the Civil War in a four year period. Most of the able bodied men were called into the Confederate army, and those who stayed behind formed the Home Guard. An interesting story is told of word received in Floyd that the seige of Vicksburg was at its height —"Vicksburg has fallen," "The Yankees are planning to take Floyd."

This last piece of startling news was brought in by an exhausted soldier who walked slowly through the town asking for the leader of the Home Guard. When the leader was fully informed of the proposed plot he turned to his followers and said, "Get word to the others, we need every man we can find who has a gun, and get General Quantrelle's men." In a few hours these men had assembled, bringing whatever arms they could scrape together. The leader, then addressing his assembly of soldiers said, "We want the Yankees to think we have twice as many men as we have—that we are twice as strong as we are," and he appointed men to see that the federal officers received word of the large force protecting Floyd.

The Federals

The town was never attacked. The Federals had evidently been fooled. The small group who ventured beyond the Federal camp at Providence (headquartered in the Arlington house) were driven back by the Floyd Home Guards.

The town had been saved by the quick thinking of the leader of the Guards, who is known today as one of the most notorious outlaws of the south—Jesse James. During the period following the Civil War, the celebrated outlaw and his brother Frank James and the Younger brothers, found refuge in and around Floyd. Jesse James purchased a home there, and numerous stories told by residents of those years and repeated by their descendants, is proof that they made the fastness of the Carrolls a hiding place between their more colorful adventures in the mid-western states. There is no parish record of these desperadoes committing any of the lurid escapades locally, for which they were so notorious in other sections of the country. They did help themselves to food from isolated commissaries, practices which natives of the region were helpless to prevent, but there is no evidence that they committed anything more serious than a few raids.

SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY — The West Carroll National Bank, above, located on the main street of Oak Grove, serves the community as an established banking house.

Location

West Carroll Parish, situated in the northeastern part of the state, is bounded on the north by the state of Arkansas; on the east by East Carroll Parish; on the south by Richland Parish; and on the west by Morehouse Parish. The most important water courses are Bayou Macon on the eastern border and Boeuf River on the western border while many small streams water the other portions.

The formation is chiefly bluff, with some wooded swamps and alluvial land along the two rivers. The soil is varied in character, light on the hills and uplands and extremely rich and fertile in the alluvial land along the two rivers. were originally heavily timered (earliest settling reporting about 90 per cent in virgin timber in the early days.) There were oak of different varities in enormous quantities, pine, beach, ash and cottonwood, while the swamp was covered with cypress. Much of the valuable timber has been cut, as lumbering has been quite an important industry, but a quantity still remains.

The parish total acreage is given as 226,332, exclusive of streams and roads. The principle towns or municipalities are Oak Grove, present parish seat, which was originally located one - half mile from the present site and called "Pin Hook", Kilbourne, located at the Arkansas line; Pinegrove, Concord, Chickasas, Janesville, Terry, Nicholson, Beulah, Corey, Roundhill, Green, Briggs, Red Wing, Goodwill, Forest, Kein Farms, Pioneer, Bayou Macon, Camphell, Bearskin, Unity, Darnell, Floyd, Little Creek, Walnut Grove and Epps.

Te earliest settlers were mostly from the older states, many of them coming from the Carolinas and Georgia, some from Tennessee, but mostly from Mississippi. Names of those earliest settlers include Captain Andrew Jackson Wyly, David F. Castleman, Andrew Jackson, Hiran A. Lott, Jubar Morgan, Archie White, Thomas H. Foote, John Miller, Pulleys, Hedricks, Mitchiners, Dollarhides, Millikins, Corleys, McIntosh, Turners, Chambless, Vinings, and J. F. Moores.

Education

The educational system in West Carroll Parish is geared today to the needs of the students and is a progressive program that meets with approval of all. The interesting story of the growth of education in the parish is told by Troy Lavelle Hammet in a thesis for the degree of Master of Arts in The Louisiana Department of Education.

From vague and incomplete records, we learn that in 1833 a general school act was passed by the Louisiana legislature by which the Secretary of State was made the State Superintendent of Public Education. Ten years after this act, in 1843, the State Superintendent of Public Education made a report to the General Assembly of Louisiana relative to education in the parishes in the state. In this report the superintendent revealed that the schools of Carroll Parish gave instruction to 127 students and that the parish board received $800 from the state treasurer.

Following the general school act of 1833, a new constitution was adopted in 1845, which gave Louisiana a functioning public school system. The legislative Act of 1847 provided the following: the state superintendent of education to be employed on a full time basis, the parish superintendent to be elected and to receive $200 annually, the state school fund to be distributed on basis of educatables from six to 18 years of age, the school tax to be fixed at one mill on the state property assestment, the poll taxes and proceeds of sales of school land by the Federal Government to go into the school fund, and the parishes to be divided into school districts. In 1850 through the taxing power granted by the Act of 1847, Carroll Parish raised $6,202.30 from the one mill tax and $798 from the poll tax for public schools.

The Civil War not only wrecked the economic structure of the South, but also impeded educational development. Upon examination of the State Superintendent's reports to the General Assembly of Louisiana for the years 1860-1865, it was found that no report was made from Carroll Parish on the public schools. The cause probably was due to the unsettled conditions during the Civil War. In fact, the educational system in the state of Louisiana had almost been destroyed by the ravages of war. In order to reorganize an educational program, the Legislature of 1870 passed a law opening public schools to all children between the ages of six and 21 regardless of race, color or creed.

Schools in the different communities had interesting beginnings. At Oak Grove a school was established in 1870. This log school had been previously used to hold services for the Methodist Church. Sides of the building consisted of logs held together with wooden pegs and the cracks were sealed with planks. The parents split logs to be used as benches. Boards one inch by two inches, which hung on the wall, served as blackboards for teachers and pupils. In order to erase the blackboards when they were full of writings the children spat upon them.

The first public school established in Forest was in 1865. The structure was made of logs, had a dirt floor, and shutters were used for windows. The three R's and spelling were taught. A red mustached, redheaded Irishman, named John Brown, was the first teacher.

At these early schools a bucket was placed in front of the room for drinking water, which was drunk from a tin cup, half a gourd or coconut shell. Pupils furnished their own means of transportation. Horses, mules, and surreys were used and one student is reported to have ridden a black steer, which he said had the pace of a horse. The system of grading was called headmarks. Credits were given for each week's standing at the head of the class, which was attained through competition. Among those early teachers were Mrs. Louisa Frances Pulley, Mrs. Eva Cheatham, Mr. Munholland, Willy Crowe, Marvin Waller, and Miss Lucy Land.

Press And Banks

In a review of the history of West Carroll Parish it is of interest to take a brief note of the development of the press and banks. The first newspaper was established at Floyd in about 1878. This paper was called the "Messenger," later changing its name to the "Floyd News", "Pioneer Enterprise," and finally to "The West Carroll Gazette," by which it is known today, and is owned and published by the Lipps, a group of brothers graduated in journalism. The AP carried an article that "The West Carroll Gazette" of Oak Grove, Louisiana, was studied at the University of California, as the perfect American weekly.

The Bank of Oak Grove a state bank, was issued a charter the same year, 1917, that the town was incorporated. It total assets (of 1950) were listed at $1,593,366.07.

The West Carroll National Bank, located in Oak Grove, is a member of the national system and had a 1950 total assets of $989,-000.00.

Agriculture

In those early days the farmers principal corps were corn, cotton, peas, oats and garden vegetables. The population had depleted during and after the Civil War for several large farm owners had left the parish during that time taking with them their families and numerous slaves. They fled to Texas and never returned, and their lands were sold to the state for taxes.

Principal crops today are cotton, corn, sweet potatoes, hay, oats and soybeans. There has been and will continue to be a rapid expansion in raising of livestock, in both beef and dairy cattle. This is due to several factors, namely, the reduction in cotton acreage, the price of livestock and livestock products and the advanced scientific practices and educational theories that have been applied to pasture land.

There has been an increase in corn production due to the proper fertilization and cultivation methods which have been practiced in connection with that particular crop.

Soybeans are another important crop in the parish and the financial returns being realized from this crop indicate that it will replace a good part of the acreage being taken out of cotton production.

The shift from cotton towards livestock, pasture and grain is believed to a permanent change in the economic production of the parish. The majority of the farmers are aware that cattle, pasture, and grains are as good a method of earning a livelihood as cotton and in many instances, much better.

The older farms established along the Macon Front offer better living conditions for their workers than do the newly settled farms along Boeuf river. The Macon Front farms have been established for many years and the owners or farmers were among the early settlers of the area. The farms along Boeuf river are comparatively new and the living conditions are still in the process of being raised to standard.

Of the crops that are required for soil maintenace and soil building, the parish soybeans, singletary peas, vetch, bur clover and Austrian winter peas. In the summer, soybeans are interplanted with corn. The winter legumes are the singletary peas, vetch, bur clover, and Austrian winter peas.

Practically all of the cropland in the parish is fameo on the contour. It is estimated that 300 miles of terraces are needed in West Carroll and about 57 miles of standard have been constructed.

The grazing practices include hogging off of corn and soybeans, to which about 500 acres are devoted; grazing Sudan grass, for which some 100 acres are being used temporarily; grazing oats, for which 5,000 acres are used; and grazing winter legumes, which includes 10,000 acres.

There is approximately one worker for every 20 farm acres and one worker for every 15 crop acres under cultivation. The living conditions of these workers is varied, but all of them are constantly improving.

Parish Agricultural Agencies include the following: Agricultural Extension Service; Farmers Home Administration; Production Marketing Association; Soil Conservation Service; Veterans Administration Training Program; Vocational Agricultural Teachers and the Artificial Breeding Association.

Agricultural education and expansion begins with the youth in 4-H club work, corn clubs, Pig clubs, tomato clubs, and poultry clubs. This phase of education has been introduced into the school system. With the agricultural phase was introduced Home Economics classes, and in 1919 these clubs had a total membership of 163, which was the beginning of the splendid youth club work being done today.

Religion

From 1877 to 1900 some eight churches existed in the parish. Although the majority of the citizenry was law abiding and religious, there was an element of the lawlessness in some of it and, consequently side by side with the religious activities of the churches, there appeared several shootings, robberies, and lynching. Although the Quantrells, Youngers, and James brothers inhabited the parish in the interim between their spectacular raids, there were among those early day settlers God fearing men and women, whose faith was in the words of the Bible, and who banded in groups to worship their Maker according to the dictates of their own hearts.

Today there are some 45 churches of various denominations located in West Carroll parish. These churches are situated in order to provide religious training and worship to everyone in the parish.

Once a year an old fashioned community sing is held at Green Community. Well known quartets are invited for the day and night services. A basket dinner is prepared and a picnic held in a grove of magnificent oaks. This particular occasion is a popular one in that community.

Trading Centers

On Highway 16, running north from the parish seat of Oak Grove, are three trading centers, Terry, Chicasaw, and Kilbourne. At Terry, there are three general stores and one cotton gin. Two general stores are located in Chicasaw and there is a small sawmill and one general store in the Janesville community, west of the highway. Kilbourne is an unincorporated (1950) town, near the northern line of the parish. The residential section occupies approximately 30 acres and residential lots are valued at $100 and above. The business district extends for half a mile along Highway 16, where the average value of business lots is about $500. There are two cotton gins in Kilbourne, and it is one of the sweet potato storage and shipping points. In the 1949-50 census there were 589 children in the elementary grades of the public school and 107 in the high school department.

Between Oak Grove and Goodwill, on Highway 11, there are three stores with gas stations. In Goodwill are located three general merchandising stores, one feed and seed store, one restaurant, and one gin; 11 residences and three churches.

Three small, unincorporated towns, Forest, Pioneer and Darnell are located on Highway 16, south of Oak Grove. The business section of Forest consists of four general stores, one cafe, three filling stations, an auto repair shop, two cotton gins, one sweet potato storage and sales warehouse, and one inactive stave mill.

The Pioneer Cooperage Company brought many families into the Pioneer community in the early 1900's. Pioneer has three general stores, two combined grocery stores and filling stations, one cafe and grocery for Negroes, one building supply sales warehouse and two gins. Pride of this community are three fold, a handsome two story brick school and gym-auditorium, two story brick junior Oscar Huey, guide and director of high school, and the home of the parish educational system for 20 years.

In 1905 Pink Fallin called together a group of citizens to discuss the possibilities of establishing a school. Out of this meeting came the decision to start the first elementary school in the district, and the ultimate erection of the two commodious plants used today.

Darnell extends for approximately one quarter mile along Highway 16 with most of the buildings on the north side of the highway. The section includes one gas station and car repair shop, one barber shop, two general stores, two combined gas stations and grocery stores, one garage for repairs only, one grocery store, one cafe and one building in which is located the post office and novelty shop. One cotton gin constitutes the entire industry of Darnell.

West Carroll is in the Monroe trade area. According to estimates by "Sales Management," magazine for 1950, retail sales in West Carroll amounted to $6,542,000, with automobiles at $1,779,000 leading the list; general merchandise at $1,485,000, and food third at $1,-061,000.

Oak Grove, the parish seat, is the principal trading center. It is located on the intersection of Highway 11 running east and west and Highway 16 running north and south. It is the main stop on the railway line running north and south through the parish. Most of the farming and timber products in the parish are brought into Oak Grove to be shipped out to many points.

West Carroll is predominately agriculture and business occurs on a sound basis. The best business periods are in the fall during the cotton and sweet potato harvest, the preChristmas season and when farm planting operations begin.

With all of its industry confined to the soil for its existence we turn to the growing, ginning, and storing of cotton.

Some 17 gins located throughout the parish serve the 4,000 farms. While at present the total bales annually ginned does not exceed 25,-000 bales, the present facilities provided by the entire group of ginners could handle any size cotton crop grown.

To facilitate the handling, compressing and storage of the baled cotton crop, a cotton compress and warehouse has been located in Oak Grove.

During World War II the demand for the sweet potato brought to West Carroll six large potato warehouses plus innumerable smaller potato kilns or storage houses.

The Bayou Meadows Feed Mills located south of Oak Grove and east of Darnell is on a 3,000 acre plantation. This is a large operation of its kind.

There are approximately 12 sawmills in the parish with an annual production of approximately one million feet. These mills are small and confined to the cutting of pine and hardwood.

Recreation

There are white perch, bass, bream, striped bass and catfish in local streams.

An extremely popular sport is "Jug Fishing," and the annual gar rodeo which attracts many visitors to the parish and provides a wide selection of fishing sports.

The West Carroll Parish Fair is an annual event held from Oct. 16-21 on the Oak Grove fairgrounds. Exhibits of all parish products are attractively displayed. A carnival is held in conjunction with the fair.

The Junior League baseball team was organized by the American Legion. This team is organized so that boys of the parish might receive training in baseball.

The West Carroll Parish High School band, composed of students of the Oak Grove High School, has been organized and is making an important contribution to the recreational and cultural welfare and programs of the town. The Mothers Club and Lion Club made the organization of the band possible. The Lions Club is also sponsor of a Boy Scout troop, and its accompanying Cub pack.

The Oak Grove Masonic Lodge is very active in fraternal activities, and sponsors many dances, parties, picnics and other gatherings for its membership.

Pioneer Lodge No. 340, located at Pioneer, has a large membership and most of the recreational activities of that community are led by this group.

The city park at Epps was organized and equipped under the direction of a group of civic minded citizens of the town. The park has playground equipment and qualified instructors.

Oak Grove's city park is equipped with lights, barbecue pits, and tables. Children are invited to make full use of the modern playground equipment that is placed in the park. The American Legion of Oak Grove, with its attractive, rustic hut opened to the public, is interested in the recreational program of the parish and is extremely active in its participation in and contribution to the activities.

The town had been saved by the quick thinking of the leader of the Guards, who is known today as one of the most notorious outlaws of the south—Jesse James. During the period following the Civil War, the celebrated outlaw and his brother Frank James and the Younger brothers, found refuge in and around Floyd. Jesse James purchased a home there, and numerous stories told by residents of those years and repeated by their descendants, is proof that they made the fastness of the Carrolls a hiding place between their more colorful adventures in the mid-western states. There is no parish record of these desperadoes committing any of the lurid escapades locally, for which they were so notorious in other sections of the country. They did help themselves to food from isolated commissaries, practices which natives of the region were helpless to prevent, but there is no evidence that they committed anything more serious than a few raids.

SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY — The West Carroll National Bank, above, located on the main street of Oak Grove, serves the community as an established banking house.

Location

West Carroll Parish, situated in the northeastern part of the state, is bounded on the north by the state of Arkansas; on the east by East Carroll Parish; on the south by Richland Parish; and on the west by Morehouse Parish. The most important water courses are Bayou Macon on the eastern border and Boeuf River on the western border while many small streams water the other portions.

The formation is chiefly bluff, with some wooded swamps and alluvial land along the two rivers. The soil is varied in character, light on the hills and uplands and extremely rich and fertile in the alluvial land along the two rivers. were originally heavily timered (earliest settling reporting about 90 per cent in virgin timber in the early days.) There were oak of different varities in enormous quantities, pine, beach, ash and cottonwood, while the swamp was covered with cypress. Much of the valuable timber has been cut, as lumbering has been quite an important industry, but a quantity still remains.

The parish total acreage is given as 226,332, exclusive of streams and roads. The principle towns or municipalities are Oak Grove, present parish seat, which was originally located one - half mile from the present site and called "Pin Hook", Kilbourne, located at the Arkansas line; Pinegrove, Concord, Chickasas, Janesville, Terry, Nicholson, Beulah, Corey, Roundhill, Green, Briggs, Red Wing, Goodwill, Forest, Kein Farms, Pioneer, Bayou Macon, Campbell, Bearskin, Unity, Darnell, Floyd, Little Creek, Walnut Grove and Epps.

Te earliest settlers were mostly from the older states, many of them coming from the Carolinas and Georgia, some from Tennessee, but mostly from Mississippi. Names of those earliest settlers include Captain Andrew Jackson Wyly, David F. Castleman, Andrew Jackson, Hiran A. Lott, Jubar Morgan, Archie White, Thomas H. Foote, John Miller, Pulleys, Hedricks, Mitchiners, Dollarhides, Millikins, Corleys, McIntosh, Turners, Chambless, Vinings, and J. F. Moores.

Education

The educational system in West Carroll Parish is geared today to the needs of the students and is a progressive program that meets with approval of all. The interesting story of the growth of education in the parish is told by Troy Lavelle Hammet in a thesis for the degree of Master of Arts in The Louisiana Department of Education.

From vague and incomplete records, we learn that in 1833 a general school act was passed by the Louisiana legislature by which the Secretary of State was made the State Superintendent of Public Education. Ten years after this act, in 1843, the State Superintendent of Public Education made a report to the General Assembly of Louisiana relative to education in the parishes in the state. In this report the superintendent revealed that the schools of Carroll Parish gave instruction to 127 students and that the parish board received $800 from the state treasurer.

Following the general school act of 1833, a new constitution was adopted in 1845, which gave Louisiana a functioning public school system. The legislative Act of 1847 provided the following: the state superintendent of education to be employed on a full time basis, the parish superintendent to be elected and to receive $300 annually, the state school fund to be distributed on basis of educatables from six to 18 years of age, the school tax to be fixed at one mill on the state property assestment, the poll taxes and proceeds of sales of school land by the Federal Government to go into the school fund, and the parishes to be divided into school districts. In 1850 through the taxing power granted by the Act of 1847, Carroll Parish raised $6,202.30 from the one mill tax and $798 from the poll tax for public schools.

The Civil War not only wrecked the economic structure of the South, but also impeded educational development. Upon examination of the State Superintendent's reports to the General Assembly of Louisiana for the years 1860-1865, it was found that no report was made from Carroll Parish on the public schools. The cause probably was due to the unsettled conditions during the Civil War. In fact, the educational system in the state of Louisiana had almost been destroyed by the ravages of war. In order to reorganize an educational program, the Legislature of 1870 passed a law opening public schools to all children between the ages of six and 21 regardless of race, color or creed.

Schools in the different communities had interesting beginnings. At Oak Grove a school was established in 1870. This log school had been previously used to hold services for the Methodist Church. Sides of the building consisted of logs held together with wooden pegs and the cracks were sealed with planks. The parents split logs to be used as benches. Boards one inch by two inches, which hung on the wall, served as blackboards for teachers and pupils. In order to erase the blackboards when they were full of writings the children spat upon them.

The first public school established in Forest was in 1865. The structure was made of logs, had a dirt floor, and shutters were used for windows. The three R's and spelling were taught. A red mustached, redheaded Irishman, named John Brown, was the first teacher.

At these early schools a bucket was placed in front of the room for drinking water, which was drunk from a tin cup, half a gourd or coconut shell. Pupils furnished their own means of transportation. Horses, mules, and surreys were used and one student is reported to have ridden a black steer, which he said had the pace of a horse. The system of grading was called headmarks. Credits were given for each week's standing at the head of the class, which was attained through competition. Among those early teachers were Mrs. Louisa Frances Pulley, Mrs. Eva Cheatham, Mr. Munholland, Willy Crowe, Marvin Waller, and Miss Lucy Land.

Press And Banks

In a review of the history of West Carroll Parish it is of interest to take a brief note of the development of the press and banks. The first newspaper was established at Floyd in about 1878. This paper was called the "Messenger," later changing its name to the "Floyd News", "Pioneer Enterprise," and finally to "The West Carroll Gazette," by which it is known today, and is owned and published by the Lipps, a group of brothers graduated in journalism. The AP carried an article that "The West Carroll Gazette" of Oak Grove, Louisiana, was studied at the University of California, as the perfect American weekly.

The Bank of Oak Grove a state bank, was issued a charter the same year, 1917, that the town was incorporated. It total assets (of 1950) were listed at $1,593,366.07.

The West Carroll National Bank, located in Oak Grove, is a member of the national system and had a 1950 total assets of $989,000.00.

Agriculture

In those early days the farmers principal corps were corn, cotton, peas, oats and garden vegetables. The population had depleted during and after the Civil War for several large farm owners had left the parish during that time taking with them their families and numerous slaves. They fled to Texas and never returned, and their lands were sold to the state for taxes.

Principal crops today are cotton, corn, sweet potatoes, hay, oats and soybeans. There has been and will continue to be a rapid expansion in raising of livestock, in both beef and dairy cattle. This is due to several factors, namely, the reduction in cotton acreage, the price of livestock and livestock products and the advanced scientific practices and educational theories that have been applied to pasture land.

There has been an increase in corn production due to the proper fertilization and cultivation methods which have been practiced in connection with that particular crop.

Soybeans are another important crop in the parish and the financial returns being realized from this crop indicate that it will replace a good part of the acreage being taken out of cotton production.

The shift from cotton towards livestock, pasture and grain is believed to a permanent change in the economic production of the parish.

The majority of the farmers are aware that cattle, pasture, and grains are as good a method of earning a livelihood as cotton and in many instances, much better.

The older farms established along the Macon Front offer better living conditions for their workers than do the newly settled farms along Boeuf river. The Macon Front farms have been established for many years and the owners or farmers were among the early settlers of the area. The farms along Boeuf river are comparatively new and the living conditions are still in the process of being raised to standard.

Of the crops that are required for soil maintenace and soil building, the parish soybeans, singletary peas, vetch, bur clover and Austrian winter peas. In the summer, soybeans are interplanted with corn. The winter legumes are the singletary peas, vetch, bur clover, and Austrian winter peas.

Practically all of the cropland in the parish is fameo on the contour. It is estimated that 300 miles of terraces are needed in West Carroll and about 57 miles of standard have been constructed.

The grazing practices include hogging off of corn and soybeans, to which about 500 acres are devoted; grazing Sudan grass, for which some 100 acres are being used temporarily; grazing oats, for which 5,000 acres are used; and grazing winter legumes, which includes 10,000 acres.

There is approximately one worker for every 20 farm acres and one worker for every 15 crop acres under cultivation. The living conditions of these workers is varied, but all of them are constantly improving.

Parish Agricultural Agencies include the following: Agricultural Extension Service; Farmers Home Administration; Production Marketing Association; Soil Conservation Service; Veterans Administration Training Program; Vocational Agricultural Teachers and the Artificial Breeding Association.

Agricultural education and expansion begins with the youth in 4-H club work, corn clubs, Pig clubs, tomato clubs, and poultry clubs. This phase of education has been introduced into the school system. With the agricultural phase was introduced Home Economics classes, and in 1919 these clubs had a total membership of 163, which was the beginning of the splendid youth club work being done today.

Religion

From 1877 to 1900 some eight churches existed in the parish. Although the majority of the citizenry was law abiding and religious, there was an element of the lawlessness in some of it and, consequently side by side with the religious activities of the churches, there appeared several shootings, robberies, and lynching. Although the Quantrells, Youngers, and James brothers inhabited the parish in the interim between their spectacular raids, there were among those early day settlers God fearing men and women, whose faith was in the words of the Bible, and who banded in groups to worship their Maker according to the dictates of their own hearts.

Today there are some 45 churches of various denominations located in West Carroll parish. These churches are situated in order to provide religious training and worship to everyone in the parish.

Once a year an old fashioned community sing is held at Green Community. Well known quartets are invited for the day and night services. A basket dinner is prepared and a picnic held in a grove of magnificent oaks. This particular occasion is a popular one in that community.

Trading Centers

On Highway 16, running north from the parish seat of Oak Grove, are three trading centers, Terry, Chicasaw, and Kilbourne. At Terry, there are three general stores and one cotton gin. Two general stores are located in Chicasaw and there is a small sawmill and one general store in the Janesville community, west of the highway. Kilbourne is an unincorporated (1950) town, near the northern line of the parish. The residential section occupies approximately 30 acres and residential lots are valued at $100 and above. The business district extends for half a mile along Highway 16, where the average value of business lots is about $500. There are two cotton gins in Kilbourne, and it is one of the sweet potato storage and shipping points. In the 1949-50 census there were 589 children in the elementary grades of the public school and 107 in the high school department.

Between Oak Grove and Goodwill, on Highway 11, there are three stores with gas stations. In Goodwill are located three general merchandising stores, one feed and seed store, one restaurant, and one gin; 11 residences and three churches.

Three small, unincorporated towns, Forest, Pioneer and Darnell are located on Highway 16, south of Oak Grove. The business section of Forest consists of four general stores, one cafe, three filling stations, an auto repair shop, two cotton gins, one sweet potato storage and sales warehouse, and one inactive stave mill.

The Pioneer Cooperage Company brought many families into the Pioneer community in the early 1900's. Pioneer has three general stores, two combined grocery stores and filling stations, one cafe and grocery for Negroes, one building supply sales warehouse and two gins. Pride of this community are three fold, a handsome two story brick school and gym-auditorium, two story brick junior Oscar Huey, guide and director of high school, and the home of the parish educational system for 20 years.

In 1905 Pink Fallin called together a group of citizens to discuss the possibilities of establishing a school. Out of this meeting came the decision to start the first elementary school in the district, and the ultimate erection of the two commodious plants used today.

Darnell extends for approximately one quarter mile along Highway 16 with most of the buildings on the north side of the highway. The section includes one gas station and car repair shop, one barber shop, two general stores, two combined gas stations and grocery stores, one garage for repairs only, one grocery store, one cafe and one building in which is located the post office and novelty shop. One cotton gin constitutes the entire industry of Darnell.

West Carroll is in the Monroe trade area. According to estimates by "Sales Management," magazine for 1950, retail sales in West Carroll amounted to $6,542,000, with automobiles at $1,779,000 leading the list; general merchandise at $1,485,000, and food third at $1,061,000.

Oak Grove, the parish seat, is the principal trading center. It is located on the intersection of Highway 11 running east and west and Highway 16 running north and south. It is the main stop on the railway line running north and south through the parish. Most of the farming and timber products in the parish are brought into Oak Grove to be shipped out to many points.

Bulk of the purchasing power is in the hands of the farmers. Gross farm income for 1951 exceeded $7,500,000.

West Carroll is predominately agriculture and business occurs on a sound basis. The best business periods are in the fall during the cotton and sweet potato harvest, the preChristmas season and when farm planting operations begin.

With all of its industry confined to the soil for its existence we turn to the growing, ginning, and storing of cotton.

Some 17 gins located throughout the parish serve the 4,000 farms. While at present the total bales annually ginned does not exceed 25,000 bales, the present facilities provided by the entire group of ginners could handle any size cotton crop grown.

To facilitate the handling, compressing and storage of the baled cotton crop, a cotton compress and warehouse has been located in Oak Grove.

During World War II the demand for the sweet potato brought to West Carroll six large potato warehouses plus innumerable smaller potato kilns or storage houses.

The Bayou Meadows Feed Mills located south of Oak Grove and east of Darnell is on a 3,000 acre plantation. This is a large operation of its kind.

There are approximately 12 sawmills in the parish with an annual production of approximately one million feet. These mills are small and confined to the cutting of pine and hardwood.

Recreation

Streams and lakes of West Carroll offer good fishing the year round, as well as scenic location for picnics, barbecue, and all outdoor activities.

There are white perch, bass, bream, striped bass and catfish in local streams.

An extremely popular sport is "Jug Fishing," and the annual gar rodeo which attracts many visitors to the parish and provides a wide selection of fishing sports.

The West Carroll Parish Fair is an annual event held from Oct. 16-21 on the Oak Grove fairgrounds. Exhibits of all parish products are attractively displayed. A carnival is held in conjunction with the fair.

The Junior League baseball team was organized by the American Legion. This team is organized so that boys of the parish might receive training in baseball.

The West Carroll Parish High School band, composed of students of the Oak Grove High School, has been organized and is making an important contribution to the recreational and cultural welfare and programs of the town. The Mothers Club and Lion Club made the organization of the band possible. The Lions Club is also sponsor of a Boy Scout troop, and its accompanying Cub pack.

The Oak Grove Masonic Lodge is very active in fraternal activities, and sponsors many dances, parties, picnics and other gatherings for its membership.

Pioneer Lodge No. 340, located at Pioneer, has a large membership and most of the recreational activities of that community are led by this group.

The city park at Epps was organized and equipped under the direction of a group of civic minded citizens of the town. The park has playground equipment and qualified instructors.

Oak Grove's city park is equipped with lights, barbecue pits, and tables. Children are invited to make full use of the modern playground equipment that is placed in the park. The American Legion of Oak Grove, with its attractive, rustic hut opened to the public, is interested in the recreational program of the parish and is extremely active in its participation in and contribution to the activities.

—WHERE LIVING IS BETTER!

West Carroll Parish . . . so typical of the American way of life . . . counts its blessing through a diversified agricultural and livestock program which eliminates forever depressions caused by failure of the "one-crop" system practiced for so many years. Cotton, corn, oats, peas, and truck farming account for agricultural income . . . widely spreading programs of hog, beef and dairy cattle add a continual income . . . lush cover crops protect the land, build its productiveness and provides rich pastures. An adequate school system, churches of all faiths and recreational facilities along streams, lakes and fine parks round out the "better living" of those fortunate enough to count West Carroll Parish their home.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Psychologist Henry Foster Adams had many groups of people judge both themselves and others of their group on 63 traits—50,000 other judgments and 10,000 self-judgments. The good self-judges were rated higher on common sense, intelligence and most of the other 63 traits than the judges of others. "Know thyself" as Socrates advised, is the hardest problem in life.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. True. In one experiment, it was found that memorizing short parts—a paragraph or two at a time—was three times as effective as memorizing the whole, for the same number of hours. Concentrate intensely for about fifteen minutes, rest a few minutes, and then continue. Our booket, "How To Improve Your Memory" gives other efficient methods. Send 15c in coin with stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. Dr. Freda Kehm, Director Chicago Association for Family Living says, "Hostility is a basic emotion and the best place to express it is in the home. If a child calls its mother a stinker and hates her, she should not be upset. This doesn't mean children should run their parents or the home, but their inner emotions and drives should be understood and rightly directed."

This summer's brides can make their own dangly earrings of chalky white ball buttons. Just buy a loop earring base and glue white buttons or jet buttons (or both) to them.

The bride who wants to make a headband of wide velvet or grosgrain ribbon can do it by sewing on buttons in a zigzag pattern for trim.

Brides Look Lovely; Love Does The Trick

June is a lovely month! Usually the weather is not too hot, or if it is, we are not yet beaten down by weeks of it. Everything is in full bloom. Young birds are hopping about. The sun usually shines. After winter months we feel the full impact of life.

I suppose the charm of this month is one reason why so many brides are June brides. It is wonderful that all brides are pretty. I am sure that one reason for this is the fact that the bride takes so very much thought with her hair arrangement, her makeup and her costume for this most special occasion.

However, I think there is a deeper and even truer cause. Happiness lights a woman up, like candle lights a dark lantern and brings out its colors with beauty and charm and glow. No jewels could be so flattering to a woman as the knowledge that she is loved by the man she loves. Love can actually make homely women beautiful!

Health, Too

Health gives the personality glow just as love does and no dowry of money could possibly be so important or valuable to give to marriage as fine health and energy.

Our health affects our approach to life. It oils our glands happily. It makes us feel on top of the world! It makes it easy for us to be gracious and forgivng and gay and objective. It makes us easy to live with. What could be more important in marriage?

While many folks who have poor health gallantly meet these requirements, it is not easy to do so. And in any marriage there are strains and readjustments. Vital health will help. Young people who marry today are subjected to some stresses which their grandparents did not have.

A Great Help

The uncertainty of world situations, the fact that many young grooms will have to spend time in the armed services, high taxes and the high cost of living all make this a rather trying time for young married couples. Nothing will so pad the jolts as fine health. Emotional balance is essential to a happy marriage and superb health makes this much more likely.

If you are going into marriage with poor health, make an effort to improve it. You can! If you are blessed with vibrant health, guard it as one of your most valuable possessions!

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Psychologist Henry Foster Adams had many groups of people judge both themselves and others of their group on 63 traits—50,000 other judgments and 10,000 self-judgments. The good self-judges were rated higher on common sense, intelligence and most of the other 63 traits than the judges of others. "Know thyself" as Socrates advised, is the hardest problem in life.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. True. In one experiment, it was found that memorizing short parts—a paragraph or two at a time—was three times as effective as memorizing the whole, for the same number of hours. Concentrate intensely for about fifteen minutes, rest a few minutes, and then continue. Our booket, "How To Improve Your Memory" gives other efficient methods. Send 15c in coin with stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. Dr. Freda Kehm, Director Chicago Association for Family Living says, "Hostility is a basic emotion and the best place to express it is in the home. If a child calls its mother a stinker and hates her, she should not be upset. This doesn't mean children should run their parents or the home, but their inner emotions and drives should be understood and rightly directed."

NAVY JET PILOT — Van Johnson follows up his recent hit in "The Caine Mutiny" with another exciting role in M-G-M's "Men of the Fighting Lady", coming to the Jim screen this week. Also starring in the film are Walter Pidgeon, Louis Calhern, Dewey Martin, Keenan Wynn and Frank Lovejoy.

Murder Mob Exposed In 'The Miami Story'

The whole amazing, shocking truth of how the people of Miami rose up to smash The Mob that had made the city its national headquarters is boldly revealed in Columbia Pictures' "The Miami Story," starring Barry Sullivan and Luther Adler and due next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre. John Baer and Adele Jergens are featured in the blistering new drama.

When the billion dollar crime ring moved into Miami, the lush resort city became the home of the murder syndicate, the vice ring, the fixed race, the shakedown and the paid gun. The killers walked under the palm trees and sin dwelt in the plush hotels — until Miami blasted back.

In "The Miami Story," Sullivan plays the part of a reformed gangster who is summoned by a Miami citizens' committee to smash the mobsters that had turned America's winter playground into the world's crime capital. Working with the police, Sullivan's job is to get the goods on Adler, kingpin of the mob. Sullivan feigns organization of a lottery racket and thus presents a serious threat to Adler's hitherto unchallenged underworld reign. When his henchmen rough up a girl whom Sullivan has befriended, Sullivan orders the police to crack down on the syndicate's profitable gaming club. Adler viciously retaliates by kidnapping Sullivan's young son and the heat is on.

"The Miami Story" brings to the screen with searing forcefulness the terrifying struggle between the law and the lawless that raged in the streets of Miami. The crime drama is said to have been filmed the way it happened, where it happened, under gun protection by the police.

Written for the screen by Robert E. Kent, who also penned the movie's story, "The Miami Story" was directed by Fred F. Sears and produced by Sam Katzman.

The bride who wants to tame her Italian hairdo and look sleek on her honeymoon can use one of the new halo bands. These bands become individual if they're encircles with gay flowers or fruit bottons. To mount buttons, remove shanks and use household cement.

FLAME AND THE FLESH — Lana Turner turns a cold shoulder to Pier Angeli's plea that she give up Carlos Thompson, the man in whom both are romantically interested in "Flame and the Flesh", M-G-M's unusual triangle drama, now showing at the Jim Theatre. The picture was filmed in Technicolor against the picturesque locations in Naples, Italy, and the resort towns of Positano and Amalfi.

audiences probably aren't aware of this, they would be the first to notice if any breaches of color etiquette were ever allowed to happen.

In meetings with the various heads of departments concerned with a color film, decisions as to what the general color scheme will be are made long before a camera begins to turn.

Taking the stars of the film into primary consideration as previously mentioned, the wardrobe colors are planned, the sets which will complement these colors designed and furnishings which will enhance both provided.

Of my recent assignments, I consider MGM's "Athena" the most unusual.

We had not only the stars Jane Powell, Edmund Purdom, Debbie Reynolds, Vic Damone, Louis Calhern and Linda Christian to think about when planning colors, but the five girls who portray the sisters of Jane and Debbie as well.

Weeks before any further production plans were made a unanimous decision was reached—to characterize each girl with an individual color throughout the film. Since the musical (directed by Richard Thorpe and produced by Joe Pasternak) was concerned with seven sisters whose heads and hearts were governed by astrology, numerology and rules of health, this was easily explained in the script.

In Hollywood

By JIMMY FIDLER

Color Conscious

By ALVORD EISEMAN

(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, June 12—Hollywood's most colorful job belongs to a man who sees red when he thinks of Cyd Charisse, feels blue when he sees Esther Williams and has a black look when he meets Lana Turner.

Nothing personal, understand, I'm just color conscious.

Custodian of tints, tones and hues, it is my assignment to avoid clashes on movie sets — color clashes, that is. As color consultant for MGM it is my duty to work, spectrum in hand, with the wardrobe, make-up, art and property departments to make certain that actors, actresses, their costumes and surroundings are in harmony from a color standpoint.

When I first started here 12 years ago, I permitted an actress wearing a red dress to sit on a red sofa. When the picture was screened, audiences saw nothing of either the dress or the sofa—only the face, hands and feet of the star which appeared to be suspended in air. The two reds had blended into one.

Since then, I have made it my duty to see that no such similar circumstances occur. That none have is due to my liasion with designer Helen Rose and Walter Plunkett, and Cedric Gibbons, Edwin Willis and William Tuttle, of MGM's custome, art, set direction and make-up departments.

In order to meet such problems before they arise, I start thinking along color lines when I first read the scripts of any film about to be photographed in color.

Take "Green Fire," for instance. It's a story about emeralds and takes place partially in a jungle Immediately I discarded the color green and began planning color schemes which would complement this shade rather than blend or clash with it.

As always, I consulted with Helen Rose, Gibbons and Willis and discovered—as usual—they had come to the same conclusion automatically.

Any color in a film is keyed to the stars of the picture.

The stars should be the center of attention at all times. If the backgrounds detract from them or if the supporting players wear clothes that clash in color, the entire mood of a scene can be lost. Though

NAVY JET PILOT — Van Johnson follows up his recent hit in "The Caine Mutiny" with another exciting role in M-G-M's "Men of the Fighting Lady", coming to the Jim screen this week. Also starring in the film are Walter Pidgeon, Louis Calhern, Dewey Martin, Keenan Wynn and Frank Lovejoy.

Murder Mob Exposed In 'The Miami Story'

The whole amazing, shocking truth of how the people of Miami rose up to smash The Mob that had made the city its national headquarters is boldly revealed in Columbia Pictures' "The Miami Story," starring Barry Sullivan and Luther Adler and due next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre. John Baer and Adele Jergens are featured in the blistering new drama.

When the billion dollar crime ring moved into Miami, the lush resort city became the home of the murder syndicate, the vice ring, the fixed race, the shakedown and the paid gun. The killers walked under the palm trees and sin dwelt in the plush hotels — until Miami blasted back.

In "The Miami Story," Sullivan plays the part of a reformed gangster who is summoned by a Miami citizens' committee to smash the mobsters that had turned America's winter playground into the world's crime capital. Working with the police, Sullivan's job is to get the goods on Adler, kingpin of the mob. Sullivan feigns organization of a lottery racket and thus presents a serious threat to Adler's hitherto unchallenged underworld reign. When his henchmen rough up a girl whom Sullivan has befriended, Sullivan orders the police to crack down on the syndicate's profitable gaming club. Adler viciously retaliates by kidnapping Sullivan's young son and the heat is on.

"The Miami Story" brings to the screen with searing forcefulness the terrifying struggle between the law and the lawless that raged in the streets of Miami. The crime drama is said to have been filmed the way it happened, where it happened, under gun protection by the police.

As Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida says: " 'The Miami Story' ably shows what a few courageous citizens, honest politicians and tough, alert police agencies can do to rid their cities of gangland influence."

Written for the screen by Robert E. Kent, who also penned the movie's story, "The Miami Story" was directed by Fred F. Sears and produced by Sam Katzman.

The bride who wants to tame her Italian hairdo and look sleek on her honeymoon can use one of the new halo bands. These bands become individual if they're encircles with gay flowers or fruit bottons. To mount buttons, remove shanks and use household cement.

FLAME AND THE FLESH — Lana Turner turns a cold shoulder to Pier Angeli's plea that she give up Carlos Thompson, the man in whom both are romantically interested in "Flame and the Flesh", M-G-M's unusual triangle drama, now showing at the Jim Theatre. The picture was filmed in Technicolor against the picturesque locations in Naples, Italy, and the resort towns of Positano and Amalfi.

audiences probably aren't aware of this, they would be the first to notice if any breaches of color etiquette were ever allowed to happen.

In meetings with the various heads of departments concerned with a color film, decisions as to what the general color scheme will be are made long before a camera begins to turn.

Taking the stars of the film into primary consideration as previously mentioned, the wardrobe colors are planned, the sets which will complement these colors designed and furnishings which will enhance both provided.

For comedies, only pastels and bright colors are eligible. Taboos in this group include black, dark purple, olive green or navy blue.

Of my recent assignments, I consider MGM's "Athena" the most unusual.

We had not only the stars Jane Powell, Edmund Purdom, Debbie Reynolds, Vic Damone, Louis Calhern and Linda Christian to think about when planning colors, but the five girls who portray the sisters of Jane and Debbie as well.

Weeks before any further production plans were made a unanimous decision was reached—to characterize each girl with an individual color throughout the film. Since the musical (directed by Richard Thorpe and produced by Joe Pasternak) was concerned with seven sisters whose heads and hearts were governed by astrology, numerology and rules of health, this was easily explained in the script.

Color Conscious

By ALVORD EISEMAN

(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, June 12—Hollywood's most colorful job belongs to a man who sees red when he thinks of Cyd Charisse, feels blue when he sees Esther Williams and has a black look when he meets Lana Turner.

Nothing personal, understand, I'm just color conscious.

Custodian of tints, tones and hues, it is my assignment to avoid clashes on movie sets — color clashes, that is. As color consultant for MGM it is my duty to work, spectrum in hand, with the wardrobe, make-up, art and property departments to make certain that actors, actresses, their costumes and surroundings are in harmony from a color standpoint.

When I first started here 12 years ago, I permitted an actress wearing a red dress to sit on a red sofa. When the picture was screened, audiences saw nothing of either the dress or the sofa—only the face, hands and feet of the star which appeared to be suspended in air. The two reds had blended into one.

Since then, I have made it my duty to see that no such similar circumstances occur. That none have is due to my liasion with designer Helen Rose and Walter Plunkett, and Cedric Gibbons, Edwin Willis and William Tuttle, of MGM's custome, art, set direction and make-up departments.

In order to meet such problems before they arise, I start thinking along color lines when I first read the scripts of any film about to be photographed in color.

Take "Green Fire," for instance. It's a story about emeralds and takes place partially in a jungle Immediately I discarded the color green and began planning color schemes which would complement this shade rather than blend or clash with it.

As always, I consulted with Helen Rose, Gibbons and Willis and discovered—as usual—they had come to the same conclusion automatically.

Any color in a film is keyed to the stars of the picture.

The stars should be the center of attention at all times. If the backgrounds detract from them or if the supporting players wear clothes that clash in color, the entire mood of a scene can be lost. Though

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I took our two children and left my husband because he got mad when he discovered that I had taken some money from his billfold. Later, when I heard he was seeing another woman I divorced him. Evidently, he thought more of an education than of the children, as he then went to school under the GI bill. I wrote to the government and was awarded half of his income.

Later, when he worked, he sent money for the children (a few months) but when he quit I got nothing (over a year). I have had to work to support the children. He has a job one day a week, and says he spends the rest of the time studying. I say he should forget school, get any kind of a job and support his children — or go to school at night. If I take him to court for nonsupport and he proves he has no money, will I have to pay for the lawyer and court costs?—A. A.

P. S. I was wrong about the other woman. It was only a rumor.

Too darned bad that you have had to go out to work to support your children — my heart bleeds for you. You walked out on your husband. You divorced him over a rumor that wasn't true. You took his children away from him. And now you (and a lot of other dames with the same ideas) expect him to pay through the nose for the rest of his life because he was fool enough to marry a nincompoop who would rather run away than face her problems.

Now you want the poor guy's skin, too. You don't care if he digs ditches until he dies, so long as you get your pound of flesh. All you — and you are only one of many divorcees who act the same — think of is to haul the man into court for nonsupport. If you had the brains you were born with, you would see it was to your advantage to iron out your difficulties and be the helpmate you should have been.

Then you could stop working and the children would have the home they should have. Small wonder these divorced fathers, who often are not at fault, don't want to work. Their efforts for years and years to come will go for food, clothes and doctor and dentist bills —for families that hardly know them and for whom they are only dollar signs. Any man who is trying to get an education with a deadbeat hanging around his neck deserves a good round of applause and I hope some woman worthy of your former husband takes him right from under your nose. Your question, madam, is a legal one. Call your local bar association for your answer.

Dear Ann: How can a girl detect a "line"? Can a boy actually fall in love with a girl after only a few dates? I've gone out with a boy only a few times and he wants to marry me. When I tell him he doesn't know me well enough, he gets mad. He says it doesn't take him a whole year to make up his mind. Could this be what they call a "line?" — Very Puzzled

The simplest way to find out if your friend's declaration of love and proposal is a "line" is to accept. If he welches — it was a line. If he doesn't, you are the leading candidate for the noose.

Dear Mrs. Landers: We have been married for two years and have a lovely 3-month-old baby. My husband is away in the service and his tour has another year to go. One Sunday at church I met an old boy friend who also is married and whose wife is bedridden. We exchanged a few words and soon were both admitting how lonely we were. I made a date with him for Friday night.

Now, I keep thinking how much I love my husband and how much he trusts me. I feel like a cheat and a fool. How can I tell this man I don't ever want to date, and still remain friends? — Thank you.

You and your old boy friend had better pay more attention to the things they teach you in church. What do you do when you are in there — sleep? Dream? Why worry about keeping things on a friendly basis with your old B. F.? You don't owe him a thing.

It's your husband to whom you owe something called "faithfulness and loyalty." Remember? Tell the old boy friend that you are sorry for him in his situation but that you have no desire to date him or any one but your husband and the date is off for now and forever more.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 19 and went steady with a boy of 20 for four years. Five months ago he broke up and said he was going to marry another girl, though he still loved me. Two weeks ago we met at lunch, made and kept a date, I still love him very much and feel that he still cars for me. He keeps asking me to date but I have refused because of his marriage. He has said nothing of leaving his wife but I feel sure he would do sof if I asked him to. Please advise me. — Desolate.

Applesauce! If the boy had loved you he would not have married another girl. He has his cake (his wife) and wants to eat it, too (you)! He is using you to inflate his ego and prove to himself that he is still quite the Casanova. If you don't believe me, go ahead and ask him to leave his wife. Hah! are you in for a surprise. Where's your pride, toots? Give that bird the air so fast he won't have time to open his wings.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

During the year ending December 31, 1953, more than $415,000 was spent in 42 parishes of Louisiana by the American Red Cross for aid to 3,800 families suffering tornado and storm losses, according to a recent announcement by the Ouachita Parish chapter, American Red Cross. The announcement was made by Harold Brady, outgoing chairman of the local group.

In pointing out the aid, both financial and otherwise, given by the Red Cross to residents of Louisiana alone, Brady said tornados which struck in 10 parishes from November through December of 1953 caused damages for which the Red Cross spent approximately $77,000 for aid to 83 families. This was spent, he pointed out, to supplement the families own resources especially in the payment of material and operational expenses of the injured. This includes the repair or reconstruction of homes and farms which are hit by the storms.

During the year ending December 31, 1953, more than $415,000 was spent in 42 parishes of Louisiana by the American Red Cross for aid to 3,800 families suffering tornado and storm losses, according to a recent announcement by the Ouachita Parish chapter, American Red Cross. The announcement was made by Harold Brady, outgoing chairman of the local group.

In pointing out the aid, both financial and otherwise, given by the Red Cross to residents of Louisiana alone, Brady said tornados which struck in 10 parishes from November through December of 1953 caused damages for which the Red Cross spent approximately $77,000 for aid to 83 families. This was spent, he pointed out, to supplement the families own resources especially in the payment of material and operational expenses of the injured. This includes the repair or reconstruction of homes and farms which are hit by the storms.

The only suds with BLUE-MAGIC WHITENER

Procter & Gamble's cheer

The one and only BLUE-MAGIC SUDS

First and only washday detergent of its kind!

Exclusive! Science gave new blue CHEER—and CHEER alone—the amazing Blue-Magic whitener. Now you can whiten whites and brighten colors in the newest, safest, most modern way.

White without bluing! Imagine—new CHEER with its Blue-Magic whitener, all by itself, washes clothes so wonderfully white you'll never need bluing again!

White without bleach! It's true—except for problem stains, you don't need to bleach! CHEER is so safe for washable colors. Actually gives them new brightness!

See the proof in your washer! CHEER's magic blue granules snap into white suds. No wonder so many women find CHEER gives them the clean, white washes they've always wanted. And without bluing or bleach!

Works like blue magic for dishes, too!

CHEER's white suds billow up at the touch of water to get your dishes and glassware "twinkle-clean"—without wiping. Even greasy pots and pans soak clean. And CHEER is so very gentle to your hands.

Great for both automatic and conventional washers
